that my bonds became manifest in Christ
[1]throughout the whole prætorian guard, and to 14 all the rest; and that most of the brethren in the Lord, [2]being confident through my bonds, are more abundantly bold to speak the word of 15 God without fear. Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife; and some also of good 16 will: the one do it of love, knowing that I am 17 set for the defence of the gospel: but the other proclaim Christ of faction, not sincerely, thinking to raise up affliction for me in my bonds.
18 What then? only that in every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is proclaimed; 19 and therein I rejoice, yea, and will rejoice. For
I know that this shall turn to my salvation, through your supplication and the supply of 20 the Spirit of Jesus Christ, according to my earnest expectation and hope, that in nothing shall I be put to shame, but that with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether by life, or by 21 death. For to me to live is Christ, and to die 22 is gain. [3]But if to live in the flesh,—if this is the fruit of my work, then [4]what shall I choose 23 [5]I wot not. But I am in a strait betwixt the two, having the desire to depart and be with 24 Christ; for it is very far better: yet to abide in 25 the flesh is more needful for your sake. And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide, yea, and abide with you all, for your 26 progress and joy [6]in the faith; that your glorying may abound in Christ Jesus in me through 27 my presence with you again. Only [7]let your manner of life be worthy of the gospel of Christ:
that, whether I come and see you or be absent, I may hear of your state, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one soul striving [8]for the faith 28 of the gospel; and in nothing affrighted by the adversaries: which is for them an evident token of perdition, but of your salvation, and that 29 from God; because to you it hath been granted in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on 30 him, but also to suffer in his behalf: having the same conflict which ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

2 If there is therefore any comfort in Christ, if any consolation of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any tender mercies and compas-
2 sions, fulfil ye my joy, that ye be of the same mind, having the same love, being of one ac-3 cord, [9]of one mind; doing nothing through faction or through vainglory, but in lowliness of mind each counting other better than him-4 self; not looking each of you to his own things, but each of you also to the things of others.

5 Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus:
6 Who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God:
7 But made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the ||likeness of men.
8 And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the Cross.
9 Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a Name which is above every name:
10 That at the Name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth:
11 And that every tongue should confess, that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.
12 Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence; work out your own salvation with fear, and trembling.
13 For it is God which worketh in you, both to will and to do, of his good pleasure.
14 Do all things without murmurings, and disputings:
15 That ye may be blameless and ||harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ||ye shine as lights in the world:
16 Holding forth the word of life, that I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that I have not run in vain, neither laboured in vain.
17 Yea, and if I be †offered upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I joy, and rejoice with you all.
18 For the same cause also do ye joy, and rejoice with me.
19 ||But I trust in the Lord Jesus to send Timotheus shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.
20 For I have no man ||likeminded, who will naturally care for your state.
21 For all seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ's.
22 But ye know the proof of him, That as a son with the father he hath served with me in the Gospel.
23 Him therefore I hope to send presently, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me.
24 But I trust in the Lord that I also myself shall come shortly.
25 Yet I supposed it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother and companion in labour, and fellowsoldier, but your messenger, and he that ministered to my wants.
26 For he longed after you all, and was full of heaviness, because that ye had heard that he had been sick.
27 For indeed he was sick nigh unto death, but God had mercy on him: and not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.

5 Have this mind in you, which was also in Christ
6 Jesus: who, [1]being in the form of God, counted it not [2]a prize to be on an equality with God,
7 but emptied himself, taking the form of a [3]ser-
8 vant, [4]being made in the likeness of men; and being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, becoming obedient even unto death,
9 yea, the death of the cross. Wherefore also God highly exalted him, and gave unto him
10 the name which is above every name; that in the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven and things on earth and [5]things
11 under the earth, and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.
12 So then, my beloved, even as ye have always obeyed, not [6]as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salva-
13 tion with fear and trembling; for it is God which worketh in you both to will and to work, for his 14 good pleasure. Do all things without murmur-
15 ings and disputings; that ye may be blameless and harmless, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, among whom ye are seen as [7]lights in the 16 world, holding forth the word of life; that I may have whereof to glory in the day of Christ, that I did not run in vain neither labour in vain.
17 Yea, and if I am [8]offered upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I joy, and rejoice with you 18 all: and in the same manner do ye also joy, and rejoice with me.
19 But I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy shortly unto you, that I also may be of good 20 comfort, when I know your state. For I have no man likeminded, who will care [9]truly for 21 your state. For they all seek their own, not 22 the things of Jesus Christ. But ye know the proof of him, that, as a child serveth a father, so he served with me in furtherance of the gos-
23 pel. Him therefore I hope to send forthwith, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me:
24 but I trust in the Lord that I myself also shall 25 come shortly. But I counted it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother and fellow-worker and fellow-soldier, and your [10]mes-
26 senger and minister to my need; since he longed [11]after you all, and was sore troubled, because ye 27 had heard that he was sick: for indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, that I might not have sorrow upon sorrow.

CHAP. III.

FINALLY, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous: but for you it is safe.
2 Beware of dogs, beware of evil workers: beware of the concision.
3 For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh.
4 Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more:
5 Circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, an Hebrew of the Hebrews; as touching the law, a Pharisee:
6 Concerning zeal, persecuting the Church; touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless.
7 But what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ.
8 Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss, for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ,
9 And be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith:
10 That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death,
11 If by any means I might attain unto the resurrection of the dead.
12 Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect: but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus.
13 Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before,
14 I press toward the mark, for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.
15 Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you.
16 Nevertheless, whereto we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule, let us mind the same thing.

3 Finally, my brethren, [2]rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed
2 is not irksome, but for you it is safe. Beware of the dogs, beware of the evil workers, beware
3 of the concision: for we are the circumcision, who worship by the Spirit of God, and glory in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the

9 may gain Christ, and be found in him, [6]not having a righteousness of mine own, even that which is of the law, but that which is through faith in Christ, the righteousness which is of 14 fore, I press on toward the goal unto the prize of the [10]high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

20 For our conversation is in heaven, from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ:
21 Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself.

CHAP. IV.

THEREFORE, my brethren, dearly beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved.
2 I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of the same mind in the Lord.
3 And I intreat thee also, true yokefellow, help those women which laboured with me in the Gospel, with Clement also, and with other my fellow-labourers, whose names are in the book of life.
4 Rejoice in the Lord alway: and again I say, Rejoice.
5 Let your moderation be known unto all men. The Lord is at hand.
6 Be careful for nothing: but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your request be made known unto God.
7 And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.
8 Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are ||honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report: if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.
9 Those things which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do: and the God of peace shall be with you.
10 But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at the last your care of me ||hath flourished again, wherein ye were also careful, but ye lacked opportunity.
11 Not that I speak in respect of want: for I have learned in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content.
12 I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound: every where and in all things I am instructed, both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need.
13 I can do all things through Christ, which strengtheneth me.
14 Notwithstanding, ye have well done, that ye did communicate with my affliction.
15 Now ye Philippians know also, that in the beginning of the Gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no Church communicated with me, as concerning giving and receiving, but ye only.

CHAP. I.

PAUL an Apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timotheus our brother,
2 To the saints and faithful brethren in Christ, which are at Colosse, grace be unto you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.
3 We give thanks to God, and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you,
4 Since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye have to all the Saints,
5 For the hope which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the Gospel,
6 Which is come unto you as it is in all the world, and bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day ye heard of it, and knew the grace of God in truth,
7 As ye also learned of Epaphras our dear fellowservant, who is for you a faithful Minister of Christ:
8 Who also declared unto us your love in the spirit.
9 For this cause we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be filled with the knowledge of his will, in all wisdom and spiritual understanding:
10 That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God:
11 Strengthened with all might according to his glorious power, unto all patience and longsuffering with joyfulness:
12 Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the Saints in light:

1 PAUL, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, and Timothy [1]our brother,
2 [2]to the saints and faithful brethren in Christ which are at Colossæ: Grace to you and peace from God our Father.
3 We give thanks to God the Father of our
4 Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you, having heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye have toward all the saints,
5 because of the hope which is laid up for you in the heavens, whereof ye heard before in the

27 saints, to whom God was pleased to make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles, which is Christ in you, the 28 hope of glory: whom we proclaim, admonishing every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect
29 in Christ; whereunto I labour also, striving according to his working, which worketh in me [9]mightily.

2 For I would have you know how greatly I strive for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh;
2 that their hearts may be comforted, they being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the [10]full assurance of understanding, that they may know the mystery of God, [11]even Christ,

3 ||In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom, and knowledge.

4 And this I say, lest any man should beguile you with enticing words.

5 For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your order, and the stedfastness of your faith in Christ.

6 As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him:

7 Rooted and built up in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.

8 Beware lest any man spoil you through Philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the ||rudiments of the world, and not after Christ:

9 For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily.

10 And ye are complete in him, which is the head of all principality, and power.

11 In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ:

12 Buried with him in Baptism, wherein also you are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.

13 And you being dead in your sins, and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses,

14 Blotting out the handwriting of ordinances, that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his Cross:

15 And having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them ||in it.

16 Let no man therefore judge you ||in meat, or in drink, or ||in respect of an Holyday, or of the New moon, or of the Sabbath days:

17 Which are a shadow of things to come, but the body is of Christ.

18 Let no man ||beguile you of your reward, †in a voluntary humility, and worshipping of Angels, intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind:

19 And not holding the head, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.

20 Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from the ||rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances?

21 (Touch not, taste not, handle not:

22 Which all are to perish with the using) after the commandments and doctrines of men:

23 Which things have indeed a shew of wisdom in will-worship and humility, and ||neglecting of the body, not in any honour to the satisfying of the flesh.

3 in whom are all the treasures of wisdom and 4 knowledge hidden. This I say, that no one may delude you with persuasiveness of speech.
5 For though I am absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your order, and the stedfastness of your faith in Christ.
6 As therefore ye received Christ Jesus the 7 Lord, so walk in him, rooted and builded up in him, and stablished [1]in your faith, even as ye were taught, abounding [2]in thanksgiving.
8 [3]Take heed lest there shall be any one that maketh spoil of you through his philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the [4]rudiments of the world, and not after Christ:
9 for in him dwelleth all the fulness of the God-
10 head bodily, and in him ye are made full, who 11 is the head of all principality and power: in whom ye were also circumcised with a circumcision not made with hands, in the putting off of the body of the flesh, in the circumcision of 12 Christ; having been buried with him in baptism, wherein ye were also raised with him through faith in the working of God, who raised 13 him from the dead. And you, being dead through your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, you, I say, did he quicken together with him, having forgiven us all our tres-14 passes; having blotted out [5]the bond written in ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us: and he hath taken it out of the 15 way, nailing it to the cross; [6]having put off from himself the principalities and the powers, he made a show of them openly, triumphing over them in it.
16 Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of a feast day or a new moon 17 or a sabbath day: which are a shadow of the 18 things to come; but the body is Christ's. Let no man rob you of your prize [7]by a voluntary humility and worshipping of the angels, [8]dwelling in the things which he hath [9]seen, vainly 19 puffed up by his fleshly mind, and not holding fast the Head, from whom all the body, being supplied and knit together through the joints and bands, increaseth with the increase of God.
20 If ye died with Christ from the [4]rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, 21 do ye subject yourselves to ordinances, Handle 22 not, nor taste, nor touch (all which things are to perish with the using), after the precepts and 23 doctrines of men? Which things have indeed a show of wisdom in will-worship, and humility, and severity to the body; but are not of any [10]value against the indulgence of the flesh.

CHAP. III.

IF ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God:
2 Set your ‖affection on things above, not on things on the earth.
3 For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.
4 When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory.
5 Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth: fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry:
6 For which things' sake, the wrath of God cometh on the children of disobedience,
7 In the which ye also walked sometime, when ye lived in them.
8 But now you also put off all these, anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth.
9 Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds:
10 And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge, after the image of him that created him,
11 Where there is neither Greek, nor Jew, circumcision, nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond, nor free: but Christ is all, and in all.
12 Put on therefore (as the elect of God, holy and beloved) bowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, longsuffering,
13 Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a ‖quarrel against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye.
14 And above all these things put on charity, which is the bond of perfectness.
15 And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body: and be ye thankful.
16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom, teaching and admonishing one another in Psalms, and Hymns, and Spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.
17 And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the Name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father, by him.
18 Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as it is fit in the Lord.
19 Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter against them.
20 Children, obey your parents in all things, for this is well pleasing unto the Lord.
21 Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.
22 Servants, obey in all things your masters according to the flesh: not with eyeservice as menpleasers, but in singleness of heart, fearing God:
23 And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men:

3 If then ye were raised together with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is,
2 seated on the right hand of God. Set your Christ, who is [1]our life, shall be manifested, then shall ye also with him be manifested in glory.

5 [2]Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, the which is 6 idolatry; for which things' sake cometh the wrath of God [3]upon the sons of disobedience;
7 [4]in the which ye also walked aforetime, when 8 ye lived in these things. But now put ye also away all these; anger, wrath, malice, railing,

12 Put on therefore, as God's elect, holy and beloved, a heart of compassion, kindness, hu-13 mility, meekness, longsuffering; forbearing one have a complaint against any; even as [5]the 14 Lord forgave you, so also do ye: and above to God the Father through him.

18 Wives, be in subjection to your husbands, as 19 is fitting in the Lord. Husbands, love your

CHAP. IV.

MASTERS, give unto your servants that which is just and equal, knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

2 Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving:

3 Withal, praying also for us, that God would open unto us a door of utterance, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am also in bonds:

4 That I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak.

5 Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, redeeming the time.

6 Let your speech be alway with grace, seasoned with salt, that you may know how ye ought to answer every man.

7 All my state shall Tychicus declare unto you, who is a beloved brother, and a faithful minister, and fellowservant in the Lord:

8 Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that he might know your estate, and comfort your hearts.

10 Aristarchus my fellowprisoner saluteth you, and Marcus sister's son to Barnabas, (touching whom ye received commandments; if he come unto you, receive him:)

11 And Jesus, which is called Justus, who are of the circumcision. These only are my fellowworkers unto the kingdom of God, which have been a comfort unto me.

12 Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ, saluteth you, always ||labouring fervently for you in prayers, that ye may stand perfect, and ||complete in all the will of God.

13 For I bear him record, that he hath a great zeal for you, and them that are in Laodicea, and them in Hierapolis.

15 Salute the brethren which are in Laodicea, and Nymphas, and the church which is in his house.

16 And when this Epistle is read amongst you, cause that it be read also in the church of the Laodiceans: and that ye likewise read the Epistle from Laodicea, 17 And say to Archippus, Take heed to the ministry, which thou hast received in the Lord, that thou fulfil it.

CHAP. I.

PAUL and Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the Church of the Thessalonians, which is in God the Father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ: grace be unto you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers,

3 Remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father:

4 Knowing, brethren ‖ beloved, your election of God.

5 For our Gospel came not unto you in word only: but also in power, and in the holy Ghost, and in much assurance, as ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake.

6 And ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the holy Ghost:

7 So that ye were ensamples to all that believe in Macedonia and Achaia.

8 For from you sounded out the Word of the Lord, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad, so that we need not to speak any thing.

9 For they themselves shew of us, what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from idols, to serve the living and true God,

10 And to wait for his son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus which delivered us from the wrath to come.

CHAP. II.

FOR yourselves, brethren, know our entrance in unto you, that it was not in vain.

2 But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Philippi, we were bold in our God, to speak unto you the Gospel of God with much contention.

3 For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile:

4 But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the Gospel, even so we speak, not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts.

5 For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloak of covetousness, God is witness:

6 Nor of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when we might have ‖ been burdensome, as the Apostles of Christ.

1 PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace.

2 We give thanks to God always for you all,
3 making mention of you in our prayers; remembering without ceasing your work of faith and labour of love and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, before our God and Father;
4 knowing, brethren beloved of God, your election,
5 [1]how that our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the [2]Holy Ghost, and in much [3]assurance; even as ye know what manner of men we shewed ourselves toward you for your sake.
6 And ye became imitators of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy
7 of the [2]Holy Ghost; so that ye became an ensample to all that believe in Macedonia and in 8 Achaia. For from you hath sounded forth the word of the Lord, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but in every place your faith to God-ward is gone forth; so that we need not to 9 speak anything. For they themselves report concerning us what manner of entering in we had unto you; and how ye turned unto God
10 from idols, to serve a living and true God, and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivereth us from the wrath to come.

2 For yourselves, brethren, know our entering in unto you, that it hath not been found
2 vain: but having suffered before, and been shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Philippi, we waxed bold in our God to speak unto you
3 the gospel of God in much conflict. For our exhortation is not of error, nor of uncleanness,
4 nor in guile: but even as we have been approved of God to be intrusted with the gospel, so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God which
5 proveth our hearts. For neither at any time were we found using words of flattery, as ye know, nor a cloak of covetousness, God is 6 witness; nor seeking glory of men, neither from you, nor from others, when we might have [4]been burdensome, as apostles of Christ.

7 But we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children:
8 So being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to have imparted unto you, not the Gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.
9 For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail: for labouring night and day, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the Gospel of God.
10 Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily, and justly, and unblameably we behaved ourselves among you that believe.
11 As you know, how we exhorted and comforted, and charged every one of you, (as a father doth his children,)
12 That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.
13 For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because when ye received the word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but (as it is in truth) the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.
14 For ye, brethren, became followers of the Churches of God, which in Judæa are in Christ Jesus: for ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, even as they have of the Jews:
15 Who both killed the Lord Jesus, and their own Prophets, and have ‖ persecuted us: and they please not God, and are contrary to all men:
16 Forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles, that they might be saved, to fill up their sins alway: for the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.
17 But we, brethren, being taken from you for a short time, in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more abundantly to see your face with great desire.
18 Wherefore we would have come unto you (even I Paul) once and again: but Satan hindered us.
19 For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of ‖ rejoicing? Are not even ye in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at his coming?
20 For ye are our glory and joy.

CHAP. III.

WHEREFORE when we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to be left at Athens alone:
2 And sent Timotheus our brother and minister of God, and our fellowlabourer in the Gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith:
3 That no man should be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that we are appointed thereunto.
4 For verily when we were with you, we told you before, that we should suffer tribulation, even as it came to pass and ye know.
5 For this cause when I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, lest by some means the tempter have tempted you, and our labour be in vain.

7 But we were [1]gentle in the midst of you, as when
8 a nurse cherisheth her own children: even so, being affectionately desirous of you, we were well pleased to impart unto you, not the gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because ye
9 were become very dear to us. For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail: working night and day, that we might not burden any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God.
10 Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily and righteously and unblameably we behaved our-
11 selves toward you that believe: as ye know how we dealt with each one of you, as a father with his own children, exhorting you, and encouraging
12 you, and testifying, to the end that ye should walk worthily of God, who [2]calleth you into his own kingdom and glory.
13 And for this cause we also thank God without ceasing, that, when ye received from us [3]the word of the message, even the word of God, ye accepted it not as the word of men, but, as it is in truth, the word of God, which also worketh
14 in you that believe. For ye, brethren, became imitators of the churches of God which are in Judæa in Christ Jesus: for ye also suffered the same things of your own countrymen, even as 15 they did of the Jews; who both killed the Lord Jesus and the prophets, and drave out us, and please not God, and are contrary to all men;
16 forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they may be saved; to fill up their sins alway: but the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.
17 But we, brethren, being bereaved of you for [4]a short season, in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more exceedingly to see your face
18 with great desire: because we would fain have come unto you, I Paul once and again; and 19 Satan hindered us. For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of glorying? Are not even ye, 20 before our Lord Jesus at his [5]coming? For ye are our glory and our joy.

3 Wherefore when we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to be left behind at Athens
2 alone; and sent Timothy, our brother and [6]God's minister in the gospel of Christ, to establish you,
3 and to comfort you concerning your faith; that no man be moved by these afflictions; for yourselves know that hereunto we are ap-
4 pointed. For verily, when we were with you, we told you [7]beforehand that we are to suffer affliction; even as it came to pass, and
5 ye know. For this cause I also, when I could no longer forbear, sent that I might know your faith, lest by any means the tempter had tempted you, and our labour should be in vain.

6 But now when Timotheus came from you unto us, and brought us good tidings of your faith and charity, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, desiring greatly to see us, as we also to see you:
7 Therefore brethren, we were comforted over you in all our affliction and distress, by your faith:
8 For now we [a]live, if ye stand fast in the Lord.
9 For what thanks can we render to God again for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God,
10 Night and day praying exceedingly that we might see your face, and might perfect that which is lacking in your faith?
11 Now God himself and our Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ ‖direct our way unto you.
12 And the Lord make you to increase, and abound in love one towards another, and towards all men, even as we do towards you:
13 To the end he may stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his Saints.

CHAP. IV.

FURTHERMORE then we ‖beseech you, brethren, and ‖exhort you by the Lord Jesus, that as ye have received of us, how ye ought to walk, and to please God, so ye would abound more and more.
2 For ye know what commandments we gave you, by the Lord Jesus.
3 For this is the will of God, even your sanctification, that ye should abstain from fornication:
4 That every one of you should know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honour:
5 Not in the lust of concupiscence, even as the Gentiles which know not God:
6 That no man go beyond and ‖defraud his brother ‖in any matter, because that the Lord is the avenger of all such; as we also have forewarned you, and testified:
7 For God hath not called us unto uncleanness, but unto holiness.
8 He therefore that ‖despiseth, despiseth not man, but God, who hath also given unto us his holy Spirit.
9 But as touching brotherly love, ye need not that I write unto you: for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another.
10 And indeed ye do it towards all the brethren, which are in all Macedonia: but we beseech you, brethren, that ye increase more and more:
11 And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, (as we commanded you:)
12 That ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and that ye may have lack of ‖nothing.
13 But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope.

6 But when Timothy came even now unto us from you, and brought us glad tidings of your faith and love, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, longing to see us,
7 even as we also to see you; for this cause, brethren, we were comforted over you in all our distress and affliction through your faith:
8 for now we live, if ye stand fast in the Lord.
9 For what thanksgiving can we render again unto God for you, for all the joy wherewith we 10 joy for your sakes before our God; night and day praying exceedingly that we may see your face, and may perfect that which is lacking in your faith?
11 Now may our God and Father himself, and 12 our Lord Jesus, direct our way unto you: and the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men,
13 even as we also do toward you; to the end he may stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before our God and Father, at the [1]coming of our Lord Jesus with all his saints.[2]

4 Finally then, brethren, we beseech and exhort you in the Lord Jesus, that, as ye received of us how ye ought to walk and to please God, even as ye do walk,—that ye abound more and more.
2 For ye know what [3]charge we gave you through
3 the Lord Jesus. For this is the will of God, even your sanctification, that ye abstain from 4 fornication; that each one of you know how to possess himself of his own vessel in sanctification and honour,
5 not in the passion of lust, even
6 as the Gentiles which know not God; that no man [4]transgress, and wrong his brother in the matter: because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as also we [5]forewarned you and 7 testified. For God called us not for uncleanness, but in sanctification.
8 Therefore he that rejecteth, rejecteth not man, but God, who giveth his Holy Spirit unto you.
9 But concerning love of the brethren ye have no need that one write unto you: for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another;
10 for indeed ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Macedonia. But we exhort you, brethren, that ye abound more and more;
11 and that ye [6]study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your hands,
12 even as we charged you; that ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and may have need of nothing.
13 But we would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning them that fall asleep; that ye sorrow not, even as the rest, which have no
14 hope. For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also that are fallen asleep [7]in Jesus will God bring with him.

BUT of the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write unto you.

2 For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night.

3 For when they shall say, Peace and safety, then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child, and they shall not escape.

4 But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief.

5 Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.

6 Therefore let us not sleep, as do others: but let us watch and be sober.

7 For they that sleep, sleep in the night, and they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.

8 But let us, who are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love, and for an helmet, the hope of salvation.

9 For God hath not appointed us to wrath: but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ,

10 Who died for us, that whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.

11 Wherefore, ‖comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do.

12 And we beseech you, brethren, to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you:

13 And to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake: and be at peace among yourselves.

14 Now we ‖exhort you, brethren, warn them that are ‖unruly, comfort the feebleminded, support the weak, be patient toward all men.

15 See that none render evil for evil unto any man: but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves and to all men.

16 Rejoice evermore:

17 Pray without ceasing:

18 In everything give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you.

19 Quench not the spirit:

20 Despise not prophesyings:

21 Prove all things: hold fast that which is good.

22 Abstain from all appearance of evil.

23 And the very God of peace sanctify you

ANNO DOMINI 54.

15 For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we that are alive, that are left unto the [1]coming of the Lord, shall in no wise pre-
16 cede them that are fallen asleep. For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven, with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in 17 Christ shall rise first: then we that are alive, that are left, shall together with them be caught up in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord.
18 Wherefore [2]comfort one another with these words.

5 But concerning the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that aught be written
2 unto you. For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the 3 night. When they are saying, Peace and safety, then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they
4 shall in no wise escape. But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake 5 you [3]as a thief: for ye are all sons of light, and sons of the day: we are not of the night, nor 6 of darkness; so then let us not sleep, as do the 7 rest, but let us watch and be sober. For they that sleep sleep in the night; and they that be
8 drunken are drunken in the night. But let us, since we are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for a hel-
9 met, the hope of salvation. For God appointed us not unto wrath, but unto the obtaining of 10 salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us, that, whether we [4]wake or sleep, we 11 should live together with him. Wherefore [5]exhort one another, and build each other up, even as also ye do.

12 But we beseech you, brethren, to know them that labour among you, and are over you in the 13 Lord, and admonish you; and to esteem them exceeding highly in love for their work's sake.
14 Be at peace among yourselves. And we exhort you, brethren, admonish the disorderly, encourage the fainthearted, support the weak, be long-
15 suffering toward all. See that none render unto any one evil for evil; but alway follow after that which is good, one toward another, and 16, 17 toward all. Rejoice alway; pray without 18 ceasing; in everything give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus to you-ward.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE THESSALONIANS.

CHAP. I.

ANNO DOMINI 54.

PAUL and Silvanus, and Timotheus unto the Church of the Thessalonians, in God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ:

2 Grace unto you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We are bound to thank God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charity of every one of you all towards each other aboundeth:

4 So that we ourselves glory in you in the Churches of God, for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure.

5 Which is a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer;

6 Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you:

7 And to you who are troubled, rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven, with †his mighty Angels,

8 In flaming fire, ‖taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ,

9 Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power:

10 When he shall come to be glorified in his Saints, and to be admired in all them that believe (because our testimony among you was believed) in that day.

11 Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God would ‖count you worthy of this calling, and fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness, and the work of faith with power:

12 That the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

1 PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father
2 and the Lord Jesus Christ; Grace to you and peace from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We are bound to give thanks to God alway for you, brethren, even as it is meet, for that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the love of each one of you all toward one another
4 aboundeth; so that we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and in the afflic-
5 tions which ye endure; which is a manifest token of the righteous judgement of God; to the end that ye may be counted worthy of the 6 kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer: if so be that it is a righteous thing with God to recompense affliction to them that afflict you,
7 and to you that are afflicted rest with us, at the revelation of the Lord Jesus from heaven
8 with the angels of his power in flaming fire, rendering vengeance to them that know not God, and to them that obey not the gospel of 9 our Lord Jesus: who shall suffer punishment, even eternal destruction from the face of the 10 Lord and from the glory of his might, when he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be marvelled at in all them that believed (because our testimony unto you was believed)
11 in that day. To which end we also pray always for you, that our God may count you worthy of your calling, and fulfil every [1]desire of goodness and every work of faith, with 12 power; that the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

CHAP. II.

NOW we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by our gathering together unto him,

2 That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter, as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand.

3 Let no man deceive you by any means, for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition,

4 Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped: so that he as God, sitteth in the Temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.

5 Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

6 And now ye know what ‖withholdeth, that he might be revealed in his time.

7 For the mystery of iniquity doth already work: only he who now letteth, will let, until he be taken out of the way.

8 And then shall that wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming:

9 Even him whose coming is after the working of Satan, with all power and signs, and lying wonders,

10 And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness, in them that perish: because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.

11 And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie:

12 That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

13 But we are bound to give thanks alway to God for you, brethren, beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation, through sanctification of the spirit, and belief of the truth,

14 Whereunto he called you by our Gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of the Lord Jesus Christ.

15 Therefore, brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye have been taught, whether by word or our Epistle.

16 Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God even our Father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation, and good hope through grace, 17 Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in every good word and work.

CHAP. III.

FINALLY, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord †may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you:

2 And that we may be delivered from †unreasonable and wicked men: for all men have not faith.

3 But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and keep you from evil.

7 in his own season. For the mystery of lawlessness doth already work: [6]only there is one that restraineth now, until he be taken out of the 8 way. And then shall be revealed the lawless one, whom the Lord [7]Jesus shall [8]slay with the breath of his mouth, and bring to nought by 9 the manifestation of his [2]coming; even he, whose [2]coming is according to the working of Satan with all [9]power and signs and lying wonders,
10 and with all deceit of unrighteousness for them that are perishing; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.
11 And for this cause God sendeth them a working 12 of error, that they should believe a lie: that they all might be judged who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.
13 But we are bound to give thanks to God alway for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, for that God chose you [10]from the beginning unto salvation in sanctification of the Spirit and [11]belief

16 Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father which loved us and gave us eternal 17 comfort and good hope through grace, comfort your hearts and stablish them in every good work and word.

3 Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may run and be glorified, even as 2 also it is with you; and that we may be delivered from unreasonable and evil men; for all have 3 not [12]faith. But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and guard you from [13]the evil one.

you, that ye both do, and will do the things which we command you.

7 For yourselves know how ye ought to follow us: for we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you,

8 Neither did we eat any man's bread for nought: but wrought with labour and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you.

9 Not because we have not power, but to make ourselves an ensample unto you to follow us.

10 For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat.

11 For we hear that there are some which walk among you disorderly, working not at all, but are busybodies.

12 Now them that are such, we command, and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread.

13 But ye, brethren, ‖ be not weary in well doing.

14 And if any man obey not our word, ‖ by this Epistle, note that man, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed,

2 Unto Timothy my own son in the Faith: Grace, mercy, and peace from God our Father, and Jesus Christ our Lord.

1 PAUL, an apostle of Christ Jesus according to the commandment of God our Saviour, and 2 Christ Jesus our hope; unto Timothy, my true child in faith: Grace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

4 trine, neither to give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which minister questions, rather than godly edifying which is in faith: so do.

5 Now the end of the commandment is charity, out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned.

6 From which some ‖having swerved, have turned aside unto vain jangling,

7 Desiring to be teachers of the law, understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they affirm.

8 But we know that the law is good, if a man use it lawfully.

9 Knowing this, that the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly, and for sinners, for unholy, and profane, for murderers of fathers, and murderers of mothers, for manslayers,

10 For whoremongers, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for menstealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to sound doctrine,

11 According to the glorious Gospel of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust.

12 And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath enabled me: for that he counted me faithful, putting me into the Ministry, 13 Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious. But I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly, in unbelief.

14 And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant, with faith, and love, which is in Christ Jesus.

15 This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief.

16 Howbeit, for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first, Jesus Christ might shew forth all longsuffering, for a pattern to them which should hereafter believe on him to life everlasting.

17 Now unto the king eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

18 This charge I commit unto thee, son Timothy, according to the prophecies which went before on thee, that thou by them mightest war a good warfare, 19 Holding faith, and a good conscience, which some having put away, concerning faith, have made shipwreck.

20 Of whom is Hymenæus and Alexander, whom I have delivered unto Satan, that they may learn not to blaspheme.

CHAP. II.

I ‖EXHORT therefore, that first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men:

2 For Kings, and for all that are in ‖authority, that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty.

7 Whereunto I am ordained a preacher, and an Apostle (I speak the truth in Christ, and lie not) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity.
8 I will therefore that men pray every where, lifting up holy hands without wrath and doubting.
9 In like manner also, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefastness and sobriety; not with ‖broided hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array,
10 But (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works.
11 Let the woman learn in silence with all subjection:
12 But I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence.
13 For Adam was first formed, then Eve:
14 And Adam was not deceived, but the woman being deceived was in the transgression:
15 Notwithstanding she shall be saved in childbearing, if they continue in faith and charity, and holiness, with sobriety.

CHAP. III.

THIS is a true saying: If a man desire the office of a Bishop, he desireth a good work.
2 A Bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, ‖of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach;
3 ‖Not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre, but patient, not a brawler, not covetous;
4 One that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity.
5 (For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the Church of God?)
6 Not ‖a novice, lest being lifted up with pride, he fall into the condemnation of the devil.
7 Moreover, he must have a good report of them which are without, lest he fall into reproach, and the snare of the devil.
8 Likewise must the Deacons be grave, not doubletongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre,
9 Holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience.
10 And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a Deacon, being found blameless.
11 Even so must their wives be grave; not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things.
12 Let the Deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well.
13 For they that have ‖used the office of a Deacon well, purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldness in the faith, which is in Christ Jesus.
14 These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly.
15 But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the House of God, which is the Church of the living God, the pillar and ‖ground of the truth.

15 gression: but she shall be saved through [3]the childbearing, if they continue in faith and love and sanctification with sobriety.
3 [4]Faithful is the saying, If a man seeketh the office of a [5]bishop, he desireth a good work.
2 The [5]bishop therefore must be without reproach, the husband of one wife, temperate, sober-minded, orderly, given to hospitality, apt to teach;

16 And without controversy, great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of Angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory.

CHAP. IV.

NOW the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils:

2 Speaking lies in hypocrisy, having their conscience seared with a hot iron.

3 Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe, and know the truth.

4 For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving:

5 For it is sanctified by the word of God, and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, nourished up in the words of faith, and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained.

7 But refuse profane and old wives' fables, and exercise thyself rather unto godliness.

8 For bodily exercise profiteth ‖ little, but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.

‖ Or, for a little time.

9 This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation:

10 For therefore we both labour, and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe.

11 These things command and teach.

12 Let no man despise thy youth, but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.

13 Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.

14 Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the Presbytery.

15 Meditate upon these things, give thyself wholly to them, that thy profiting may appear ‖ to all.

16 Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine: continue in them: for in doing this, thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee.

CHAP. V.

REBUKE not an Elder, but intreat him as a father, and the younger men as brethren:

2 The elder women as mothers, the younger as sisters with all purity.

3 Honour widows that are widows indeed.

4 But if any widow have children or nephews, let them learn first to shew ‖ piety at home, and to requite their parents: for that is good and acceptable before God.

16 And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness; [1]He who was manifested in the flesh, justified in the spirit, seen of angels, preached among the nations, believed on in the world, received up in glory.

4 But the Spirit saith expressly, that in later times some shall fall away from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits and doctrines of [2]devils,
2 through the hypocrisy of men that speak lies,
[3]branded in their own conscience as with a hot
3 iron; forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God created to be received with thanksgiving by them that believe
4 and know the truth. For every creature of God is good, and nothing is to be rejected, if it
5 be received with thanksgiving: for it is sanctified through the word of God and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in mind of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Christ Jesus, nourished in the words of the faith, and of the good doctrine which thou hast followed

8 for bodily exercise is profitable [4]for a little; but godliness is profitable for all things, having promise of the life which now is, and of that 9 which is to come. Faithful is the saying, and 11 men, specially of them that believe. These 12 things command and teach. Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an ensample to them that believe, in word, in manner of life,

13 in love, in faith, in purity. Till I come, give heed to reading, to exhortation, to teaching.
14 Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of 15 the hands of the presbytery. Be diligent in these things; give thyself wholly to them; that 16 thy progress may be manifest unto all. Take heed to thyself, and to thy teaching. Continue in these things; for in doing this thou shalt save both thyself and them that hear thee.

5 Rebuke not an elder, but exhort him as a father; the younger men as brethren: the elder

9 Let not a widow be ||taken into the number, under threescore years old, having been the wife of one man,
10 Well reported of for good works, if she have brought up children, if she have lodged strangers, if she have washed the Saints' feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work.
11 But the younger widows refuse: for when they have begun to wax wanton against Christ, they will marry, 12 Having damnation, because they have cast off their first faith.
13 And withal they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also, and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not.
14 I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the house, give none occasion to the adversary †to speak reproachfully.
15 For some are already turned aside after Satan.
16 If any man or woman that believeth have widows, let them relieve them, and let not the Church be charged, that it may relieve them that are widows indeed.
17 Let the Elders that rule well, be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO

1611

CHAP. I.

ANNO DOMINI 66.

PAUL an Apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, according to the promise of life, which is in Christ Jesus,

2 To Timothy my dearly beloved son: grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day,

4 Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy,

5 When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice: and I am persuaded that in thee also.

6 Wherefore I put thee in remembrance, that thou stir up the gift of God which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.

7 For God hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power, of love, and of a sound mind.

8 Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner, but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the Gospel according to the power of God,

9 Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus, before the world began,

10 But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light, through the Gospel:

11 Whereunto I am appointed a Preacher, and an Apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 For the which cause I also suffer these things; nevertheless, I am not ashamed: for I know whom I have ‖believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day.

13 Hold fast the form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me, in faith and love, which is in Christ Jesus.

14 That good thing which was committed unto thee, keep, by the holy Ghost which dwelleth in us.

15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia be turned away from me, of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

16 The Lord give mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus, for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain.

1 PAUL, an apostle of Christ Jesus [1]by the will of God, according to the promise of the 2 life which is in Christ Jesus, to Timothy, my beloved child: Grace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.
3 I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers in a pure conscience, how unceasing is my remembrance of thee in my supplications,
4 night and day longing to see thee, remembering thy tears, that I may be filled with [2]joy;
5 having been reminded of the unfeigned faith that is in thee; which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice; and, I
6 am persuaded, in thee also. For the which cause I put thee in remembrance that thou [3]stir up the gift of God, which is in thee
7 through the laying on of my hands. For God gave us not a spirit of fearfulness; but of power
8 and love and [4]discipline. Be not ashamed therefore of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but suffer hardship with the gospel according to the power of God;
9 who saved us, and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us
10 in Christ Jesus before times eternal, but hath now been manifested by the appearing of our Saviour Christ Jesus, who abolished death, and brought life and incorruption to light through 11 the gospel, whereunto I was appointed a [5]preacher,
12 and an apostle, and a teacher. For the which cause I suffer also these things: yet I am not ashamed; for I know him whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to guard [6]that which I have committed unto him
13 against that day. Hold the pattern of [7]sound words which thou hast heard from me, in faith
14 and love which is in Christ Jesus. [8]That good thing which was committed unto thee guard through the [9]Holy Ghost which dwelleth in us.
15 This thou knowest, that all that are in Asia turned away from me; of whom are Phygelus
16 and Hermogenes. The Lord grant mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus: for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain;

CHAP. II.

THOU therefore, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus.

2 And the things that thou hast heard of me ‖among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also.

3 Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.

4 No man that warreth, entangleth himself with the affairs of this life, that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier.

5 And if a man also strive for masteries, yet is he not crowned except he strive lawfully.

6 ‖The husbandman that laboureth, must be first partaker of the fruits.

7 Consider what I say, and the Lord give thee understanding in all things.

8 Remember that Jesus Christ of the seed of David, was raised from the dead, according to my Gospel:

9 Wherein I suffer trouble as an evil doer, even unto bonds: but the word of God is not bound.

10 Therefore I endure all things for the elect's sakes, that they may also obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus, with eternal glory.

11 It is a faithful saying: for if we be dead with him, we shall also live with him.

12 If we suffer, we shall also reign with him: if we deny him, he also will deny us.

13 If we believe not, yet he abideth faithful, he cannot deny himself.

14 Of these things put them in remembrance, charging them before the Lord, that they strive not about words to no profit, but to the subverting of the hearers.

15 Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.

16 But shun profane and vain babblings, for they will increase unto more ungodliness.

17 And their word will eat as doth a ‖canker: of whom is Hymenæus and Philetus.

18 Who concerning the truth have erred, saying that the resurrection is past already, and overthrow the faith of some.

19 Nevertheless the foundation of God standeth ‖sure, having the seal, the Lord knoweth them that are his. And, let every one that nameth the Name of Christ, depart from iniquity.

20 But in a great house, there are not only vessels of gold, and of silver, but also of wood, and of earth: and some to honour, and some to dishonour.

21 If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, and

17 but, when he was in Rome, he sought me dili-
18 gently, and found me (the Lord grant unto him to find mercy of the Lord in that day); and in how many things he ministered at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

2 Thou therefore, my child, be strengthened in
2 the grace that is in Christ Jesus. And the things which thou hast heard from me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who
3 shall be able to teach others also. [1]Suffer hardship with me, as a good soldier of Christ Jesus.
4 No soldier on service entangleth himself in the affairs of this life; that he may please him who 5 enrolled him as a soldier. And if also a man contend in the games, he is not crowned, except 6 he have contended lawfully. The husbandman that laboureth must be the first to partake of 7 the fruits. Consider what I say; for the Lord
8 shall give thee understanding in all things. Remember Jesus Christ, risen from the dead, of 9 the seed of David, according to my gospel: wherein I suffer hardship unto bonds, as a malefactor;
10 but the word of God is not bound. Therefore I endure all things for the elect's sake, that they also may obtain the salvation which is in Christ Je-
11 sus with eternal glory. Faithful is the [2]saying: For if we died with him, we shall also live with 12 him: if we endure, we shall also reign with him: if we shall deny him, he also will deny
13 us: if we are faithless, he abideth faithful; for he cannot deny himself.
14 Of these things put them in remembrance, charging them in the sight of [3]the Lord, that they strive not about words, to no profit, to the 15 subverting of them that hear. Give diligence to present thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, [4]handling 16 aright the word of truth. But shun profane babblings: for they will proceed further in 17 ungodliness, and their word will [5]eat as doth a gangrene: of whom is Hymenæus and 18 Philetus; men who concerning the truth have [6]erred, saying that [7]the resurrection is past already, and overthrow the faith of some.
19 Howbeit the firm foundation of God standeth, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his: and, Let every one that nameth the name of the Lord depart from unrighteousness.
20 Now in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth; and some unto honour, and some unto dis-
21 honour. If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, 22 Flee also youthful lusts: but follow righteousness, faith, charity, peace with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart.

23 But foolish and unlearned questions avoid, knowing that they do gender strifes.

24 And the servant of the Lord must not strive: but be gentle unto all men, apt to teach, ‖patient, 25 In meekness instructing those that oppose themselves, if God peradventure will give them repentance to the acknowledging of the truth.

26 And that they may †recover themselves out of the snare of the devil, who are †taken captive by him at his will.

THIS know also, that in the last days perilous times shall come.

2 For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy,

3 Without natural affection, trucebreakers, ‖false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good,

4 Traitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God,

5 Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away.

6 For of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts,

7 Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth.

8 Now as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth: men of corrupt minds, ‖reprobate concerning the faith.

9 But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be manifest unto all men, as theirs also was.

10 But ‖thou hast fully known my doctrine, manner of life, purpose, faith, longsuffering, charity, patience, 11 Persecutions, afflictions which came unto me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra, what persecutions I endured: but out of them all the Lord delivered me.

12 Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus, shall suffer persecution.

13 But evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived.

14 But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned, and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them.

CHAP. IV.

I CHARGE thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing, and his kingdom:
2 Preach the word, be instant in season, out of season, reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine.
3 For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine, but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears:
4 And they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables.
5 But watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an Evangelist, ‖make full proof of thy ministry.
6 For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand.
7 I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith.
8 Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord the righteous judge shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto them also that love his appearing.
9 Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me:
10 For Demas hath forsaken me, having loved this present world, and is departed unto Thessalonica: Crescens to Galatia, Titus unto Dalmatia.
11 Only Luke is with me. Take Mark and bring him with thee: for he is profitable to me for the ministry.
12 And Tychicus have I sent to Ephesus.
13 The cloak that I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the books, but especially the parchments.
14 Alexander the Coppersmith did me much evil, the Lord reward him according to his works.
15 Of whom be thou ware also, for he hath greatly withstood ‖our words.
16 At my first answer no man stood with me, but all men forsook me: I pray God that it may not be laid to their charge.
17 Notwithstanding the Lord stood with me, and strengthened me, that by me the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was delivered out of the mouth of the Lion.
18 And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom; to whom be glory for ever, and ever. Amen.
19 Salute Prisca and Aquila, and the household of Onesiphorus.
20 Erastus abode at Corinth: but Trophimus have I left at Miletum sick.
21 Do thy diligence to come before winter. Eubulus greeteth thee, and Pudens, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethren.
22 The Lord Jesus Christ be with thy spirit. Grace be with you. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TITUS.

1611

CHAP. I.

ANNO DOMINI 65.

PAUL a servant of God, and an Apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the Faith of God's Elect, and the acknowledging of the truth which is after godliness,

2 ‖In hope of eternal life, which God that cannot lie, promised before the world began:

3 But hath in due times manifested his word through preaching, which is committed unto me according to the command of God our Saviour:

4 To Titus mine own Son after the common faith, Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.

5 For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that are ‖wanting, and ordain Elders in every city, as I had appointed thee.

6 If any be blameless, the husband of one wife, having faithful children, not accused of riot, or unruly.

7 For a Bishop must be blameless, as the steward of God: not selfwilled, not soon angry, not [a]given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre,

8 But a lover of hospitality, a lover of ‖good men, sober, just, holy, temperate,

9 Holding fast the faithful word, ‖as he hath been taught, that he may be able by sound doctrine, both to exhort and to convince the gainsayers.

10 For there are many unruly and vain talkers and deceivers, specially they of the circumcision:

11 Whose mouths must be stopped, who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake.

12 One of themselves, even a Prophet of their own, said: The Cretians are alway liars, evil beasts, slow bellies.

13 This witness is true: wherefore rebuke them sharply that they may be sound in the faith;

14 Not giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men that turn from the truth.

15 Unto the pure all things are pure, but unto them that are defiled, and unbelieving, is nothing pure: but even their mind and conscience is defiled.

16 They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work ‖reprobate.

1 PAUL, a [1]servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's elect, and the knowledge of the truth which is 2 according to godliness, in hope of eternal life, which God, who cannot lie, promised before 3 times eternal; but in [2]his own seasons manifested his word in the [3]message, wherewith I was intrusted according to the commandment
4 of God our Saviour; to Titus, my true child after a common faith: Grace and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Saviour.

5 For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that were wanting, and appoint elders in every city, as I gave 6 thee charge; if any man is blameless, the husband of one wife, having children that believe, 7 who are not accused of riot or unruly. For the [4]bishop must be blameless, as God's steward; not selfwilled, not soon angry, [5]no brawler, no 8 striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but given to hospitality, a lover of good, soberminded, just, 9 holy, temperate; holding to the faithful word which is according to the teaching, that he may be able both to exhort in the [6]sound [7]doctrine, and to convict the gainsayers.

10 For there are many unruly men, vain talkers and deceivers, specially they of the circum-
11 cision, whose mouths must be stopped; men who overthrow whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake.
12 One of themselves, a prophet of their own, said,
Cretans are alway liars, evil beasts, idle [8]glut-13 tons. This testimony is true. For which cause reprove them sharply, that they may be [9]sound 14 in the faith, not giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men who turn away from 15 the truth. To the pure all things are pure:
but to them that are defiled and unbelieving nothing is pure; but both their mind and their 16 conscience are defiled. They profess that they know God; but by their works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate.

2 But speak thou the things which befit the [6]sound
2 [7]doctrine: that aged men be temperate, grave, soberminded, [9]sound in faith, in love, in patience:

3 The aged women likewise that they be in behaviour as becometh ‖holiness, not ‖false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things,
4 That they may teach the young women to be ‖sober, to love their husbands, to love their children,
5 To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.
6 Young men likewise exhort, to be ‖sober minded.
7 In all things shewing thyself a pattern of good works: in doctrine shewing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity,
8 Sound speech that cannot be condemned, that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you.
9 Exhort servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please them well in all things, not ‖answering again:
10 Not purloining, but shewing all good fidelity, that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.
11 For the grace of God ‖that bringeth salvation, hath appeared to all men,
12 Teaching us that denying ungodliness and worldly lusts we should live soberly, righteously and godly in this present world,
13 Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God, and our Saviour Jesus Christ,
14 Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works.
15 These things speak and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee.

CHAP. III.

PUT them in mind to be subject to Principalities and Powers, to obey magistrates, to be ready to every good work,
2 To speak evil of no man, to be no brawlers, but gentle, shewing all meekness unto all men.
3 For we ourselves also were sometimes foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another.
4 But after that the kindness and ‖love of God our Saviour toward man appeared,
5 Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the holy Ghost,
6 Which is shed on us †abundantly, through Jesus Christ our Saviour:
7 That being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life.
8 This is a faithful saying, and these things I will that thou affirm constantly, that they which have believed in God, might be careful to maintain good works: these things are good and profitable unto men.

15 These things speak and exhort and reprove with all [5]authority. Let no man despise thee.

3 Put them in mind to be in subjection to rulers, to authorities, to be obedient, to be ready
2 unto every good work, to speak evil of no man, not to be contentious, to be gentle, shewing all
3 meekness toward all men. For we also were aforetime foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and
4 envy, hateful, hating one another. But when the kindness of God our Saviour, and his love
5 toward man, appeared, not by works done in righteousness, which we did ourselves, but according to his mercy he saved us, through the [6]washing of regeneration [7]and renewing
6 of the [8]Holy Ghost, which he poured out upon us richly, through Jesus Christ our 7 Saviour; that, being justified by his grace, we might be made [9]heirs according to the hope of 8 eternal life. Faithful is the saying, and concerning these things I will that thou affirm confidently, to the end that they which have believed God may be careful to [10]maintain good works. These things are good and profitable unto men:

9 But avoid foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and strivings about the law; for they are unprofitable and vain.
10 A man that is an heretic, after the first and second admonition, reject:
11 Knowing that he that is such, is subverted, and sinneth, being condemned of himself.
12 When I shall send Artemas unto thee, or Tychicus, be diligent to come unto me to Nicopolis: for I have determined there to winter.
13 Bring Zenas the Lawyer, and Apollos, on their journey diligently, that nothing be wanting unto them.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO PHILEMON.

PAUL a prisoner of Jesus Christ, and Timothy our brother unto Philemon our dearly beloved, and fellowlabourer,
2 And to our beloved Apphia, and Archippus our fellowsoldier, and to the Church in thy house.
3 Grace to you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.
4 I thank my God, making mention of thee always in my prayers,
5 Hearing of thy love, and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all Saints:
6 That the communication of thy faith may become effectual by the acknowledging of every good thing which is in you in Christ Jesus.
7 For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the bowels of the Saints are refreshed by thee, brother.
8 Wherefore, though I might be much bold in Christ to enjoin thee that which is convenient;
9 Yet for love's sake I rather beseech thee, being such a one as Paul the aged, and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ.
10 I beseech thee for my son Onesimus, whom I have begotten in my bonds,
11 Which in time past was to thee unprofitable: but now profitable to thee and to me:
12 Whom I have sent again: thou therefore receive him, that is mine own bowels.

1 PAUL, a prisoner of Christ Jesus, and Timothy [1]our brother, to Philemon our beloved and
2 fellow-worker, and to Apphia [2]our sister, and to Archippus our fellow-soldier, and to the church
3 in thy house: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.
4 I thank my God always, making mention of 5 thee in my prayers, hearing of [3]thy love, and of the faith which thou hast toward the Lord
6 Jesus, and toward all the saints; that the fellowship of thy faith may become effectual, in the knowledge of every good thing which is 7 in [4]you, unto Christ. For I had much joy and comfort in thy love, because the hearts of the saints have been refreshed through thee, brother.
8 Wherefore, though I have all boldness in Christ to enjoin thee that which is befitting,
9 yet for love's sake I rather beseech, being such a one as Paul [5]the aged, and now a prisoner
10 also of Christ Jesus: I beseech thee for my child, whom I have begotten in my bonds, 11 [6]Onesimus, who was aforetime unprofitable to thee, but now is profitable to thee and 12 to me: whom I have sent back to thee in his own person, that is, my very heart:

13 Whom I would have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the Gospel.
14 But without thy mind would I do nothing, that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly.
15 For perhaps he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receive him for ever:
16 Not now as a servant, but above a servant, a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much more unto thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord?
17 If thou count me therefore a partner, receive him as myself.

19 I Paul have written it with mine own hand, I will repay it: albeit I do not say to thee how thou owest unto me even thine own self besides:
20 Yea, brother, let me have joy of thee in the Lord: refresh my bowels in the Lord.
21 Having confidence in thy obedience, I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt also do more than I say.
22 But withal prepare me also a lodging: for I trust that through your prayers I shall be given unto you.

CHAP. I.

ANNO DOMINI 64.

GOD who at sundry times, and in divers manners, spake in time past unto the Fathers by the Prophets,
2 Hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds,
3 [a]Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high,
4 Being made so much better than the Angels, as he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent Name than they.
5 For unto which of the Angels said he at any time, Thou art my son, this day have I begotten thee?

[1] Gr. a Son.
[2] Gr. ages.
[3] Or, the impress of his substance

1 GOD, having of old time spoken unto the fathers in the prophets by divers portions and
2 in divers manners, hath at the end of these days spoken unto us in [1]his Son, whom he appointed heir of all things, through whom also
3 he made the [2]worlds; who being the effulgence of his glory, and [3]the very image of his substance, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had made purification of sins, sat down on the right hand of the 4 Majesty on high; having become by so much better than the angels, as he hath inherited a 5 more excellent name than they. For unto which of the angels said he at any time,

Thou art my Son,
This day have I begotten thee?

1611

And again, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son.

6 And again, when he bringeth in the firstbegotten into the world, he saith, And let all the Angels of God worship him.

7 And of the Angels he saith: Who maketh his Angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire.

8 But unto the Son, he saith, Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: a sceptre of †righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom.

9 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity, therefore God, even thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

10 And, [b]thou Lord in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth: and the heavens are the works of thine hands.

11 They shall perish, but thou remainest: and they all shall wax old as doth a garment.

12 And as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed, but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.

13 But to which of the Angels said he at any time, [c]Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool?

14 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation?

CHAP. II.

THEREFORE we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should †let them slip.

2 For if the word spoken by Angels was stedfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward:

3 How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation, which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him,

4 God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, ‖and gifts of the holy Ghost, according to his own will?

5 For unto the Angels hath he not put in subjection the world to come, whereof we speak.

6 But one in a certain place testified, saying: [a]What is man, that thou art mindful of him: or the Son of man that thou visitest him?

7 Thou madest him ‖a little lower than the Angels, thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him over the works of thy hands.

and again,
I will be to him a Father,
And he shall be to me a Son?

6 [1]And when he again [2]bringeth in the firstborn into [3]the world he saith, And let all the angels 7 of God worship him. And of the angels he saith,
Who maketh his angels [4]winds,
And his ministers a flame of fire:
8 but of the Son he saith,
Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever;
And the sceptre of uprightness is the sceptre of [5]thy kingdom.
9 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity;
Therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee
With the oil of gladness above thy fellows.
10 And,
Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth,
And the heavens are the works of thy hands:
11 They shall perish; but thou continuest:
And they all shall wax old as doth a garment;
12 And as a mantle shalt thou roll them up,
As a garment, and they shall be changed:
But thou art the same,
And thy years shall not fail.
13 But of which of the angels hath he said at any time,
Sit thou on my right hand,
Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet?
14 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to do service for the sake of them that shall inherit salvation?

2 Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things that were heard, lest haply
2 we drift away from them. For if the word spoken through angels proved stedfast, and every transgression and disobedience received
3 a just recompense of reward; how shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation? which having at first been spoken through the Lord,
4 was confirmed unto us by them that heard; God also bearing witness with them, both by signs and wonders, and by manifold powers, and by [6]gifts of the [7]Holy Ghost, according to his own will.
5 For not unto angels did he subject [3]the world
6 to come, whereof we speak. But one hath somewhere testified, saying,
What is man, that thou art mindful of him?
Or the son of man, that thou visiteth him?
7 Thou madest him [8]a little lower than the angels;
Thou crownedst him with glory and honour,
[9]And didst set him over the works of thy hands:

8 Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that he put all in subjection under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. But now we see not yet all things put under him.

9 But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the Angels, ‖for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour, that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man.

10 For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the Captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings.

11 For both he that sanctifieth, and they who are sanctified, are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren, 12 Saying, I will declare thy Name unto my brethren, in the midst of the Church will I sing praise unto thee.

13 And again, [b]I will put my trust in him: and again, [c]Behold, I, and the children which God hath given me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same, that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil:

15 And deliver them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage.

16 For verily †he took not on him the nature of Angels: but he took on him the seed of Abraham.

17 Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high Priest, in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people.

18 For in that he himself hath suffered, being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAP. III.

WHEREFORE holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and high Priest of our profession Christ Jesus,

2 Who was faithful to him that †appointed him, as also Moses was faithful in all his house.

3 For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Moses, inasmuch as he who hath builded the house hath more honour than the house.

4 For every house is builded by some man, but he that built all things is God.

5 And Moses verily was faithful in all his house as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were to be spoken after.

6 But Christ as a Son over his own house, whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence, and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end.

7 Wherefore as the holy Ghost saith, [a]To day if ye will hear his voice,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness:

9 When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works forty years.

8 Thou didst put all things in subjection under his feet.
For in that he subjected all things unto him, he left nothing that is not subject to him. But now we see not yet all things subjected to him.

9 But we behold him who hath been made [1]a little lower than the angels, even Jesus, because of the suffering of death crowned with glory and honour, that by the grace of God he should
10 taste death for every man. For it became him, for whom are all things, and through whom are all things, [2]in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the [3]author of their salvation perfect
11 through sufferings. For both he that sanctifieth and they that are sanctified are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them
12 brethren, saying,
I will declare thy name unto my brethren,
In the midst of the [4]congregation will I sing thy praise.
13 And again, I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold, I and the children which God
14 hath given me. Since then the children are sharers in [5]flesh and blood, he also himself in like manner partook of the same; that through death he [6]might bring to nought him that [7]had 15 the power of death, that is, the devil; and [6]might deliver all them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage.
16 For verily not of angels doth he take hold, but he taketh hold of the seed of Abraham.
17 Wherefore it behoved him in all things to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make propitiation for the 18 sins of the people. [8]For [9]in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

3 Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of a heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and
2 High Priest of our confession, even Jesus; who was faithful to him that [10]appointed him, as also 3 was Moses in all [11]his house. For he hath been counted worthy of more glory than Moses, by so much as he that [12]built the house hath more
4 honour than the house. For every house is [12]builded by some one; but he that [12]built all
5 things is God. And Moses indeed was faithful in all [11]his house as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were afterward to be spoken;
6 but Christ as a son, over [11]his house; whose house are we, if we hold fast our boldness and the glorying of our hope firm unto the end.
7 Wherefore, even as the Holy Ghost saith,
To-day if ye shall hear his voice,
8 Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation,
Like as in the day of the temptation in the wilderness,
9 [13]Wherewith your fathers tempted me by proving me,
And saw my works forty years.

10 Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They do alway err in their hearts, and they have not known my ways.
11 So I sware in my wrath: †they shall not enter into my rest.
12 Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.
13 But exhort one another daily, while it is called To day, lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.
14 For we are made partakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence stedfast unto the end.
15 Whilst it is said, To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.
16 For some when they had heard, did provoke: howbeit not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.
17 But with whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had sinned, whose carcases fell in the wilderness?
18 And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that believed not?
19 So we see that they could not enter in, because of unbelief.

CHAP. IV.

LET us therefore fear, lest a promise being left us, of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it.
2 For unto us was the Gospel preached, as well as unto them: but †the word preached did not profit them, ‖not being mixed with faith in them that heard it.
3 For we which have believed do enter into rest, as he said, As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest, although the works were finished from the foundation of the world.
4 For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise: And God did rest the seventh day from all his works.
5 And in this place again: If they shall enter into my rest.
6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therein, and they to whom ‖it was first preached, entered not in because of unbelief:
7 Again, he limiteth a certain day, saying in David, To day, after so long a time; as it is said, To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.
8 For if ‖Jesus had given them rest, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day.
9 There remaineth therefore a ‖rest to the people of God.
10 For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his.
11 Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of ‖unbelief.

And said, They do alway err in their heart:
But they did not know my ways;

12 Take heed, brethren, lest haply there shall be in any one of you an evil heart of unbelief, in 13 falling away from the living God: but exhort one another day by day, so long as it is called To-day; lest any one of you be hardened by 19 dient? And we see that they were not able to enter in because of unbelief.

4 Let us fear therefore, lest haply, a promise being left of entering into his rest, any one of you should seem to have come short of it.
2 For indeed we have had [4]good tidings preached unto us, even as also they: but the word of hearing did not profit them, because [5]they were not
3 united by faith with them that heard. [6]For we which have believed do enter into that rest; even as he hath said,
As I sware in my wrath,
[1]They shall not enter into my rest:
although the works were finished from the 4 foundation of the world. For he hath said somewhere of the seventh day on this wise,
And God rested on the seventh day from all
5 his works; and in this place again,
[1]They shall not enter into my rest.
6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some should enter thereinto, and they to whom [7]the good tidings were before preached failed to enter in 7 because of disobedience, he again defineth a certain day, [8]saying in David, after so long a time,
To-day, as it hath been before said,
To-day if ye shall hear his voice,
Harden not your hearts.
8 For if [9]Joshua had given them rest, he would not have spoken afterward of another day.
9 There remaineth therefore a sabbath rest for 10 the people of God. For he that is entered into his rest hath himself also rested from his 11 works, as God did from his. Let us therefore give diligence to enter into that rest, that no man fall [10]after the same example of disobedience.
12 For the word of God is living, and active, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13 Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked, and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

14 Seeing then that we have a great high Priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession.

15 For we have not an high Priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities: but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.

16 Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

CHAP. V.

FOR every high Priest taken from among men, is ordained for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins.

2 Who ‖can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way, for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity.

3 And by reason hereof he ought as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.

4 And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.

5 So also, Christ glorified not himself, to be made an High Priest: but he that said unto him, Thou art my Son, to day have I begotten thee.

6 As he saith also in another place, Thou art a Priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

7 Who in the days of his flesh, when he had offered up prayers and supplications, with strong crying and tears, unto him that was able to save him from death, and was heard, ‖in that he feared.

8 Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered:

9 And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him,

10 Called of God an high Priest after the order of Melchisedec:

11 Of whom we have many things to say, and hard to be uttered, seeing ye are dull of hearing.

12 For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be the first principles of the Oracles of God, and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat.

13 For every one that useth milk, †is unskilful in the word of righteousness: for he is a babe.

14 But strong meat belongeth to them that are ‖of full age, even those who by reason ‖of use have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil.

CHAP. VI.

THEREFORE leaving ‖the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto perfection, not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith towards God, 13 And there is no creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and laid open before the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

14 Having then a great high priest, who hath passed through the heavens, Jesus the Son of 15 God, let us hold fast our confession. For we have not a high priest that cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but one that hath been in all points tempted like as we are,
16 yet without sin. Let us therefore draw near with boldness unto the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and may find grace to help us in time of need.

5 For every high priest, being taken from among men, is appointed for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts
2 and sacrifices for sins: who can bear gently with the ignorant and erring, for that he him-
3 self also is compassed with infirmity; and by reason thereof is bound, as for the people, so
4 also for himself, to offer for sins. And no man taketh the honour unto himself, but when 5 he is called of God, even as was Aaron. So Christ also glorified not himself to be made a high priest, but he that spake unto him,

Thou art my Son,
This day have I begotten thee:

6 as he saith also in another place,

Thou art a priest for ever
After the order of Melchizedek.

7 Who in the days of his flesh, having offered up prayers and supplications with strong crying and tears unto him that was able to save him [1]from death, and having been heard for his
8 godly fear, though he was a Son, yet learned
9 obedience by the things which he suffered; and having been made perfect, he became unto all them that obey him the [2]author of eternal sal-
10 vation; named of God a high priest after the order of Melchizedek.
11 Of [3]whom we have many things to say, and hard of interpretation, seeing ye are become 12 dull of hearing. For when by reason of the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need again [4]that some one teach you the rudiments of the [5]first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk,
13 and not of solid food. For every one that partaketh of milk is without experience of the 14 word of righteousness; for he is a babe. But solid food is for [6]fullgrown men, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern good and evil.

6 Wherefore let us [7]cease to speak of the first principles of Christ, and press on unto [8]perfection; not laying again a foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God,

2 Of the doctrine of Baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgment.
3 And this will we do, if God permit.
4 For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the holy Ghost,
5 And have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come;
6 If they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance: seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame.
7 For the earth which drinketh in the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them ‖by whom it is dressed, receiveth blessing from God.
8 But that which beareth thorns and briers, is rejected, and is nigh unto cursing, whose end is to be burned.
9 But beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that accompany salvation, though we thus speak.
10 For God is not unrighteous, to forget your work and labour of love, which ye have shewed toward his Name, in that ye have ministered to the Saints, and do minister.
11 And we desire, that every one of you do shew the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope unto the end:
12 That ye be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.
13 For when God made promise to Abraham, because he could swear by no greater, he sware by himself,
14 Saying, Surely, blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee.
15 And so after he had patiently endured, he obtained the promise.
16 For men verily swear by the greater, and an oath for confirmation is to them an end of all strife.
17 Wherein God willing more abundantly to shew unto the heirs of promise the immutability of his counsel, †confirmed it by an oath:
18 That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us.
19 Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul both sure and stedfast, and which entereth into that within the veil,
20 Whither the forerunner is for us entered; even Jesus, made an high Priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

3 of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgement. And this will we do, if 4 God permit. For as touching those who were once enlightened [3]and tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy 5 Ghost, and [4]tasted the good word of God, and 6 the powers of the age to come, and then fell away, it is impossible to renew them again unto repentance; [5]seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open
7 shame. For the land which hath drunk the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them for whose sake it is also 8 tilled, receiveth blessing from God: but if it beareth thorns and thistles, it is rejected and nigh unto a curse; whose end is to be burned.
9 But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that [6]accompany salvation,
10 though we thus speak: for God is not unrighteous to forget your work and the love which ye shewed toward his name, in that ye ministered 11 unto the saints, and still do minister. And we desire that each one of you may shew the same diligence unto the [7]fulness of hope even to the 12 end: that ye be not sluggish, but imitators of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.
13 For when God made promise to Abraham, since he could swear by none greater, he sware
14 by himself, saying, Surely blessing I will bless 15 thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee. And thus, having patiently endured, he obtained the 16 promise. For men swear by the greater: and in every dispute of theirs the oath is final for 17 confirmation. Wherein God, being minded to shew more abundantly unto the heirs of the promise the immutability of his counsel, [8]in-
18 terposed with an oath: that by two immutable things, in which it is impossible for God to lie, we may have a strong encouragement, who have fled for refuge to lay hold of the hope set before
19 us; which we have as an anchor of the soul, a hope both sure and stedfast and entering into 20 that which is within the veil; whither as a forerunner Jesus entered for us, having become a high priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

7 For this Melchizedek, king of Salem, priest of God Most High, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him,
2 to whom also Abraham divided a tenth part of all (being first, by interpretation, King of righteous-

3 Without father, without mother, †without descent, having neither beginning of days nor end of life: but made like unto the Son of God, abideth a Priest continually.

4 Now consider how great this man was, unto whom even the patriarch Abraham gave the tenth of the spoils.

5 And verily they that are the sons of Levi, who receive the office of the Priesthood, have a commandment to take Tithes of the people according to the law, that is of their brethren, though they come out of the loins of Abraham:

6 But he whose ‖descent is not counted from them, received tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

7 And without all contradiction, the less is blessed of the better.

8 And here men that die receive tithes: but there he receiveth them, of whom it is witnessed that he liveth.

9 And as I may so say, Levi also who receiveth tithes, paid tithes in Abraham.

10 For he was yet in the loins of his Father when Melchisedec met him.

11 If therefore perfection were by the Levitical Priesthood (for under it the people received the law) what further need was there, that another Priest should rise after the order of Melchisedec, and not be called after the order of Aaron?

12 For the Priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the law.

13 For he of whom these things are spoken, pertaineth to another tribe, of which no man gave attendance at the Altar.

14 For it is evident that our Lord sprang out of Juda, of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning Priesthood.

15 And it is yet far more evident: for that after the similitude of Melchisedec there ariseth another Priest, 16 Who is made not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life.

17 For he testifieth; Thou art a Priest for ever, after the order of Melchisedec.

18 For there is verily a disannulling of the commandment going before, for the weakness and unprofitableness thereof.

19 For the law made nothing perfect, ‖but the bringing in of a better hope did: by the which we draw nigh unto God.

20 And inasmuch as not without an oath he was made Priest,

21 (For those Priests were made ‖without an oath: but this with an oath, by him that said unto him, [a]The Lord sware and will not repent, thou art a Priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec)

22 By so much was Jesus made a surety of a better Testament.

ness, and then also King of Salem, which is,
3 King of peace; without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but made like unto the Son of God), abideth a priest continually.
4 Now consider how great this man was, unto whom Abraham, the patriarch, gave a tenth out
5 of the chief spoils. And they indeed of the sons of Levi that receive the priest's office have commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though these have come out of the loins of 6 Abraham: but he whose genealogy is not counted from them hath taken tithes of Abraham, and 7 hath blessed him that hath the promises. But without any dispute the less is blessed of the 8 better. And here men that die receive tithes; but there one, of whom it is witnessed that he 9 liveth. And, so to say, through Abraham even 10 Levi, who receiveth tithes, hath paid tithes; for he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchizedek met him.
11 Now if there was perfection through the Levitical priesthood (for under it hath the people received the law), what further need was there that another priest should arise after the order of Melchizedek, and not be reckoned after the 12 order of Aaron? For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change
13 also [1]of the law. For he of whom these things are said [2]belongeth to another tribe, from which 14 no man hath given attendance at the altar. For it is evident that our Lord hath sprung out of Judah; as to which tribe Moses spake nothing
15 concerning priests. And what we say is yet more abundantly evident, if after the likeness
16 of Melchizedek there ariseth another priest, who hath been made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an [3]end-17 less life: for it is witnessed of him,

Thou art a priest for ever
After the order of Melchizedek.

18 For there is a disannulling of a foregoing commandment because of its weakness and unprofit-
19 ableness (for the law made nothing perfect), and a bringing in thereupon of a better hope, through 20 which we draw nigh unto God. And inasmuch 21 as it is not without the taking of an oath (for they indeed have been made priests without an oath; but he with an oath [4]by him that saith [5]of him,

The Lord sware and will not repent himself,
Thou art a priest for ever);

22 by so much also hath Jesus become the surety
23 of a better [6]covenant. And they indeed have been made priests many in number, because that by death they are hindered from continuing:

24 But this man because he continueth ever, hath an ‖unchangeable Priesthood.

25 Wherefore he is able also to save them ‖to the uttermost, that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

26 For such an high Priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens.

27 Who needeth not daily, as those high Priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins and then for the people's: for this he did once, when he offered up himself.

28 For the law maketh men high Priests which have infirmity, but the word of the oath which was since the law, maketh the Son, who is †consecrated for evermore.

CHAP. VIII.

NOW of the things which we have spoken, this is the sum: we have such an high Priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens:

2 A minister ‖of the Sanctuary, and of the true Tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not man.

3 For every high Priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is of necessity that this man have somewhat also to offer.

4 For if he were on earth, he should not be a Priest, seeing that ‖there are Priests that offer gifts according to the law:

5 Who serve unto the example and shadow of heavenly things, as Moses was admonished of God when he was about to make the Tabernacle. For see (saith he) that thou make all things according to the pattern shewed to thee in the mount.

6 But now hath he obtained a more excellent ministry, by how much also he is the Mediator of a better ‖Covenant, which was established upon better promises.

7 For if that first Covenant had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the second.

8 For finding fault with them, he saith, Behold, the days come (saith the Lord) when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and the house of Judah.

9 Not according to the Covenant that I made with their fathers, in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt, because they continued not in my Covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For this is the Covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord: [a]I will †put my laws into their mind, and write them ‖in their hearts: and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people.

11 And they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: For all shall know me, from the least to the greatest.

25 priesthood [2]unchangeable. Wherefore also he is able to save [3]to the uttermost them that draw near unto God through him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

26 For such a high priest became us, holy, guileless, undefiled, separated from sinners, and made
27 higher than the heavens; who needeth not daily, like those high priests, to offer up sacrifices, first for his own sins, and then for the sins of the people: for this he did once for all, when 28 he offered up himself. For the law appointeth men high priests, having infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was after the law, appointeth a Son, perfected for evermore.

8 [4]Now [5]in the things which we are saying the chief point is this: We have such a high priest, who sat down on the right hand of the
2 throne of the Majesty in the heavens, a minister of [6]the sanctuary, and of the true taber-
3 nacle, which the Lord pitched, not man. For every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is necessary that this high priest also have somewhat to 4 offer. Now if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at all, seeing there are those who
5 offer the gifts according to the law; who serve that which is a copy and shadow of the heavenly things, even as Moses is warned of God when he is about to [7]make the tabernacle: for, See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern that was shewed thee in the 6 mount. But now hath he obtained a ministry the more excellent, by how much also he is the mediator of a better [8]covenant, which hath 7 been enacted upon better promises. For if that first covenant had been faultless, then would no place have been sought for a second.
8 For finding fault with them, he saith,

Behold, the days come, saith the Lord,
That I will [9]make a new [8]covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah;
9 Not according to the [8]covenant that I made with their fathers
In the day that I took them by the hand to lead them forth out of the land of Egypt;
For they continued not in my [8]covenant,
And I regarded them not, saith the Lord.
10 For this is the [8]covenant that [10]I will make with the house of Israel
After those days, saith the Lord;
I will put my laws into their mind,
And on their heart also will I write them:
And I will be to them a God,
And they shall be to me a people:
11 And they shall not teach every man his fellow-citizen,
And every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord:
For all shall know me,

13 In that he saith, A new Covenant, he hath made the first old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old, is ready to vanish away.

CHAP. IX.

THEN verily the first Covenant had also ‖ordinances of divine Service, and a worldly Sanctuary.

2 For there was a Tabernacle made, the first, wherein was the Candlestick, and the Table, and the Shewbread, which is called ‖the Sanctuary.

3 And after the second veil, the Tabernacle which is called the Holiest of all:

4 Which had the golden Censer, and the Ark of the Covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the Golden pot that had Manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the Tables of the Covenant.

5 And over it the Cherubims of glory shadowing the Mercyseat; of which we cannot now speak particularly.

6 Now when these things were thus ordained, the Priests went always into the first Tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God.

7 But into the second went the high Priest alone once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people.

8 The holy Ghost this signifying, that the way into the Holiest of all was not yet made manifest, while as the first Tabernacle was yet standing:

9 Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, that could not make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience,

10 Which stood only in meats and drinks, and divers washings, and carnal ‖ordinances imposed on them until the time of reformation.

11 But Christ being come an high Priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect Tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building:

12 Neither by the blood of Goats and Calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the Holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us.

13 For if the blood of Bulls, and of goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh:

14 How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without ‖spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works, to serve the living God?

15 And for this cause he is the Mediator of the New Testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first Testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

16 For where a Testament is, there must also of necessity ‖be the death of the Testator.

17 For a Testament is of force after men are dead:

13 In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. But that which is becoming old and waxeth aged is nigh unto vanishing away.

9 Now even the first covenant had ordinances of divine service, and its sanctuary, a sanctuary
2 of this world. For there was a tabernacle prepared, the first, wherein [1]were the candlestick, and the table, and [2]the shewbread; which is
3 called the Holy place. And after the second veil, the tabernacle which is called the Holy of
4 holies; having a golden [3]censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein [4]was a golden pot holding the manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of
5 the covenant; and above it cherubim of glory overshadowing [5]the mercy-seat; of which things
6 we cannot now speak severally. Now these things having been thus prepared, the priests go in continually into the first tabernacle, ac-
7 complishing the services; but into the second the high priest alone, once in the year, not without blood, which he offereth for himself,
8 and for the [6]errors of the people: the Holy Ghost this signifying, that the way into the holy place hath not yet been made manifest, while as the first tabernacle is yet standing;
9 which is a parable for the time now present; according to which are offered both gifts and sacrifices that cannot, as touching the conscience,
10 make the worshipper perfect, being only (with meats and drinks and divers washings) carnal ordinances, imposed until a time of reformation.

11 But Christ having come a high priest of [7]the good things to come, through the greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands,
12 that is to say, not of this creation, nor yet through the blood of goats and calves, but through his own blood, entered in once for all into the holy place, having obtained eternal
13 redemption. For if the blood of goats and bulls, and the ashes of a heifer sprinkling them that have been defiled, sanctify unto the 14 cleanness of the flesh: how much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without blemish unto God, cleanse [8]your conscience from dead works
15 to serve the living God? And for this cause he is the mediator of a new [9]covenant, that a death having taken place for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first [9]covenant, they that have been called may receive the promise of the eternal inheritance.
16 For where a [9]testament is, there must of neces-
17 sity [10]be the death of him that made it. For a [9]testament is of force [11]where there hath been death:

otherwise it is of no strength at all whilst the Testator liveth.

18 Whereupon, neither the first Testament was ‖dedicated without blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of Calves and of Goats, with water and ‖scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book and all the people, 20 Saying, This is the blood of the Testament which God hath enjoined unto you.

21 Moreover, he sprinkled with blood both the Tabernacle, and all the vessels of the Ministry.

22 And almost all things are by the law purged with blood: and without shedding of blood is no remission.

23 It was therefore necessary that the patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these, but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

24 For Christ is not entered into the Holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true, but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us.

25 Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high Priest entereth into the Holy place every year with blood of others:

26 For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once in the end of the world, hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.

27 And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the Judgment:

28 So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many, and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin, unto salvation.

CHAP. X.

FOR the law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very Image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually, make the comers thereunto perfect:

2 For then would they not have ceased to be offered, because that the worshippers once purged should have had no more conscience of sins?

3 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year.

4 For it is not possible that the blood of Bulls and of Goats, should take away sins.

5 Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he saith, Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body ‖hast thou prepared me:

6 In burnt offerings, and sacrifices for sin thou hast had no pleasure:

7 Then said I, Lo, I come (In the volume of the book it is written of me) to do thy will, O God.

8 Above when he said, Sacrifice, and offering, and burnt offerings, and offering for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein, which are offered by the law:

[1]for doth it ever avail while he that made
18 it liveth? Wherefore even the first covenant hath not been dedicated without blood.
19 For when every commandment had been spoken by Moses unto all the people according to the law, he took the blood of the calves and the goats, with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself, and all the 20 people, saying, This is the blood of the [2]covenant which God commanded to you-ward.
21 Moreover the tabernacle and all the vessels of the ministry he sprinkled in like manner with 22 the blood. And according to the law, I may almost say, all things are cleansed with blood, and apart from shedding of blood there is no remission.
23 It was necessary therefore that the copies of the things in the heavens should be cleansed with these; but the heavenly things themselves with 24 better sacrifices than these. For Christ entered not into a holy place made with hands, like in pattern to the true; but into heaven itself, now
25 to appear before the face of God for us: nor yet that he should offer himself often; as the high priest entereth into the holy place year by 26 year with blood not his own; else must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once at the [3]end of the ages hath he been manifested to put away sin [4]by the sacri-
27 fice of himself. And inasmuch as it is [5]appointed unto men once to die, and after this cometh
28 judgement; so Christ also, having been once offered to bear the sins of many, shall appear a second time, apart from sin, to them that wait for him, unto salvation.

10 For the law having a shadow of the good things to come, not the very image of the things, [6]they can never with the same sacrifices year by year, which they offer continually, make per-
2 fect them that draw nigh. Else would they not have ceased to be offered, because the worshippers, having been once cleansed, would have
3 had no more conscience of sins? But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance made of sins
4 year by year. For it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take away sins.
5 Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he saith,

Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not,
But a body didst thou prepare for me;
6 In whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hadst no pleasure:
7 Then said I, Lo, I am come
(In the roll of the book it is written of me)
To do thy will, O God.

8 Saying above, Sacrifices and offerings and whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein (the which are offered according to the law),
9 then hath he said, Lo, I am come to do thy will.

He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.

10 By the which will we are sanctified, through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

11 And every Priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices which can never take away sins.

12 But this man after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God, 13 From henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his footstool.

14 For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified.

15 Whereof the holy Ghost also is a witness to us: for after that he had said before,

16 This is the Covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord: I will [a]put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them:

17 And their sins and iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now, where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

19 Having therefore, brethren, ‖boldness to enter into the Holiest by the blood of Jesus,

20 By a new and living way which he hath ‖consecrated for us, through the veil, that is to say, His flesh:

21 And having an high Priest over the house of God:

22 Let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water.

23 Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering (for he is faithful that promised)

24 And let us consider one another to provoke unto love, and to good works:

25 Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is: but exhorting one another, and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching.

26 For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins,

27 But a certain fearful looking for of judgment, and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries.

28 He that despised Moses' law, died without mercy, under two or three witnesses.

29 Of how much sorer punishment suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the spirit of grace?

30 For we know him that hath said, [b]Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord: and again, The Lord shall judge his people.

23 with pure water: let us hold fast the confession of our hope that it waver not; for he is faith-24 ful that promised: and let us consider one an-25 other to provoke unto love and good works; not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the custom of some is, but exhorting one another; and so much the more, as ye see the day drawing nigh.

26 For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there re-27 maineth no more a sacrifice for sins, but a certain fearful expectation of judgement, and a [8]fierce-ness of fire which shall devour the adversaries.

28 A man that hath set at nought Moses' law dieth without compassion on the word of two or three 29 witnesses: of how much sorer punishment, think ye, shall he be judged worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, [9]an unholy thing, and hath 30 done despite unto the Spirit of grace? For we know him that said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense. And again, The Lord 31 shall judge his people. It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32 But call to remembrance the former days, in which after ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions:
33 Partly whilst ye were made a gazingstock both by reproaches and afflictions, and partly whilst ye became companions of them that were so used.
34 For ye had compassion of me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing in yourselves that ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance.
35 Cast not away therefore your confidence which hath great recompense of reward.
36 For ye have need of patience, that after ye have done the will of God ye might receive the promise.
37 For yet a little while, and he that shall come will come, and will not tarry.
38 Now the just shall live by faith: but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him.
39 But we are not of them who draw back unto perdition: but of them that believe, to the saving of the soul.

CHAP. XI.

NOW faith is the ‖substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.
2 For by it the Elders obtained a good report.
3 Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear.
4 By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: and by it he being dead ‖yet speaketh.
5 By faith Enoch was translated, that he should not see death, and was not found, because God had translated him: For before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God.
6 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God, must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.
7 By faith Noah being warned of God of things not seen as yet, ‖moved with fear, prepared an Ark to the saving of his house, by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith.
8 By faith Abraham when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed, and he went out, not knowing whither he went.
9 By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise.
10 For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God.
11 Through faith also Sara herself received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful who had promised.
12 Therefore sprang there even of one, and him

32 But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were enlightened, ye endured a 33 great conflict of sufferings; partly, being made a gazingstock both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, becoming partakers with them that 34 were so used. For ye both had compassion on them that were in bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your possessions, knowing [1]that [2]ye yourselves had a better possession and an abiding
35 one. Cast not away therefore your boldness,
36 which hath great recompense of reward. For ye have need of patience, that, having done the will of God, ye may receive the promise.
37 For yet a very little while,
He that cometh shall come, and shall not tarry.
38 But [3]my righteous one shall live by faith:
And if he shrink back, my soul hath no pleasure in him.
39 But we are not [4]of them that shrink back unto perdition; but of them that have faith unto the [5]saving of the soul.

11 Now faith is [6]the assurance of things hoped

6 that he had been well-pleasing unto God: and without faith it is impossible to be well-pleasing unto him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of 7 them that seek after him. By faith Noah, being warned of God concerning things not seen as yet, moved with godly fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; through which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is according to 8 faith. By faith Abraham, when he was called, obeyed to go out unto a place which he was to receive for an inheritance; and he went out,
9 not knowing whither he went. By faith he became a sojourner in the land of promise, as in a land not his own, [11]dwelling in tents, with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the 10 same promise: for he looked for the city which hath the foundations, whose [12]builder and maker
11 is God. By faith even Sarah herself received power to conceive seed when she was past age, since she counted him faithful who had promised:

33 Who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of Lions,

34 Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens.

35 Women received their dead raised to life again: and others were [a]tortured, not accepting deliverance, that they might obtain a better resurrection.

36 And others had trial of cruel mockings and scourgings, yea moreover, of bonds and imprisonment.

37 They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword: they wandered about in sheepskins, and goatskins, being destitute, afflicted, tormented.

38 Of whom the world was not worthy: they wandered in deserts, and in mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth.

39 And these all having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promise:

40 God having ‖provided some better thing for us, that they without us should not be made perfect.

CHAP. XII.

WHEREFORE, seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience unto the race that is set before us,

2 Looking unto Jesus the ‖Author and finisher of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him, endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

3 For consider him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, lest ye be wearied and faint in your minds.

4 Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin.

5 And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him.

6 For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons: for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not?

8 But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.

9 Furthermore, we have had fathers of our flesh, which corrected us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of Spirits, and live?

10 For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure, but he for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness.

11 Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless, afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness, unto them which are exercised thereby.

33 who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the 19 And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words, which voice they that heard, intreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more.

20 For they could not endure that which was commanded: And if so much as a beast touch the Mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart.

21 And so terrible was the sight, that Moses said, I exceedingly fear, and quake.

22 But ye are come unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of Angels:

23 To the general assembly, and Church of the firstborn which are ‖written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect:

24 And to Jesus the mediator of the new ‖Covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel.

9 to-day, yea and [3]for ever. Be not carried away by divers and strange teachings: for it is good that the heart be stablished by grace; not by meats, wherein they that [4]occupied themselves
10 were not profited. We have an altar, whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tab-
11 ernacle. For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the holy place [5]by the high priest as an offering for sin, are burned
12 without the camp. Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people through his own
13 blood, suffered without the gate. Let us therefore go forth unto him without the camp, bear-14 ing his reproach. For we have not here an abiding city, but we seek after the city which is 15 to come. Through him [6]then let us offer up a sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of lips which make confession to his 16 name. But to do good and to communicate forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well
17 pleased. Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit to them: for they watch in behalf of your souls, as they that shall give account; that they may do this with joy, and not with [7]grief: for this were unprofitable for you.

18 Pray for us: for we are persuaded that we have a good conscience, desiring to live honestly in 19 all things. And I exhort you the more exceedingly to do this, that I may be restored to you the sooner.

20 Now the God of peace, who brought again from the dead the great shepherd of the sheep [8]with the blood of the eternal covenant, even 21 our Lord Jesus, make you perfect in every good [9]thing to do his will, working in [10]us that which is well-pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be the glory [11]for ever and ever. Amen.

22 But I exhort you, brethren, bear with the word of exhortation: for I have written unto 23 you in few words. Know ye that our brother Timothy hath been set at liberty; with whom, if he come shortly, I will see you.

24 Salute all them that have the rule over you, and all the saints. They of Italy salute you.

25 Grace be with you all. Amen.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF

JAMES.

CHAP. I.

JAMES a servant of God, and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve Tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting.

2 My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations,

3 Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience,

4 But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect, and entire, wanting nothing.

5 If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not: and it shall be given him.

6 But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering: for he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea, driven with the wind, and tossed.

7 For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.

8 A double minded man is unstable in all his ways.

9 Let the brother of low degree ‖rejoice in that he is exalted:

10 But the rich, in that he is made low: because as the flower of the grass he shall pass away.

11 For the Sun is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grass; and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways.

12 Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.

13 Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with ‖evil, neither tempteth he any man.

14 But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.

15 Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

16 Do not err, my beloved brethren.

17 Every good gift, and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.

18 Of his own will begat he us, with the word of Truth, that we should be a kind of firstfruits of his creatures.

19 Wherefore my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath.

20 For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.

1 JAMES, a [1]servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are of the Dispersion, [2]greeting.

2 Count it all joy, my brethren, when ye fall
3 into manifold [3]temptations; knowing that the 4 proof of your faith worketh patience. And let patience have its perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, lacking in nothing.

5 But if any of you lacketh wisdom, let him ask of God, who giveth to all liberally and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him.
6 But let him ask in faith, nothing doubting: for he that doubteth is like the surge of the sea
7 driven by the wind and tossed. For let not that man think [4]that he shall receive anything
8 of the Lord; a doubleminded man, unstable in all his ways.

9 But let the brother of low degree glory in his 10 high estate: and the rich, in that he is made low: because as the flower of the grass he shall 11 pass away. For the sun ariseth with the scorching wind, and withereth the grass; and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his goings.

12 Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he hath been approved, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord promised
13 to them that love him. Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted [5]of God: for God [6]cannot be tempted with [7]evil, and he himself 14 tempteth no man: but each man is [8]tempted, when he is drawn away by his own lust, and 15 enticed. Then the lust, when it hath conceived, beareth sin: and the sin, when it is fullgrown, 16 bringeth forth death. Be not deceived, my
17 beloved brethren. Every good [9]gift and every perfect boon is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom can be no variation, neither shadow that is cast by turn-
18 ing. Of his own will he brought us forth by the word of truth, that we should be a kind of firstfruits of his creatures.

19 [10]Ye know this, my beloved brethren. But let every man be swift to hear, slow to 20 speak, slow to wrath: for the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.

21 Wherefore lay apart all filthiness, and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls.

22 But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves.

23 For if any be a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass:

24 For he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was.

25 But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his ‖deed.

‖ Or, doing.

26 If any man among you seem to be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain.

27 Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

CHAP. II.

MY brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ the Lord of glory, with respect of persons.

2 For if there come unto your †assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poor man, in vile raiment:

† Gr. Synagogue.

3 And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here ‖in a good place: and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool:

‖ Or, well, or seemly.

4 Are ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts?

5 Hearken, my beloved brethren, Hath not God chosen the poor of this world, rich in faith, and heirs of ‖the kingdom which he hath promised to them that love him?

‖ Or, that.

6 But ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, and draw you before the Judgment seats?

7 Do not they blaspheme that worthy Name by the which ye are called?

8 If ye fulfil the royal law, according to the Scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well.

‖ Or, that law which said.
‖ Or, glorieth.

9 But if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law, as transgressors.

10 For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all.

11 For ‖he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law.

12 So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the law of liberty.

13 For he shall have judgment without mercy, that hath shewed no mercy, and mercy ‖rejoiceth against judgment.

14 What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man

21 Wherefore putting away all filthiness and overflowing of [1] wickedness, receive with meekness the [2] implanted word, which is able to save your souls.

22 But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers

23 only, deluding your own selves. For if any one is a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding [3] his natural face

24 in a mirror: for he beholdeth himself, and goeth away, and straightway forgetteth what man-

25 ner of man he was. But he that looketh into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and so continueth, being not a hearer that forgetteth, but a doer that worketh, this man shall be blessed

26 in his doing. If any man [4] thinketh himself to be religious, while he bridleth not his tongue but deceiveth his heart, this man's religion is 27 vain. Pure religion and undefiled before our God and Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

2 My brethren, [5] hold not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect of

2 persons. For if there come into your [6] synagogue a man with a gold ring, in fine clothing, and there come in also a poor man in vile cloth-

3 ing; and ye have regard to him that weareth the fine clothing, and say, Sit thou here in a good place; and ye say to the poor man, Stand

4 thou there, or sit under my footstool; [7] are ye not divided [8] in your own mind, and become

5 judges with evil thoughts? Hearken, my beloved brethren; did not God choose them that are poor as to the world to be rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he promised to them

6 that love him? But ye have dishonoured the poor man. Do not the rich oppress you, and themselves drag you before the judgement-seats?

7 Do not they blaspheme the honourable name

8 [9] by the which ye are called? Howbeit if ye fulfil the royal law, according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye

9 do well: but if ye have respect of persons, ye commit sin, being convicted by the law as trans-

10 gressors. For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet stumble in one point, he is become

11 guilty of all. For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou dost not commit adultery, but killest, thou art

12 become a transgressor of the law. So speak ye, and so do, as men that are to be judged by a law

13 of liberty. For judgement is without mercy to him that hath shewed no mercy: mercy glorieth against judgement.

14 What doth it profit, my brethren, if a man

15 If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food,

16 And one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be you warmed and filled: notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body: what doth it profit?

17 Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead being †alone.

18 Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith ‖without thy works, and I will shew thee my faith by my works.

19 Thou believest that there is one God, thou doest well: the devils also believe, and tremble.

20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead?

21 Was not Abraham our father justified by works, when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar?

22 ‖Seest thou how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect?

23 And the Scripture was fulfilled which saith, [a]Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called the friend of God.

24 Ye see then, how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.

25 Likewise also, was not Rahab the harlot justified by works, when she had received the messengers, and had sent them out another way?

26 For as the body without the ‖spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also.

CHAP. III.

MY brethren, be not many masters, knowing that we shall receive the greater ‖condemnation.

2 For in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.

3 Behold, we put bits in the horses' mouths, that they may obey us, and we turn about their whole body.

4 Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth.

5 Even so the tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things: behold, how great ‖a matter a little fire kindleth.

6 And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue amongst our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature, and it is set on fire of hell.

7 For every †kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed of †mankind.

8 But the tongue can no man tame, it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison.

9 Therewith bless we God, even the Father: and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.

17 Even so faith, if it have not works, is dead in 18 itself. [1]Yea, a man will say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith apart from thy works, and I by my works will shew
19 thee my faith. Thou believest that [2]God is one; thou doest well: the [3]devils also believe,
20 and shudder. But wilt thou know, O vain man,
21 that faith apart from works is barren? Was not Abraham our father justified by works, in that he offered up Isaac his son upon the altar?
22 [4]Thou seest the faith wrought with his works,
23 and by works was faith made perfect; and the scripture was fulfilled which saith, And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness; and he was called the 24 friend of God. Ye see that by works a man is 25 justified, and not only by faith. And in like manner was not also Rahab the harlot justified by works, in that she received the messengers, 26 and sent them out another way? For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, even so faith apart from works is dead.

3 Be not many teachers, my brethren, knowing that we shall receive [5]heavier judgement.

4 whole body also. Behold, the ships also, though they are so great, and are driven by rough winds, are yet turned about by a very small rudder, whither the impulse of the steers-
5 man willeth. So the tongue also is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, [6]how much wood is kindled by how small a 6 fire! And the tongue is [7]a fire: [8]the world of iniquity among our members is the tongue, which defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the wheel of [9]nature, and is set on fire by 7 hell. For every [10]kind of beasts and birds, of creeping things and things in the sea, is tamed, 8 and hath been tamed [11]by [12]mankind: but the tongue can no man tame; it is a restless evil, it and cursing: my brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doth a fountain send forth at the same ‖place sweet water and bitter?

12 Can the fig tree, my brethren, bear olive berries? either a vine, figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh.

13 Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge amongst you? let him shew out of a good conversation his works with meekness of wisdom.

14 But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth.

15 This wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, ‖sensual, devilish.

16 For where envying and strife is, there is †confusion, and every evil work.

17 But the wisdom that is from above, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be intreated, full of mercy, and good fruits, ‖without partiality, and without hypocrisy.

18 And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace, of them that make peace.

CHAP. IV.

FROM whence come wars and ‖fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your ‖lusts, that war in your members?

2 Ye lust, and have not: ye kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not.

3 Ye ask and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your ‖lusts.

4 Ye adulterers, and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world, is the enemy of God.

5 Do ye think that the Scripture saith in vain, the spirit that dwelleth in us lusteth ‖to envy?

6 But he giveth more grace, wherefore he saith, [a]God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble.

7 Submit yourselves therefore to God: resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

8 Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you: cleanse your hands ye sinners, and purify your hearts ye double minded.

9 Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness.

10 Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.

11 Speak not evil one of another (brethren:) he that speaketh evil of his brother, and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.

12 There is one lawgiver, who is able to save, and to destroy: who art thou that judgest another?

13 Who is wise and understanding among you? let him shew by his good life his works in meekness 14 of wisdom. But if ye have bitter jealousy and faction in your heart, glory not and lie not against 15 the truth. This wisdom is not a wisdom that cometh down from above, but is earthly, [1]sen-
16 sual, [2]devilish. For where jealousy and faction 17 are, there is confusion and every vile deed. But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, easy to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without [3]variance, with-is sown in peace [4]for them that make peace.

4 Whence come wars and whence come fightings among you? come they not hence, even of 2 your pleasures that war in your members? Ye lust, and have not: ye kill, and [5]covet, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war; ye have not, 3 because ye ask not. Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may spend it in 4 your pleasures. Ye adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? Whosoever therefore would be a friend of the world maketh himself an enemy of God.
5 Or think ye that the scripture [6]speaketh in vain?
[7]Doth the spirit which [8]he made to dwell in us
6 long unto envying? But he giveth [9]more grace.
Wherefore the scripture saith, God resisteth the 7 proud, but giveth grace to the humble. Be subject therefore unto God; but resist the devil, 8 and he will flee from you. Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye 9 doubleminded. Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, 10 and your joy to heaviness. Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall exalt you.

11 Speak not one against another, brethren. He that speaketh against a brother, or judgeth his brother, speaketh against the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judgest the law, thou art 12 not a doer of the law, but a judge. One only is the lawgiver and judge, even he who is able to save and to destroy: but who art thou that judgest thy neighbour?

we will go into such a city and continue there a year, and buy, and sell, and get gain:

14 Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow: for what is your life? ‖It is even a vapour that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.

15 For that ye ought to say, if the Lord will, we shall live, and do this, or that.

16 But now ye rejoice in your boastings: all such rejoicing is evil.

17 Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

CHAP. V.

GO to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.

2 Your riches are corrupted, and your garments motheaten:

3 Your gold and silver is cankered, and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire: ye have heaped treasure together for the last days.

4 Behold, the hire of the labourers which have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth: and the cries of them which have reaped, are entered into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth.

5 Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton: ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter:

6 Ye have condemned, and killed the just, and he doth not resist you.

7 ‖Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord: behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until he receive the early and latter rain.

8 Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

9 ‖Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the Judge standeth before the door.

10 Take, my brethren, the Prophets, who have spoken in the Name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction, and of patience.

11 Behold, we count them happy which endure. Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord: that the Lord is very pitiful and of tender mercy.

12 But above all things, my brethren, swear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your yea, be yea, and your nay, nay: lest ye fall into condemnation.

13 Is any among you afflicted? let him pray. Is any merry? let him sing Psalms.

14 Is any sick among you? let him call for the Elders of the Church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the Name of the Lord:

15 And the prayer of Faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up: and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him.

5 Go to now, ye rich, weep and howl for your
2 miseries that are coming upon you. Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are moth-
3 eaten. Your gold and your silver are rusted; and their rust shall be for a testimony [2]against you, and shall eat your flesh as fire. Ye have 4 laid up your treasure in the last days. Behold, the hire of the labourers who mowed your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth out: and the cries of them that reaped have entered
5 into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth. Ye have lived delicately on the earth, and taken your pleasure; ye have nourished your hearts in a 6 day of slaughter. Ye have condemned, ye have killed the righteous one; he doth not resist you.
7 Be patient therefore, brethren, until the [3]coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, being patient over it, until [4]it receive the early
8 and latter rain. Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: for the [3]coming of the Lord is at 9 hand. Murmur not, brethren, one against another, that ye be not judged: behold, the judge
10 standeth before the doors. Take, brethren, for an example of suffering and of patience, the prophets who spake in the name of the Lord.
11 Behold, we call them blessed which endured: ye have heard of the [5]patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord, how that the Lord is full of pity, and merciful.
12 But above all things, my brethren, swear not, neither by the heaven, nor by the earth, nor by any other oath: but [6]let your yea be yea, and your nay, nay; that ye fall not under judgement.
13 Is any among you suffering? let him pray.
14 Is any cheerful? let him sing praise. Is any among you sick? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, [7]anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord:
15 and the prayer of faith shall save him that is sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have 16 committed sins, it shall be forgiven him. Confess therefore your sins one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The sup-ual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

17 Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed ‖earnestly that it might not rain: and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six months.

18 And he prayed again, and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

19 Brethren, if any of you do err from the truth, and one convert him,

20 Let him know, that he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way, shall save a soul from death, and shall hide a multitude of sins.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF PETER.

CHAP. I.

PETER an Apostle of Jesus Christ, to the strangers scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia,

2 Elect, according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit unto obedience, and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace unto you and peace be multiplied.

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his †abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope, by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead,

4 To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven ‖for you,

5 Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation, ready to be revealed in the last time.

6 Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a season (if need be) ye are in heaviness through manifold temptations:

7 That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise, and honour, and glory, at the appearing of Jesus Christ:

8 Whom having not seen, ye love, in whom though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable, and full of glory,

9 Receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls:

10 Of which salvation the Prophets have inquired, and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you,

11 Searching what, or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow.

1 PETER, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the elect who are sojourners of the Dispersion in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia,
2 according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, in sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace be multiplied.

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who according to his great mercy begat us again unto a living hope by the resur-
4 rection of Jesus Christ from the dead, unto an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for 5 you, who by the power of God are guarded through faith unto a salvation ready to be 6 revealed in the last time. Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a little while, if need be, ye have been put to grief in manifold [1]temp-
7 tations, that the proof of your faith, being more precious than gold that perisheth though it is proved by fire, might be found unto praise and glory and honour at the revelation of Jesus
8 Christ: whom not having seen ye love; on whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice greatly with joy unspeakable
9 and [2]full of glory: receiving the end of your
10 faith, even the salvation of your souls. Concerning which salvation the prophets sought and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace
11 that should come unto you: searching what time or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did point unto, when it testified beforehand the sufferings [3]of Christ, and the glories that should follow them.

12 Unto whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto us, they did minister the things which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the Gospel unto you, with the holy Ghost sent down from heaven, which things the Angels desire to look into.

13 Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and hope †to the end, for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ:

14 As obedient children, not fashioning yourselves according to the former lusts, in your ignorance:

15 But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation;

16 Because it is written, "Be ye holy, for I am holy.

17 And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear:

18 Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers;

19 But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a Lamb without blemish and without spot,

20 Who verily was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you:

21 Who by him do believe in God that raised him up from the dead, and gave him glory, that your faith and hope might be in God.

22 Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth to the Spirit, unto unfeigned love of the brethren: see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently, 23 Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God which liveth and abideth for ever.

24 ‖For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass: the grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away.

25 But the word of the Lord endureth for ever: and this is the word which by the Gospel is preached unto you.

CHAP. II.

WHEREFORE laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and evil speakings,

2 As newborn babes desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby,

3 If so be ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious.

4 To whom coming as unto a living Stone, disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious,

5 Ye also as lively stones, ‖are built up a spiritual house, an holy Priesthood to offer up spiritual sacrifice, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

6 Wherefore it is contained in the Scripture, "Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner stone, elect, precious, and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded.

12 To whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto you, did they minister these things, which now have been announced unto you through them that preached the gospel unto you [1]by the [2]Holy Ghost sent forth from heaven; which things angels desire to look into.

13 Wherefore girding up the loins of your mind, be sober and set your hope perfectly on the grace that [3]is to be brought unto you at the 14 revelation of Jesus Christ; as children of obedience, not fashioning yourselves according to your former lusts in the time of your ignorance: but [4]like as he which called you is holy,
15 be ye yourselves also holy in all manner of 16 living; because it is written, Ye shall be holy;

22 hope might be in God. Seeing ye have purified your souls in your obedience to the truth unto unfeigned love of the brethren, love one another
23 [5]from the heart fervently: having been begotten again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, through the word of [6]God, which liveth

All flesh is as grass,
And all the glory thereof as the flower of grass.
The grass withereth, and the flower falleth:
25 But the [7]word of the Lord abideth for ever.

And this is the [7]word of good tidings which was preached unto you.

2 Putting away therefore all [8]wickedness, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all
2 evil speakings, as newborn babes, long for the [9]spiritual milk which is without guile, that ye
3 may grow thereby unto salvation; if ye have

LIKEWISE, ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands, that if any obey not the word, they also may without the word be won by the conversation of the wives:

2 While they behold your chaste conversation coupled with fear:

3 Whose adorning, let it not be that outward adorning, of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel.

4 But let it be the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.

5 For after this manner in the old time, the holy women also who trusted in God adorned themselves, being in subjection unto their own husbands.

6 Even as Sara obeyed Abraham, calling him Lord, whose †daughters ye are as long as ye do well, and are not afraid with any amazement.

7 Likewise ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life, that your prayers be not hindered.

16 Having a good conscience, that whereas they speak evil of you, as of evildoers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ.

17 For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well doing, than for evil doing.

18 For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit.

9 minded: not rendering evil for evil, or reviling for reviling; but contrariwise blessing; for hereunto were ye called, that ye should inherit 10 a blessing. For,

He that would love life,
And see good days,
Let him refrain his tongue from evil,
And his lips that they speak no guile:
11 And let him turn away from evil, and do good;
Let him seek peace, and pursue it.
12 For the eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous,
And his ears unto their supplication:
But the face of the Lord is upon them that do evil.

13 And who is he that will harm you, if ye be 14 zealous of that which is good? But and if ye should suffer for righteousness' sake, blessed are ye: and fear not their fear, neither be troubled;
15 but sanctify in your hearts Christ as Lord: being ready always to give answer to every man that asketh you a reason concerning the hope that is in you, yet with meekness and fear:
16 having a good conscience; that, wherein ye are spoken against, they may be put to shame who
17 revile your good manner of life in Christ. For it is better, if the will of God should so will, that ye suffer for well-doing than for evil-doing.
18 Because Christ also [6]suffered for sins once, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring us to God; being put to death in the 19 flesh, but quickened in the spirit; in which also he went and preached unto the spirits in 20 prison, which aforetime were disobedient, when the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the Ark was a preparing: wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water.

21 The like figure whereunto, even Baptism, doth also now save us, (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

22 Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God, Angels, and authorities, and powers being made subject unto him.

CHAP. IV.

FORASMUCH then as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind: for he that hath suffered in the flesh, hath ceased from sin:

2 That he no longer should live the rest of his time in the flesh, to the lusts of men, but to the will of God.

3 For the time past of our life may suffice us to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in lasciviousness, lusts, excess of wine, revellings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries.

4 Wherein they think it strange, that you run not with them to the same excess of riot, speaking evil of you:

5 Who shall give account to him that is ready to judge the quick and the dead.

6 For, for this cause was the Gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

7 But the end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore sober and watch unto prayer.

8 And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for charity ‖shall cover the multitude of sins.

9 Use hospitality one to another without grudging.

10 As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God.

11 If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God: if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth, that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you.

13 But rejoice inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy.

14 If ye be reproached for the Name of Christ, happy are ye, for the spirit of glory, and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified.

15 But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evildoer, or as a busybody in other men's matters.

16 Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God on this behalf.

22 the resurrection of Jesus Christ; who is on the right hand of God, having gone into heaven; angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

4 Forasmuch then as Christ suffered in the flesh, arm ye yourselves also with the same [4]mind; for he that hath suffered in the flesh

THE Elders which are among you I exhort, who am also an Elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed.

2 Feed the flock of God ‖which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly: not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind:

3 Neither as ‖being lords over God's heritage: but being ensamples to the flock.

4 And when the chief shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away.

5 Likewise ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder: yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble.

6 Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time,

7 Casting all your care upon him, for he careth for you.

8 Be sober, be vigilant: because your adversary the devil, as a roaring Lion walketh about, seeking whom he may devour.

9 Whom resist stedfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world.

10 But the God of all grace who hath called us into his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you.

11 To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 By Silvanus a faithful brother unto you, (as I suppose) I have written briefly, exhorting, and testifying, that this is the true grace of God wherein ye stand.

CHAP. I.

SIMON PETER, a servant and an Apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained like precious Faith with us, through the righteousness of God, and our Saviour Jesus Christ.

2 Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord,

3 According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us ‖to glory and virtue.

4 Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises, that by these you might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.

5 And besides this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue, knowledge;

6 And to knowledge, temperance; and to temperance, patience; and to patience, godliness;

7 And to godliness, brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness, charity.

8 For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren, nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 But he that lacketh these things, is blind, and cannot see far off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins.

10 Wherefore, the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall.

11 For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

12 Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and be stablished in the present truth.

13 Yea, I think it meet, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up, by putting you in remembrance:

14 Knowing that shortly I must put off this my Tabernacle, even as [a]our Lord Jesus Christ hath shewed me.

15 Moreover, I will endeavour, that you may be able after my decease to have these things always in remembrance.

16 For we have not followed cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were eyewitnesses of his Majesty.

17 For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him

1 [1]SIMON PETER, a [2]servant and apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained [3]a like precious faith with us in the righteousness of 2 [4]our God and Saviour Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace be multiplied in the knowledge 3 of God and of Jesus our Lord; seeing that his divine power hath granted unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that called us [5]by his 4 own glory and virtue; whereby he hath granted unto us his precious and exceeding great promises; that through these ye may become partakers of [6]the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world by lust.
5 Yea, and for this very cause adding on your part all diligence, in your faith supply virtue; 6 and in your virtue knowledge; and in your knowledge [7]temperance; and in your [7]temperance patience; and in your patience godliness; 7 and in your godliness love of the brethren; and 8 in your love of the brethren love. For if these things are yours and abound, they make you to be not idle nor unfruitful unto the knowledge 9 of our Lord Jesus Christ. For he that lacketh these things is blind, [8]seeing only what is near, having forgotten the cleansing from his old sins.
10 Wherefore, brethren, give the more diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if 11 ye do these things, ye shall never stumble: for thus shall be richly supplied unto you the entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.
12 Wherefore I shall be ready always to put you in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and are established in the truth which is 13 with you. And I think it right, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by putting 14 you in remembrance; knowing that the putting off of my tabernacle cometh swiftly, even as our 15 Lord Jesus Christ signified unto me. Yea, I will give diligence that at every time ye may be able after my [9]decease to call these things to 16 remembrance. For we did not follow cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and [10]coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, 17 but we were eyewitnesses of his majesty. For he [11]received from God the Father honour and glory, when there [12]came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased.

18 And this voice which came from heaven we heard, when we were with him in the holy mount.

19 We have also a more sure word of prophecy, whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day star arise in your hearts:

20 Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the Scripture is of any private Interpretation:

21 For the prophecy came not ‖in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the holy Ghost.

CHAP. II.

BUT there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction.

2 And many shall follow their ‖pernicious ways, by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of:

3 And through covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you, whose judgment now of a long time lingereth not, and their damnation slumbereth not.

4 For if God spared not the Angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment:

5 And spared not the old world, but saved Noah the eighth person a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly:

6 And turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrha into ashes, condemned them with an overthrow, making them an ensample unto those that after should live ungodly:

7 And delivered just Lot, vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked:

8 (For that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds.)

9 The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished:

10 But chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise ‖government. [a]Presumptuous are they, selfwilled: they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities:

11 Whereas Angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation ‖against them before the Lord.

12 But these, as natural brute beasts made to be taken and destroyed speak evil of the things that they understand not, and shall utterly perish in their own corruption,

13 And shall receive the reward of unrighteousness, as they that count it pleasure to riot in the day time: Spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings, while they feast with you:

from the excellent glory, This is my beloved 18 Son, in whom I am well pleased: and this voice we ourselves heard [1]come out of heaven, when 19 we were with him in the holy mount. And we have the word of prophecy made more sure; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a lamp shining in a [2]dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-star arise in your hearts:
20 knowing this first, that no prophecy of scripture
21 is of [3]private interpretation. For no prophecy ever [4]came by the will of man: but men spake from God, being moved by the [5]Holy Ghost.

2 But there arose false prophets also among the people, as among you also there shall be false teachers, who shall privily bring in [6]destructive heresies, denying even the Master that bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruc-
2 tion. And many shall follow their lascivious doings; by reason of whom the way of the 3 truth shall be evil spoken of. And in covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you: whose sentence now from of old lingereth not, and their destruction slum-
4 bereth not. For if God spared not angels when they sinned, but [7]cast them down to [8]hell, and committed them to [9]pits of darkness, to be re-
5 served unto judgement; and spared not the ancient world, but preserved Noah with seven others, [10]a preacher of righteousness, when he brought a flood upon the world of the ungodly;
6 and turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes condemned them with an overthrow, having made them an example unto those that
7 should live ungodly; and delivered righteous Lot, sore distressed by the lascivious life of the 8 wicked (for that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, [11]vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their lawless
9 deeds): the Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, and to keep the unrighteous under punishment unto the day of 10 judgement; but chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of defilement, and despise dominion. Daring, selfwilled, they tremble not
11 to rail at [12]dignities: whereas angels, though greater in might and power, bring not a railing
12 judgement against them before the Lord. But these, as creatures without reason, born [13]mere animals [14]to be taken and destroyed, railing in matters whereof they are ignorant, shall in their [15]de-
13 stroying surely be destroyed, suffering wrong as the hire of wrongdoing; men that count it pleasure to revel in the day-time, spots and blemishes, revelling in their [16]love-feasts while they feast with 14 you; having eyes full of [17]adultery, and that cannot cease from sin, beguiling unstable souls: an heart they have exercised with covetous practices: cursed children:

15 Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness,

16 But was rebuked for his iniquity: the dumb ass speaking with man's voice forbade the madness of the Prophet.

17 These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest, to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.

18 For when they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those that were ‖ clean escaped from them who live in error.

19 While they promise them liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption: for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.

20 For if after they have escaped the pollutions of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein, and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning.

21 For it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them.

22 But it is happened unto them according to the true proverb: The dog is turned to his own vomit again, and the sow that was washed to her wallowing in the mire.

CHAP. III.

THIS second Epistle (beloved) I now write unto you, in both which I stir up your pure minds by way of remembrance:

2 That ye may be mindful of the words which were spoken before by the holy Prophets, and of the Commandment of us the Apostles of the Lord and Saviour:

3 Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, walking after their own lusts,

4 And saying, Where is the promise of his coming? For since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.

5 For this they willingly are ignorant of, that by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth †standing out of the water, and in the water,

6 Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished.

7 But the heavens and the earth which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of Judgment, and perdition of ungodly men.

8 But (beloved) be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.

9 The Lord is not slack concerning his promise (as some men count slackness) but is longsuffering not cease from sin; enticing unstedfast souls; having a heart exercised in covetousness;

15 children of cursing; forsaking the right way, they went astray, having followed the way of Balaam the son of [1]Beor, who loved the 16 hire of wrong-doing; but he was rebuked for his own transgression: a dumb ass spake with man's voice and stayed the madness of the 17 prophet. These are springs without water, and mists driven by a storm; for whom the black-
18 ness of darkness hath been reserved. For, uttering great swelling words of vanity, they entice in the lusts of the flesh, by lasciviousness, those who are just escaping from them that live
19 in error; promising them liberty, while they themselves are bondservants of corruption; for of [2]whom a man is overcome, of the same is he 20 also brought into bondage. For if, after they have escaped the defilements of the world through the knowledge of [3]the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein and overcome, the last state is become 21 worse with them than the first. For it were better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after knowing it, to turn back from the holy commandment delivered
22 unto them. It has happened unto them according to the true proverb, The dog turning to his own vomit again, and the sow that had washed to wallowing in the mire.

3 This is now, beloved, the second epistle that I write unto you; and in both of them I stir up your sincere mind by putting you in re-
2 membrance; that ye should remember the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and the commandment of the Lord
3 and Saviour through your apostles: knowing this first, that [4]in the last days mockers shall come with mockery, walking after their own
4 lusts, and saying, Where is the promise of his [5]coming? for, from the day that the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were
5 from the beginning of the creation. For this they wilfully forget, that there were heavens from of old, and an earth compacted out of water and [6]amidst water, by the word of God;
6 by which means the world that then was, be-
7 ing overflowed with water, perished: but the heavens that now are, and the earth, by the same word have been [7]stored up for fire, being reserved against the day of judgement and destruction of ungodly men.

8 But forget not this one thing, beloved, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand
9 years, and a thousand years as one day. The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some count slackness; but is longsuffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.

10 But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night, in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the Elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burnt up.

11 Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, What manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation, and godliness,

12 Looking for and ‖hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the Elements shall melt with fervent heat?

13 Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens, and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

14 Wherefore (beloved) seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless.

15 And account that the longsuffering of the Lord is salvation, even as our beloved brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given unto him, hath written unto you.

16 As also in all his Epistles, speaking in them of these things, in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other Scriptures, unto their own destruction.

17 Ye therefore, beloved, seeing ye know these things before, beware lest ye also being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own stedfastness.

18 But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ: to him be glory both now and for ever. Amen.

CHAP. I.

THAT which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled of the word of life.

2 (For the life was manifested, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and shew unto you that eternal life which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us.)

3 That which we have seen and heard, declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us; and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.

4 And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full.

1 THAT which was from the beginning, that which we have heard, that which we have seen with our eyes, that which we beheld, and our hands handled, concerning the [1]Word of life
2 (and the life was manifested, and we have seen, and bear witness, and declare unto you the life, the eternal life, which was with the Father, and
3 was manifested unto us); that which we have seen and heard declare we unto you also, that ye also may have fellowship with us: yea, and our fellowship is with the Father, and with his 4 Son Jesus Christ: and these things we write, that [2]our joy may be fulfilled.

5 This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.
6 If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth.
7 But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.
8 If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.
9 If we confess our sins, he is faithful, and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.
10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

CHAP. II.

MY little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous:
2 And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world.
3 And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments.
4 He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.
5 But whoso keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we that we are in him.
6 He that saith he abideth in him, ought himself also so to walk, even as he walked.
7 Brethren, I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment which ye had from the beginning: the old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning.
8 Again, a new commandment I write unto you, which thing is true in him and in you: because the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth.
9 He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness even until now.
10 He that loveth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is none †occasion of stumbling in him.
11 But he that hateth his brother, is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes.
12 I write unto you, little children, because your sins are forgiven you for his Name's sake.
13 I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because you have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known the Father.
14 I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

5 in him: but whoso keepeth his word, in him verily hath the love of God been perfected.
6 Hereby know we that we are in him: he that saith he abideth in him ought himself also to walk even as he walked.
7 Beloved, no new commandment write I unto you, but an old commandment which ye had from the beginning: the old commandment is 8 the word which ye heard. Again, a new commandment write I unto you, which thing is true in him and in you; because the darkness is passing away, and the true light already 9 shineth. He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in the darkness even until 10 now. He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of stumbling 11 in him. But he that hateth his brother is in the darkness, and walketh in the darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because the darkness hath blinded his eyes.
12 I write unto you, my little children, because your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake.
13 I write unto you, fathers, because ye know him which is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the evil one. [2]I have written unto you, little children, because 14 ye know the Father. [2]I have written unto you, fathers, because ye know him which is from the beginning. [2]I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the evil one.

15 Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17 And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof, but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

18 Little children, it is the last time: and as ye have heard that Antichrist shall come, even now are there many Antichrists, whereby we know that it is the last time.

19 They went out from us, but they were not of us: for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out that they might be made manifest, that they were not all of us.

20 But ye have an unction from the holy One, and ye know all things.

21 I have not written unto you, because ye know not the truth: but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

22 Who is a liar, but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? he is Antichrist, that denieth the Father, and the Son.

23 Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: but he that acknowledgeth the Son, hath the Father also.

24 Let that therefore abide in you which ye have heard from the beginning: if that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father.

25 And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life.

26 These things have I written unto you, concerning them that seduce you.

27 But the anointing which ye have received of him, abideth in you: and ye need not that any man teach you: But, as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie: and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in ‖him.

28 And now, little children, abide in him, that when he shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

29 If ye know that he is righteous, ‖ye know that every one which doeth righteousness is born of him.

CHAP. III.

BEHOLD, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God: therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not.

2 Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear, what we shall be: but we know, that when he shall appear, we shall be like him: for we shall see him as he is.

3 And every man that hath this hope in him, purifieth himself, even as he is pure.

15 Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world,
16 the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the vainglory of life, is not of the Father, but is of the 17 world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

18 Little children, it is the last hour: and as ye heard that antichrist cometh, even now have there arisen many antichrists; whereby we know
19 that it is the last hour. They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would have continued with us: but they went out, that they might be made
20 manifest [1]how that they all are not of us. And ye have an anointing from the Holy One, [2]and 21 ye know all things. I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and [3]because no lie is of the truth.
22 Who is the liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, even he 23 that denieth the Father and the Son. Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: he that confesseth the Son hath the 24 Father also. As for you, let that abide in you which ye heard from the beginning. If that which ye heard from the beginning abide in you, ye also shall abide in the Son, and in the 25 Father. And this is the promise which he 26 promised [4]us, even the life eternal. These things have I written unto you concerning them that 27 would lead you astray. And as for you, the anointing which ye received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any one teach you; but as his anointing teacheth you concerning all things, [5]and is true, and is no lie, and even as
28 it taught you, [6]ye abide in him. And now, my little children, abide in him; that, if he shall be manifested, we may have boldness, and not
29 be ashamed [7]before him at his [8]coming. If ye know that he is righteous, [9]ye know that every one also that doeth righteousness is begotten of him.

3 Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called children of God: and such we are. For this cause the world knoweth us not, because it knew him
2 not. Beloved, now are we children of God, and it is not yet made manifest what we shall be. We know that, if [10]he shall be manifested, we shall be like him; for we shall see him even as 3 he is. And every one that hath this hope set on him purifieth himself, even as he is pure.

4 Whosoever committeth sin, transgresseth also the law: for sin is the transgression of the law.
5 And ye know that he was manifested to take away our sins, and in him is no sin.
6 Whosoever abideth in him, sinneth not: whosoever sinneth, hath not seen him, neither known him.
7 Little children, let no man deceive you: he that doeth righteousness, is righteous, even as he is righteous.
8 He that committeth sin, is of the devil, for the devil sinneth from the beginning: for this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil.
9 Whosoever is born of God, doth not commit sin: for his seed remaineth in him, and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.
10 In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whosoever doeth not righteousness, is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.
11 For this is the ‖message that ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another.
12 Not as Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother: and wherefore slew he him? because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous.
13 Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you.
14 We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren: he that loveth not his brother, abideth in death.
15 Whosoever hateth his brother, is a murderer, and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.
16 Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.
17 But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother hath need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him; how dwelleth the love of God in him?
18 My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed and in truth.
19 And hereby we know that we are of the truth, and shall †assure our hearts before him.
20 For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.
21 Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, then have we confidence towards God.
22 And whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandment, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight.
23 And this is his commandment, that we should believe on the Name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment.
24 And he that keepeth his commandments dwelleth in him, and he in him: and hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the spirit which he hath given us.

4 Every one that doeth sin doeth also lawless-

7 him, neither [2]knoweth him. My little children, let no man lead you astray: he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he 8 is righteous: he that doeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. To this end was the Son of God manifested, that he might destroy the works of the 9 devil. Whosoever is begotten of God doeth no sin, because his seed abideth in him: and he
10 cannot sin, because he is begotten of God. In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither he that 15 He that loveth not abideth in death. Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abid-

19 deed and truth. Hereby shall we know that we are of the truth, and shall [3]assure our heart

23 things that are pleasing in his sight. And this is his commandment, that we should [4]believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, even as he gave us commandment.

2 Hereby know ye the spirit of God: every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is of God.

3 And every Spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God: and this is that spirit of Antichrist, whereof you have heard, that it should come, and even now already is it in the world.

4 Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.

5 They are of the world: therefore speak they of the world, and the world heareth them.

6 We are of God: he that knoweth God heareth us: he that is not of God heareth not us, hereby know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

7 Beloved, let us love one another; for love is of God: and every one that loveth, is born of God and knoweth God.

8 He that loveth not, knoweth not God: for God is love.

9 In this was manifested the love of God towards us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.

10 Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.

11 Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

12 No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us.

13 Hereby know we that we dwell in him and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.

14 And we have seen, and do testify, that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.

15 Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.

16 And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love, and he that dwelleth in love, dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17 Herein is †our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of Judgment, because as he is, so are we in this world.

18 There is no fear in love, but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment: he that feareth, is not made perfect in love.

19 We love him: because he first loved us.

20 If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar. For he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?

2 Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: every spirit which confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in
3 the flesh is of God: and every spirit which [1]confesseth not Jesus is not of God: and this is the spirit of the antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it cometh; and now it is in the world
4 already. Ye are of God, my little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that 5 is in you than he that is in the world. They are of the world: therefore speak they as of the 7 Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is begotten

8 of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth not
9 knoweth not God; for God is love. Herein was the love of God manifested [2]in us, that God hath sent his only begotten Son into the world,
10 that we might live through him. Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.
11 Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to 15 Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God abideth in him, and he in God.

16 And we know and have believed the love which God hath [2]in us. God is love; and he that abideth in love abideth in God, and God abideth
17 in him. Herein is love made perfect with us, that we may have boldness in the day of judgement; because as he is, even so are we in this 18 world. There is no fear in love: but perfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath punishment; and he that feareth is not made perfect 19 in love. We love, because he first loved us.

dren of God, when we love God and keep his commandments.

3 For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments, and his commandments are not grievous.

4 For whatsoever is born of God, overcometh the world, and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.

5 Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?

6 This is he that came by water and blood, even Jesus Christ, not by water only, but by water and blood: and it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth.

7 For there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the holy Ghost: and these three are one.

8 And there are three that bear witness in earth, the Spirit, and the Water, and the Blood, and these three agree in one.

9 If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for this is the witness of God, which he hath testified of his Son.

10 He that believeth on the Son of God, hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not God, hath made him a liar, because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son.

11 And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son.

12 He that hath the Son, hath life; and he that hath not the Son, hath not life.

13 These things have I written unto you that believe on the Name of the Son of God, that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the Name of the Son of God.

14 And this is the confidence that we have ‖in him, that if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us.

15 And if we know that he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him.

16 If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death: I do not say that he shall pray for it.

17 All unrighteousness is sin, and there is a sin not unto death.

18 We know that whosoever is born of God, sinneth not: but he that is begotten of God, keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not.

19 And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness.

20 And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding that we may know him that is true: and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life.

dren of God, when we love God, and do his 3 commandments. For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his com-
4 mandments are not grievous. For whatsoever there are three who bear witness, the Spirit, and the water, and the blood: and the three agree witness of God is greater: for the witness of God is this, that he hath borne witness con-

10 cerning his Son. He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in him: he that believeth not God hath made him a liar; because he hath not believed in the witness that God 11 hath borne concerning his Son. And the witness is this, that God gave unto us eternal life, 12 and this life is in his Son. He that hath the Son hath the life; he that hath not the Son of God hath not the life.

13 These things have I written unto you, that ye may know that ye have eternal life, even unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God.
14 And this is the boldness which we have toward him, that, if we ask anything according to his 15 will, he heareth us: and if we know that he heareth us whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions which we have asked of him.
16 If any man see his brother sinning a sin not unto death, [2]he shall ask, and God will give him life for them that sin not unto death.
There is [3]a sin unto death: not concerning this do I say that he should make request.
17 All unrighteousness is sin: and there is [3]a sin

THE Elder unto the elect Lady, and her children, whom I love in the truth: and not I only, but also all they that have known the truth:

2 For the truth's sake which dwelleth in us, and shall be with us for ever:

3 Grace be with you, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father in truth and love.

4 I rejoiced greatly, that I found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.

5 And now, I beseech thee Lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee: but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another.

6 And this is love, that we walk after his Commandments. This is the Commandment, that as ye have heard from the beginning, ye should walk in it.

7 For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver, and an Antichrist.

8 Look to yourselves, that we lose not those things which we have ‖ wrought, but that we receive a full reward.

9 Whosoever transgresseth and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God: he that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son.

10 If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, neither bid him, God speed.

11 For he that biddeth him God speed, is partaker of his evil deeds.

12 Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink, but I trust to come unto you, and speak † face to face, that our joy may be full.

4 I have no greater joy, than to hear that my children walk in truth.
5 Beloved, thou doest faithfully whatsoever thou doest to the Brethren, and to strangers:
6 Which have borne witness of thy charity before the Church: whom if thou bring forward on their journey after a godly sort, thou shalt do well:
7 Because that for his Name's sake they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles.
8 We therefore ought to receive such, that we might be fellowhelpers to the truth.
9 I wrote unto the Church, but Diotrephes, who loveth to have the preëminence among them, receiveth us not.
10 Wherefore if I come, I will remember his deeds which he doeth, prating against us with malicious words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would, and casteth them out of the Church.
11 Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good, is of God: but he that doeth evil, hath not seen God.
12 Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the truth itself: yea, and we also bear record, and ye know that our record is true.

7 because that for the sake of the Name they went 8 forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles. We therefore ought to welcome such, that we may be fellow-workers with the truth.
9 I wrote somewhat unto the church: but Diotrephes, who loveth to have the preëminence
10 among them, receiveth us not. Therefore, if I come, I will bring to remembrance his works which he doeth, prating against us with wicked words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and them that would he forbiddeth, and casteth them out of 11 the church. Beloved, imitate not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God: he that doeth evil hath not 12 seen God. Demetrius hath the witness of all men, and of the truth itself: yea, we also bear witness; and thou knowest that our witness is true.
13 I had many things to write unto thee, but I am unwilling to write them to thee with ink and 14 pen: but I hope shortly to see thee, and we shall speak face to face. Peace be unto thee. The friends salute thee. Salute the friends by name.

1611

JUDE the servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, to them that are sanctified by God the Father, and preserved in Jesus Christ, and called:
2 Mercy unto you, and peace, and love be multiplied.
3 Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common salvation: it was needful for me to write unto you, and exhort you that ye should earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the Saints.
4 For there are certain men crept in unawares, who were before of old ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ.
5 I will therefore put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, how that the Lord having saved the people out of the land of Egypt afterward destroyed them that believed not.
6 And the Angels which kept not their ‖first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness, unto the judgment of the great day.

1 JUDAS, a [1]servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, [2]to them that are called, beloved in God the Father, and kept for Jesus Christ:
2 Mercy unto you and peace and love be multiplied.
3 Beloved, while I was giving all diligence to write unto you of our common salvation, I was constrained to write unto you exhorting you to contend earnestly for the faith which was once
4 for all delivered unto the saints. For there are certain men crept in privily, even they who were of old set forth unto this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying [3]our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.
5 Now I desire to put you in remembrance, though ye know all things once for all, how that [4]the Lord, having saved a people out of the land of Egypt, [5]afterward destroyed them
6 that believed not. And angels which kept not their own principality, but left their proper habitation, he hath kept in everlasting bonds under darkness unto the judgement of the great day.

7 Even as Sodom and Gomorrha, and the cities about them, in like manner giving themselves over to fornication, and going after †strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire.

8 Likewise also these filthy dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominion, and speak evil of dignities.

9 Yet Michael the Archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, [a]The Lord rebuke thee.

10 But these speak evil of those things, which they know not: but what they know naturally, as brute beasts, in those things they corrupt themselves.

11 Woe unto them, for they have gone in the way of Cain, and ran greedily after the error of Balaam, for reward, and perished in the gainsaying of Core.

12 These are spots in your feasts of charity, when they feast with you, feeding themselves without fear: clouds they are without water, carried about of winds, trees whose fruit withereth, without fruit, twice dead, plucked up by the roots.

13 Raging waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame, wandering stars, to whom is reserved the blackness of darkness for ever.

14 And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his Saints,

15 To execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them, of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches, which ungodly sinners have spoken against him.

16 These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lusts, and their mouth speaketh great swelling words, having men's persons in admiration because of advantage.

17 But beloved, remember ye the words, which were spoken before of the Apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ:

18 How that they told you there should be mockers in the last time, who should walk after their own ungodly lusts.

19 These be they who separate themselves, sensual, having not the spirit.

20 But ye beloved, building up yourselves on your most holy faith, praying in the holy Ghost,

21 Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life.

22 And of some have compassion, making a difference:

23 And others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire: hating even the garment spotted by the flesh.

24 Now unto him that is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy,

25 To the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, now and ever. Amen.

THE REVELATION

S. JOHN THE DIVINE.

1611

CHAP. I.

THE Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto him, to shew unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass; and he sent and signified it by his Angel unto his servant John,

2 Who bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all things that he saw.

3 Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand.

4 John to the seven Churches in Asia, Grace be unto you, and peace, from him [a]which is, and which was, and which is to come, and from the seven spirits which are before his throne:

5 And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, and the [b]first begotten of the dead, and the Prince of the kings of the earth: unto him that loved us, [c]and washed us from our sins in his own blood,

6 And hath [d]made us Kings and Priests unto God and his Father: to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever, Amen.

7 [e]Behold he cometh with clouds, and every eye shall see him, and they also which pierced him: and all kindreds of the earth shall wail because of him: even so. Amen.

8 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty.

9 I John, who also am your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the Isle that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus Christ.

10 I was in the spirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet, 11 Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: and what thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the seven Churches which are in Asia, unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea.

12 And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, I saw seven golden Candlesticks, 13 And in the midst of the seven candlesticks, one like unto the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.

9 I John, your brother and partaker with you in the tribulation and kingdom and patience which are in Jesus, was in the isle that is called Patmos, for the word of God and the testimony white as snow, and his eyes were as a flame of fire,

15 And his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace: and his voice as the sound of many waters.

16 And he had in his right hand seven stars: and out of his mouth went a sharp twoedged sword: and his countenance was as the Sun shineth in his strength.

17 And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead: and he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not, f I am the first, and the last.

18 I am he that liveth, and was dead: and behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen, and have the keys of hell and of death.

19 Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be hereafter, 20 The mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden Candlesticks. The seven Stars are the Angels of the seven Churches: and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest, are the seven Churches.

CHAP. II.

UNTO the Angel of the church of Ephesus, write, These things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, who walketh in the midst of the seven golden Candlesticks:

2 I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil, and thou hast tried them which say they are Apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars:

3 And hast borne, and hast patience, and for my Name's sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted.

4 Nevertheless, I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love.

5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works, or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy Candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.

6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.

7 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the Churches: To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the Paradise of God.

8 And unto the Angel of the Church in Smyrna, write, These things saith the first and the last, which was dead, and is alive,

9 I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, but thou art rich, and I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews and are not, but are the Synagogue of Satan.

10 Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried, and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.

11 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the spirit saith unto the churches. He that overcometh, shall not be hurt of the second death.

11 the crown of life. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death.

12 And to the Angel of the Church in Pergamos, write, These things saith he which hath the sharp sword with two edges:

13 I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where Satan's seat is, and thou holdest fast my Name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful Martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of [a]Balaam, who taught Balac to cast a stumbling-block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication.

15 So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate.

16 Repent, or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the Churches. To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden Manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth, saving he that receiveth it.

18 And unto the Angel of the church in Thyatira, write, These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brass:

19 I know thy works, and charity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works, and the last to be more than the first.

20 Notwithstanding, I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman [b]Jezebel, which calleth herself a Prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols.

21 And I gave her space to repent of her fornication, and she repented not.

22 Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her, into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds.

23 And I will kill her children with death, and all the Churches shall know that [c]I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts: and I will give unto every one of you according to your works.

25 But that which ye have already, hold fast till I come.

26 And he that overcometh, and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations:

8 I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my Name.

9 Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie: behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth.

These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and none shall shut, and that shutteth,
8 and none openeth: I know thy works (behold, I have [2]set before thee a door opened, which none can shut), that thou hast a little power, and didst keep my word, and didst not deny
9 my name. Behold, I give of the synagogue of Satan, of them which say they are Jews, and they are not, but do lie; behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and 10 to know that I have loved thee. Because thou didst keep the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of [3]trial, that hour which is to come upon the whole [4]world, to 11 [5]try them that dwell upon the earth. I come quickly: hold fast that which thou hast, that 12 no one take thy crown. He that overcometh, I will make him a pillar in the [6]temple of my God, and he shall go out thence no more: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from 13 my God, and mine own new name. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

14 And to the angel of the church in Laodicea write;

These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creation of 15 God: I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot.
16 So because thou art lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spew thee out of my mouth.

with goods, and have need of nothing: and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked.

18 I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich, and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear, and anoint thine eyes with eyesalve, that thou mayest see.

19 [c]As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten, be zealous therefore, and repent.

20 Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

21 To him that overcometh, will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne.

CHAP. IV.

AFTER this I looked, and behold, a door was opened in heaven: and the first voice which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet, talking with me, which said, Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter.

2 And immediately I was in the spirit: and behold, a Throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the Throne.

3 And he that sat was to look upon like a Jasper, and a Sardine stone: and there was a rainbow round about the Throne, in sight like unto an Emerald.

4 And round about the Throne were four and twenty seats, and upon the seats I saw four and twenty Elders sitting, clothed in white raiment, and they had on their heads crowns of gold.

5 And out of the Throne proceeded lightnings, and thunderings, and voices: and there were seven lamps of fire burning before the Throne, which are the seven Spirits of God.

6 And before the Throne there was a sea of glass like unto Crystal: and in the midst of the throne, and round about the Throne, were four beasts full of eyes before and behind.

7 And the first beast was like a Lion, and the second beast like a Calf, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying Eagle.

8 And the four beasts had each of them six wings about him, and they were full of eyes within, and [†]they rest not day and night, saying, [a]Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.

9 And when those beasts give glory, and honour, and thanks to him that sat on the Throne, who liveth for ever and ever,

10 The four and twenty Elders fall down before him that sat on the Throne, and worship him that liveth for ever and ever, and cast their crowns before the Throne, saying,

5 and on their heads crowns of gold. And out of the throne proceed lightnings and voices and thunders. And there were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are the seven
6 Spirits of God; and before the throne, as it were a glassy sea like unto crystal; and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, four living creatures full of eyes before and be-
7 hind. And the first creature was like a lion, and the second creature like a calf, and the third creature had a face as of a man, and the fourth
8 creature was like a flying eagle. And the four living creatures, having each one of them six wings, are full of eyes round about and within: and they have no rest day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord God, the Almighty, which was and which is and [2]which is to come.
9 And when the living creatures shall give glory and honour and thanks to him that sitteth on the throne, to him that liveth [3]for ever and ever,
10 the four and twenty elders shall fall down before him that sitteth on the throne, and shall worship him that liveth [3]for ever and ever, and shall cast their crowns before the throne, saying,

CHAP. V.

AND I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the Throne, a book written within, and on the backside, sealed with seven seals.

2 And I saw a strong Angel proclaiming with a loud voice; Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof?

3 And no man in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able to open the book, neither to look thereon.

4 And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open, and to read the book, neither to look thereon.

5 And one of the Elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, [a]the Lion of the tribe of Juda, the root of David, hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof.

6 And I beheld, and lo, in the midst of the Throne, and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the Elders stood a Lamb as it had been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God, sent forth into all the earth.

7 And he came, and took the book out of the right hand of him that sat upon the Throne.

8 And when he had taken the book, the four Beasts, and four and twenty Elders fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials full of ‖odours, which are the prayers of Saints.

9 And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the Book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood, out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation:

10 [b]And hast made us unto our God Kings and Priests, and we shall reign on the earth.

11 And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many Angels, round about the Throne, and the beasts and the Elders, and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands,

12 Saying with a loud voice, Worthy is the Lamb that was slain, to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

13 And every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I, saying, Blessing, honour, glory, and power be unto him that sitteth upon the Throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever.

14 And the four beasts said, Amen. And the four and twenty Elders fell down and worshipped him that liveth for ever and ever.

CHAP. VI.

AND I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals, and I heard as it were the noise of thunder, one of the four beasts, saying, Come and see.

2 And I saw, and behold, a white horse, and he that sat on him had a bow, and a crown was given unto him, and he went forth conquering, and to conquer.

5 And I saw [1]in the right hand of him that sat on the throne a book written within and on the
2 back, close sealed with seven seals. And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a great voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose
3 the seals thereof? And no one in the heaven, or on the earth, or under the earth, was able
4 to open the book, or to look thereon. And I wept much, because no one was found worthy
5 to open the book, or to look thereon: and one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion that is of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, hath overcome, to open the book and 6 the seven seals thereof. And I saw in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, a Lamb standing, as though it had been slain, having seven horns, and seven eyes, which are the [2]seven Spirits of God, sent forth into all
7 the earth. And he came, and he [3]taketh it out of the right hand of him that sat on the throne.
8 And when he had taken the book, the four living creatures and the four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having each one a harp, and golden bowls full of incense, which 9 are the prayers of the saints. And they sing a new song, saying, Worthy art thou to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and didst purchase unto God with thy blood men of every tribe, and tongue,
10 and people, and nation, and madest them to be unto our God a kingdom and priests; and they
11 reign upon the earth. And I saw, and I heard a voice of many angels round about the throne and the living creatures and the elders; and the number of them was ten thousand times ten 12 thousand, and thousands of thousands; saying with a great voice, Worthy is the Lamb that hath been slain to receive the power, and riches, and wisdom, and might, and honour, and glory,
13 and blessing. And every created thing which is in the heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and on the sea, and all things that are in them, heard I saying, Unto him that sitteth on the throne, and unto the Lamb, be the blessing, and the honour, and the glory, and the 14 dominion, [4]for ever and ever. And the four living creatures said, Amen. And the elders fell down and worshipped.

6 And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures saying as with a voice of thun-
2 der, Come[5]. And I saw, and behold, a white horse, and he that sat thereon had a bow; and there was given unto him a crown: and he came forth conquering, and to conquer.

3 And when he had opened the second seal, I heard the second beast say, Come and see.
4 And there went out another horse that was red: and power was given to him that sat thereon to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was given unto him a great sword.
5 And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third beast say, Come and see. And I beheld, and lo, a black horse: and he that sat on him had a pair of balances in his hand.
6 And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, ‖A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny, and see thou hurt not the oil and the wine.
7 And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth beast say, Come and see.
8 And I looked, and behold, a pale horse, and his name that sat on him was Death, and hell followed with him: and power was given ‖unto them, over the fourth part of the earth to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.
9 And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held.
10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?
11 And white robes were given unto every one of them, and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellowservants also, and their brethren that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled.
12 And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and lo, there was a great earthquake, and the Sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the Moon became as blood.
13 And the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig tree casteth her ‖untimely figs when she is shaken of a mighty wind.
14 [a]And the heaven departed as a scroll when it is rolled together, and every mountain and Island were moved out of their places.
15 And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every free man, hid themselves in the dens, and in the rocks of the mountains,
16 And said to the mountains and rocks, [b]Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb:
17 For the great day of his wrath is come, and who shall be able to stand?

2 And I saw another Angel ascending from the East, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four Angels to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the Sea,

3 Saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads.

4 And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed an hundred and forty and four thousand, of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Juda were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Reuben were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelve thousand.

9 After this I beheld, and lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands:

10 And cried with a loud voice, saying, Salvation to our God, which sitteth upon the Throne, and unto the Lamb.

11 And all the Angels stood round about the Throne, and about the Elders, and the four beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, 12 Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might be unto our God for ever and ever, Amen.

13 And one of the Elders answered, saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they?

CHAP. VIII.

AND when he had opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour.

2 And I saw the seven Angels which stood before God, and to them were given seven trumpets.

3 And another Angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer, and there was given unto him much incense, that he should ‖offer it with the prayers of all Saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the incense which came with the prayers of the Saints, ascended up before God, out of the Angel's hand.

5 And the Angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth: and there were voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, and an earthquake:

6 And the seven Angels which had the seven trumpets, prepared themselves to sound.

7 The first Angel sounded, and there followed hail, and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast upon the earth, and the third part of trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second Angel sounded, and as it were a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea, and the third part of the sea became blood.

9 And the third part of the creatures which were in the Sea, and had life, died, and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the third Angel sounded, and there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were a lamp, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters:

11 And the name of the star is called Wormwood, and the third part of the waters became wormwood, and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth Angel sounded, and the third part of the Sun was smitten, and the third part of the Moon, and the third part of the stars, so as the third part of them was darkened: and the day shone not for a third part of it, and the night likewise.

13 And I beheld, and heard an Angel flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, Woe, woe, woe, to the inhabiters of the earth, by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three Angels which are yet to sound.

CHAP. IX.

AND the fifth Angel sounded, and I saw a star fall from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given the key of the bottomless pit.

2 And he opened the bottomless pit, and there arose a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace, and the sun and the air were darkened, by reason of the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke locusts upon the earth, and unto them was given power, as the Scorpions of the earth have power.

8 And when he opened the seventh seal, there followed a silence in heaven about the space of

3 And another angel came and stood [1]over the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should [2]add it unto the prayers of all the saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne.
4 And the smoke of the incense, [3]with the prayers of the saints, went up before God out of the an-
5 gel's hand. And the angel [4]taketh the censer; and he filled it with the fire of the altar, and cast it [5]upon the earth: and there followed thunders, and voices, and lightnings, and an earthquake.

9 blood; and there died the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, even they that had life; and the third part of the ships was destroyed.

11 and upon the fountains of the waters; and the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.
12 And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; that the third part of them should be darkened, and the day should not shine for the third part of it, and the night in like manner.
13 And I saw, and I heard [6]an eagle, flying in mid heaven, saying with a great voice, Woe, woe, woe, for them that dwell on the earth, by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, who are yet to sound.

9 And the fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star from heaven fallen unto the earth: and there was given to him the key of the pit of the
2 abyss. And he opened the pit of the abyss; and there went up a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke
3 of the pit. And out of the smoke came forth locusts upon the earth; and power was given them, as the scorpions of the earth have power.
4 And it was said unto them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree: but only those men which have not the seal of God in their foreheads.

5 And to them it was given that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months, and their torment was as the torment of a Scorpion, when he striketh a man.

6 And in those days shall men seek death, and shall not find it, and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.

7 And the shapes of the Locusts were like unto horses prepared unto battle, and on their heads were as it were crowns like gold, and their faces were as the faces of men.

8 And they had hair as the hair of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of Lions.

9 And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron, and the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots of many horses running to battle.

10 And they had tails like unto Scorpions, and there were stings in their tails: and their power was to hurt men five months.

11 And they had a king over them, which is the Angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in the Hebrew tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greek tongue hath his name ‖Apollyon.

‖ That is to say, A destroyer.

12 One woe is past, and behold there come two woes more hereafter.

13 And the sixth Angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar, which is before God,

14 Saying to the sixth Angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four Angels which are bound in the great river Euphrates.

15 And the four Angels were loosed, which were prepared ‖for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year, for to slay the third part of men.

16 And the number of the army of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousand: and I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates of fire and of Jacinth, and brimstone, and the heads of the horses were as the heads of Lions, and out of their mouths issued fire, and smoke, and brimstone.

18 By these three was the third part of men killed, by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone which issued out of their mouths.

19 For their power is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their tails were like unto serpents, and had heads, and with them they do hurt.

20 And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues, yet repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship devils, [a]and idols of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and of wood, which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk:

thing, neither any tree, but only such men as have not the seal of God on their foreheads.
5 And it was given them that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when it striketh a man.
6 And in those days men shall seek death, and shall in no wise find it; and they shall desire
7 to die, and death fleeth from them. And the [1]shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared for war; and upon their heads as it were crowns like unto gold, and their faces were
8 as men's faces. And they had hair as the hair of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of 9 lions. And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots, of many 10 horses rushing to war. And they have tails like unto scorpions, and stings; and in their tails is their power to hurt men five months.
11 They have over them as king the angel of the abyss: his name in Hebrew is Abaddon, and in the Greek tongue he hath the name [2]Apollyon.
12 The first Woe is past: behold, there come yet two Woes hereafter.
13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard [3]a voice from the horns of the golden altar which 14 is before God, one saying to the sixth angel, which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound at the great river Euphrates.
15 And the four angels were loosed, which had been prepared for the hour and day and month and year, that they should kill the third part
16 of men. And the number of the armies of the horsemen was twice ten thousand times ten thou-
17 sand: I heard the number of them. And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates as of fire and of hyacinth and of brimstone: and the heads of the horses are as the heads of lions; and out of their mouths proceedeth fire and smoke and 18 brimstone. By these three plagues was the third part of men killed, by the fire and the smoke and the brimstone, which proceeded out
19 of their mouths. For the power of the horses is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their tails are like unto serpents, and have heads;
20 and with them they do hurt. And the rest of mankind, which were not killed with these plagues, repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship [4]devils, and the idols of gold, and of silver, and of brass, and of stone, and of wood; which can 21 neither see, nor hear, nor walk: and they repented not of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

AND I saw another mighty Angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud, and a rainbow was upon his head, and his face was as it were the Sun, and his feet as pillars of fire.

2 And he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot on the earth,

3 And cried with a loud voice, as when a Lion roareth: and when he had cried, seven thunders uttered their voices.

4 And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven, saying unto me, Seal up those things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not.

5 And the Angel which I saw stand upon the sea, and upon the earth, lifted up his hand to heaven,

6 And sware by him that liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which are therein, that there should be time no longer.

7 But in the days of the voice of the seventh Angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystery of God should be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the Prophets.

8 And the voice which I heard from heaven spake unto me again, and said, Go, and take the little book which is open in the hand of the Angel which standeth upon the sea, and upon the earth.

9 And I went unto the Angel, and said unto him, Give me the little book. And he said unto me, [a]Take it, and eat it up, and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet as honey.

10 And I took the little book out of the Angel's hand, and ate it up, and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and as soon as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

11 And he said unto me, Thou must prophesy again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings.

10 And I saw another strong angel coming down out of heaven, arrayed with a cloud; and the rainbow was upon his head, and his face was as had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left upon thunders uttered their voices, I was about to who created the heaven and the things that are therein, that there shall be [3]time no longer:

7 but in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound, then is finished the mystery of God, according to the good tidings which he declared to his servants the 8 prophets. And the voice which I heard from heaven, I heard it again speaking with me, and saying, Go, take the book which is open in the hand of the angel that standeth upon the sea 9 and upon the earth. And I went unto the angel, saying unto him that he should give me the little book. And he saith unto me, Take it, and eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but 10 in thy mouth it shall be sweet as honey. And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and when I had eaten it, my belly was 11 made bitter. And they say unto me, Thou must prophesy again [4]over many peoples and nations and tongues and kings.

11 And there was given me a reed like unto a rod: [5]and one said, Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship

9 And they of the people, and kindreds, and tongues, and nations, shall see their dead bodies three days and an half, and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves.

10 And they that dwell upon the earth shall rejoice over them, and make merry, and shall send gifts one to another, because these two Prophets tormented them that dwelt on the earth.

11 And after three days and an half the Spirit of life from God entered into them: and they stood upon their feet, and great fear fell upon them which saw them.

12 And they heard a great voice from heaven, saying unto them, Come up hither. And they ascended up to heaven in a cloud, and their enemies beheld them.

13 And the same hour was there a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the city fell, and in the earthquake were slain †of men seven thousand: and the remnant were affrighted, and gave glory to the God of heaven.

15 And the seventh Angel sounded, and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ, and he shall reign for ever and ever.

16 And the four and twenty Elders which sat before God on their seats, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God, 17 Saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, which art, and wast, and art to come; because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and hast reigned.

3 And there appeared another ‖wonder in heaven, and behold a great red dragon, having seven heads, and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his heads.
4 And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: And the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born.
5 And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his Throne.
6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there a thousand, two hundred, and threescore days.
7 And there was war in heaven, Michael and his Angels fought against the dragon, and the dragon fought and his angels,
8 And prevailed not, neither was their place found any more in heaven.
9 And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the devil and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.
10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.
11 And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their Testimony, and they loved not their lives unto the death.
12 Therefore rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them; Woe to the inhabiters of the earth, and of the sea: for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.
13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man child.
14 And to the woman were given two wings of a great Eagle, that she might flee into the wilderness into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.
15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water as a flood, after the woman: that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood.
16 And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the flood which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

7 And it was given unto him to make war with the Saints, and to overcome them: And power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

12 And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And he doeth great wonders, so that he maketh fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men,

14 And deceiveth them that dwell on the earth, by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast, saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an Image to the beast which had the wound by a sword, and did live.

CHAP. XIV.

AND I looked, and lo, a Lamb stood on the mount Sion, and with him an hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father's Name written in their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of harpers, harping with their harps.

3 And they sung as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the Elders, and no man could learn that song, but the hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which were not defiled with women: for they are virgins: These are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth: These †were redeemed from among men, being the firstfruits unto God, and to the Lamb.

5 And in their mouth was found no guile: for they are without fault before the throne of God.

6 And I saw another Angel fly in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting Gospel, to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people,

7 Saying with a loud voice, Fear God, and give glory to him, for the hour of his judgment is come: [a]and worship him that made heaven and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters.

8 And there followed another Angel, saying, [b]Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And the third Angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand,

10 The same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation, and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone, in the presence of the holy Angels, and in the presence of the Lamb:

11 And the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever. And they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the Saints: Here are they that keep the Commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

13 And I heard a voice from heaven, saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, ||from henceforth, yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours, and their works do follow them.

14 And I looked, and behold, a white cloud, and upon the cloud one sat like unto the son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.

15 And another Angel came out of the Temple crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud: [c]Thrust in thy sickle and reap, for the time

14 And I saw, and behold, the Lamb standing on the mount Zion, and with him a hundred and forty and four thousand, having his name, and the name of his Father, written on their
2 foreheads. And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and the voice which I heard was as the voice of harpers harping with
3 their harps: and they sing as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four living creatures and the elders: and no man could learn the song save the hundred and forty and four thousand, even they that had
4 been purchased out of the earth. These are they which were not defiled with women; for they are virgins. These are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were purchased from among men, to be the firstfruits
5 unto God and unto the Lamb. And in their mouth was found no lie: they are without blemish.

6 And I saw another angel flying in mid heaven, having an eternal gospel to proclaim unto them that [1]dwell on the earth, and unto every 7 nation and tribe and tongue and people; and he saith with a great voice, Fear God, and give him glory; for the hour of his judgement is come: and worship him that made the heaven and the earth and sea and fountains of waters.

8 And another, a second angel, followed, saying, Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, which hath made all the nations to drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And another angel, a third, followed them, saying with a great voice, If any man worshippeth the beast and his image, and receiveth a
10 mark on his forehead, or upon his hand, he also shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is [2]prepared unmixed in the cup of his anger; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels,
11 and in the presence of the Lamb: and the smoke of their torment goeth up [3]for ever and ever; and they have no rest day and night, they that worship the beast and his image, and 12 whoso receiveth the mark of his name. Here is the patience of the saints, they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

13 And I heard a voice from heaven saying, Write, Blessed are the dead which die [4]in the Lord from henceforth: yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; for their works follow with them.

14 And I saw, and behold, a white cloud; and on the cloud I saw one sitting like unto [5]a son of man, having on his head a golden crown,
15 and in his hand a sharp sickle. And another angel came out from the temple, crying with a great voice to him that sat on the cloud, Send forth thy sickle, and reap: for the hour to reap is come for thee to reap, for the harvest of the earth is ‖ripe.

16 And he that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 And another Angel came out of the Temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

18 And another Angel came out from the Altar, which had power over fire, and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth, for her grapes are fully ripe.

19 And the Angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into the great winepress of the wrath of God.

20 And the winepress was trodden without the city, and blood came out of the winepress, even unto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

CHAP. XV.

AND I saw another sign in heaven great and marvellous, seven Angels having the seven last plagues, for in them is filled up the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a Sea of glass, mingled with fire, and them that had gotten the victory over the beast, and over his image, and over his mark, and over the number of his name, stand on the sea of glass, having the harps of God.

3 And they sing [a]the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty, [b]just and true are thy ways, thou king of saints.

4 [c]Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy Name? for thou only art holy: for all nations shall come and worship before thee, for thy judgments are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and behold, the Temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened:

6 And the seven Angels came out of the Temple, having the seven plagues, clothed in pure and white linen, and having their breasts girded with golden girdles.

7 And one of the four beasts gave unto the seven Angels seven golden vials, full of the wrath of God, who liveth for ever and ever.

8 And the Temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power, and no man was able to enter into the Temple, till the seven plagues of the seven Angels were fulfilled.

CHAP. XVI.

AND I heard a great voice out of the Temple, saying to the seven Angels, Go your ways, and pour out the vials of the wrath of God upon the earth.

2 And the first went, and poured out his vial upon the earth, and there fell a noisome and grievous sore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and upon them which worshipped his image.

3 And the second Angel poured out his vial upon the sea, and it became as the blood of a dead man: and every living soul died in the sea.

is come; for the harvest of the earth is [1]over-16 ripe. And he that sat on the cloud cast his sickle upon the earth; and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out from the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp
18 sickle. And another angel came out from the altar, he that hath power over fire; and he called with a great voice to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Send forth thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the 19 earth; for her grapes are fully ripe. And the angel cast his sickle into the earth, and gathered the [2]vintage of the earth, and cast it into the winepress, the great winepress, of the wrath of 20 God. And the winepress was trodden without the city, and there came out blood from the winepress, even unto the bridles of the horses, as far as a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

15 And I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven angels having seven plagues, which are the last, for in them is finished the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a glassy sea mingled with fire; and them that come victorious from the beast, and from his image, and from the number of his name, standing [3]by the glassy
3 sea, having harps of God. And they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, O Lord God, the Almighty; righteous and true are thy ways, thou King of the 4 [4]ages. Who shall not fear, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy; for all the nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy righteous acts have been made manifest.

5 And after these things I saw, and the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven
6 was opened: and there came out from the temple the seven angels that had the seven plagues, arrayed [5]with precious stone, pure and bright, and girt about their breasts with golden girdles.
7 And one of the four living creatures gave unto the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of God, who liveth [6]for ever and ever.
8 And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power: and none was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels should be finished.

16 And I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels, Go ye, and pour out the seven bowls of the wrath of God into the earth.

2 And the first went, and poured out his bowl into the earth; and [7]it became a noisome and grievous sore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and which worshipped his image.

3 And the second poured out his bowl into the sea; and [7]it became blood as of a dead man; and every [8]living soul died, even the things that were in the sea.

4 And the third Angel poured out his vial upon the rivers and fountains of waters, and they became blood.

5 And I heard the Angel of the waters say, Thou art righteous, O Lord, which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus:

6 For they have shed the blood of Saints and Prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink: for they are worthy.

7 And I heard another out of the altar say, Even so, Lord God Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgments.

8 And the fourth Angel poured out his vial upon the Sun, and power was given unto him to scorch men with fire.

9 And men were ‖scorched with great heat, and blasphemed the Name of God, which hath power over these plagues: and they repented not, to give him glory.

10 And the fifth Angel poured out his vial upon the seat of the beast, and his kingdom was full of darkness, and they gnawed their tongues for pain, 11 And blasphemed the God of heaven, because of their pains and their sores, and repented not of their deeds.

12 And the sixth Angel poured out his vial upon the great river Euphrates, and the water thereof was dried up, that the way of the Kings of the East might be prepared.

13 And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.

14 For they are the spirits of devils working miracles, which go forth unto the Kings of the earth, and of the whole world, to gather them to the battle of that great day of God Almighty.

15 [a]Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and they see his shame.

16 And he gathered them together into a place, called in the Hebrew tongue, Armageddon.

17 And the seventh Angel poured out his vial into the air, and there came a great voice out of the Temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, It is done.

18 And there were voices and thunders, and lightnings: and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake, and so great.

19 And the great City was divided into three parts, and the Cities of the nations fell: and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, [b]to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath.

20 And every island fled away, and the mountains were not found.

21 And there fell upon men a great hail out of heaven, every stone about the weight of a talent, and men blasphemed God, because of the plague of the hail: for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

6 thus [3]judge: for they poured out the blood of saints and prophets, and blood hast thou given
7 them to drink: they are worthy. And I heard the altar saying, Yea, O Lord God, the Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgements.
8 And the fourth poured out his bowl upon the sun; and it was given unto [4]it to scorch men
9 with fire. And men were scorched with great heat: and they blasphemed the name of the God which hath the power over these plagues; and they repented not to give him glory.
10 And the fifth poured out his bowl upon the throne of the beast; and his kingdom was darkened; and they gnawed their tongues for pain,
11 and they blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores; and they repented not of their works.
12 And the sixth poured out his bowl upon the great river, the river Euphrates; and the water thereof was dried up, that the way might be made ready for the kings that come from the 13 sunrising. And I saw coming out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet, 16 they see his shame.) And they gathered them together into the place which is called in Hebrew Har-Magedon.

17 And the seventh poured out his bowl upon the air; and there came forth a great voice out of the temple, from the throne, saying, It is 18 done: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunders; and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since [8]there were men upon the

ANNO DOMINI 96.

AND there came one of the seven Angels, which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto me, Come hither, I will shew unto thee the judgment of the great Whore, that sitteth upon many waters:

2 With whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication, and the inhabiters of the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he carried me away in the Spirit into the wilderness: and I saw a woman sit upon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.

4 And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet colour, and †decked with gold, and precious stone and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand, full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication.

‖ Or, fornications.

6 And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the Saints, and with the blood of the Martyrs of Jesus: and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration.

7 And the Angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou marvel? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and ten horns.

8 The beast that thou sawest, was, and is not, and shall ascend out of the bottomless pit, and go into perdition, and they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, (whose names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world) when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And here is the mind which hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth.

10 And there are seven Kings, five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come: and when he cometh, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, and goeth into perdition.

12 And the ten horns which thou sawest, are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet: but receive power as kings one hour with the beast.

13 These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast.

14 These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: [a]For he is Lord of Lords, and King of kings, and they that are with him, are called, and chosen, and faithful.

15 And he saith unto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

17 And there came one of the seven angels that had the seven bowls, and spake with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the judgement of the great harlot that sitteth upon many
2 waters; with whom the kings of the earth committed fornication, and they that dwell in the earth were made drunken with the wine
3 of her fornication. And he carried me away in the Spirit into a wilderness: and I saw a woman sitting upon a scarlet-coloured beast, [1]full of names of blasphemy, having seven
4 heads and ten horns. And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and [2]decked with gold and precious stone and pearls, having in her hand a golden cup full of abominations, [3]even the unclean things of her for-
5 nication, and upon her forehead a name written, [4]MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF THE HARLOTS AND OF THE ABOM-
6 INATIONS OF THE EARTH. And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the [5]martyrs of Jesus. And when I saw her, I wondered with a great
7 wonder. And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou wonder? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and 8 the ten horns. The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and is about to come up out of the abyss, [6]and to go into perdition. And they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, they whose name hath not been written [7]in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast, how that he was,
9 and is not, and [8]shall come. Here is the [9]mind which hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven 10 mountains, on which the woman sitteth: and [10]they are seven kings; the five are fallen, the one is, the other is not yet come; and when he
11 cometh, he must continue a little while. And the beast that was, and is not, is himself also an eighth, and is of the seven; and he 12 goeth into perdition. And the ten horns that thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but they receive authority
13 as kings, with the beast, for one hour. These have one mind, and they give their power and 14 authority unto the beast. These shall war against the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them, for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings; and they also shall overcome that are 15 with him, called and chosen and faithful. And he saith unto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the harlot sitteth, are peoples, and 16 multitudes, and nations, and tongues. And the ten horns which thou sawest, and the beast, these shall hate the harlot, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and shall burn her utterly with fire.

17 For God hath put in their hearts to fulfil his will, and to agree, and give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God shall be fulfilled.

18 And the woman which thou sawest, is that great City which reigneth over the kings of the earth.

CHAP. XVIII.

AND after these things, I saw another Angel come down from heaven, having great power, and the earth was lightened with his glory.

2 And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, [c]Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird:

3 For all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the Kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the Merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the ‖abundance of her delicacies.

4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues:

5 For her sins have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities.

6 Reward her even as she rewarded you, and double unto her double according to her works: in the cup which she hath filled, fill to her double.

7 How much she hath glorified herself, and lived deliciously, so much torment and sorrow give her: for she saith in her heart, I sit a [b]Queen, and am no widow, and shall see no sorrow.

8 Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death, and mourning, and famine, and she shall be utterly burnt with fire, for strong is the Lord God, who judgeth her.

9 And the Kings of the earth, who have committed fornication, and lived deliciously with her, shall bewail her and lament for her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning:

10 Standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, Alas, alas, that great city Babylon, that mighty city: for in one hour is thy judgment come.

11 And the Merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her, for no man buyeth their merchandise any more.

12 The merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stones, and of pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet, and all ‖Thyine wood, and all manner vessels of Ivory, and all manner vessels of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble,

13 And Cinnamon, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and ‖slaves, and souls of men.

17 For God did put in their hearts to do his mind, and to come to one mind, and to give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God
18 should be accomplished. And the woman whom thou sawest is the great city, which [1]reigneth over the kings of the earth.

18 After these things I saw another angel coming down out of heaven, having great authority; and the earth was lightened with his glory.
2 And he cried with a mighty voice, saying, Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, and is become a habitation of [2]devils, and a [3]hold of every unclean spirit, and a [3]hold of every un-
3 clean and hateful bird. For [4]by [5]the wine of the wrath of her fornication all the nations are fallen; and the kings of the earth committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth waxed rich by the power of her [6]wantonness.

4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come forth, my people, out of her, that ye have no fellowship with her sins, and that ye
5 receive not of her plagues: for her sins [7]have reached even unto heaven, and God hath remem-
6 bered her iniquities. Render unto her even as she rendered, and double unto her the double according to her works: in the cup which she mingled,
7 mingle unto her double. How much soever she glorified herself, and waxed [8]wanton, so much give her of torment and mourning: for she saith in her heart, I sit a queen, and am no widow, and
8 shall in no wise see mourning. Therefore in one day shall her plagues come, death, and mourning, and famine; and she shall be utterly burned with fire; for strong is [9]the Lord God which judged
9 her. And the kings of the earth, who committed fornication and lived [10]wantonly with her, shall weep and wail over her, when they look upon
10 the smoke of her burning, standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, Woe, woe, the great city, Babylon, the strong city! for in one
11 hour is thy judgement come. And the merchants of the earth weep and mourn over her, for no man buyeth their [11]merchandise any more;
12 [11]merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stone, and pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet; and all thyine wood, and every vessel of ivory, and every vessel made of most precious wood, and of brass, and
13 iron, and marble; and cinnamon, and [12]spice, and incense, and ointment, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and cattle, and sheep; and merchandise of horses and chariots and [13]slaves; and [14]souls 14 of men. And the fruits which thy soul lusted after are gone from thee, and all things that were dainty and sumptuous are perished from thee, and men shall find them no more at all.

15 The Merchants of these things which were made rich by her, shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment, weeping and wailing,

16 And saying, Alas, alas, that great city, that was clothed in fine linen, and purple and scarlet, and decked with gold, and precious stones, and pearls:

17 For in one hour so great riches is come to nought. And every shipmaster, and all the company in ships, and sailors, and as many as trade by sea, stood afar off,

18 And cried when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, What city is like unto this great city?

19 And they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping, and wailing, saying, Alas alas, that great city, wherein were made rich all that had ships in the sea, by reason of her costliness, for in one hour is she made desolate.

20 Rejoice over her thou heaven, and ye holy Apostles and Prophets, for God hath avenged you on her.

21 And a mighty Angel took up a stone like a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, Thus with violence shall that great city Babylon be thrown down, and shall be found no more at all.

22 And the voice of harpers and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters, shall be heard no more at all in thee: and no craftsman, of whatsoever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee: and the sound of a millstone shall be heard no more at all in thee:

23 And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee: and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for thy Merchants were the great men of the earth: for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived.

24 And in her was found the blood of Prophets, and of Saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth.

CHAP. XIX.

AND after these things I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia: salvation, and glory, and honour, and power unto the Lord our God:

2 For true and righteous are his judgments, for he hath judged the great whore which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand.

3 And again they said, Alleluia: and her smoke rose up for ever and ever.

4 And the four and twenty Elders, and the four beasts fell down, and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, Amen, Alleluia.

5 And a voice came out of the throne, saying, Praise our God all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, both small and great.

6 And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

19 saying, What city is like the great city? And they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and mourning, saying, Woe, woe, the great city, wherein were made rich all that had their ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! for 20 in one hour is she made desolate. Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye saints, and ye apostles, and ye prophets; for God hath judged your judgement on her.
21 And [3]a strong angel took up a stone as it were a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, Thus with a mighty fall shall Babylon, the great city, be cast down, and shall be found no
22 more at all. And the voice of harpers and minstrels and flute-players and trumpeters shall be heard no more at all in thee; and no craftsman, [4]of whatsoever craft, shall be found any more at all in thee; and the voice of a millstone
23 shall be heard no more at all in thee; and the light of a lamp shall shine no more at all in thee; and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants were the princes of the earth; for with thy sorcery were all the nations de-
24 ceived. And in her was found the blood of prophets and of saints, and of all that have been slain upon the earth.

19 After these things I heard as it were a great voice of a great multitude in heaven, saying, Hallelujah; Salvation, and glory, and power,
2 belong to our God: for true and righteous are his judgements; for he hath judged the great harlot, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and he hath avenged the blood of
3 his servants at her hand. And a second time they [5]say, Hallelujah. And her smoke goeth
4 up [6]for ever and ever. And the four and twenty elders and the four living creatures fell down and worshipped God that sitteth on the 5 throne, saying, Amen; Hallelujah. And a voice came forth from the throne, saying, Give praise to our God, all ye his servants, ye that 6 fear him, the small and the great. And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunders, saying, Hallelujah: for the Lord our God, the Almighty, reigneth.

7 Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready.
8 And to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white: for the fine linen is the righteousness of Saints.
9 And he saith unto me, Write, [a]Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These are the true sayings of God.
10 And I fell at his feet to worship him: And he said unto me, [b]See thou do it not: I am thy fellowservant, and of thy brethren, that have the testimony of Jesus, Worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.
11 And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse, and he that sat upon him was called faithful and true, and in righteousness he doth judge and make war.
12 His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowns, and he had a name written, that no man knew but he himself.
13 [c]And he was clothed with a vesture dipt in blood, and his name is called, The word of God.
14 And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean.
15 And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the winepress of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.
16 And he hath on his vesture, and on his thigh a name written, [d]King Of Kings, And Lord Of Lords.
17 And I saw an Angel standing in the Sun, and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the fowls that fly in the midst of heaven, Come and gather yourselves together unto the supper of the great God:
18 That ye may eat the flesh of Kings, and the flesh of Captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men both free and bond, both small and great.
19 And I saw the beast, and the Kings of the earth, and their armies gathered together to make war against him that sat on the horse, and against his army.
20 And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet, that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast alive into a lake of fire burning with brimstone.
21 And the remnant were slain with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth: and all the fowls were filled with their flesh.

7 Let us rejoice and be exceeding glad, and let us give the glory unto him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made her-
8 self ready. And it was given unto her that she should array herself in fine linen, bright and pure: for the fine linen is the righteous acts of
9 the saints. And he saith unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are bidden to the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto 10 me, These are true words of God. And I fell down before his feet to worship him. And he saith unto me, See thou do it not: I am a fellowservant with thee and with thy brethren that hold the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

16 God. And he hath on his garment and on his thigh a name written, KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

18 that ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of [5]captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses and of them that sit thereon, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, and small and great.

CHAP. XX.

AND I saw an Angel come down from heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit, and a great chain in his hand.

2 And he laid hold on the dragon that old serpent, which is the devil and Satan, and bound him a thousand years,

3 And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season.

4 And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgment was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years.

5 But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be Priests of God, and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

7 And when the thousand years are expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison,

8 And shall go out to deceive the nations which are in the four quarters of the earth, [a]Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battle: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea.

9 And they went up on the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the Saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came down from God out of heaven, and devoured them.

10 And the devil that deceived them, was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet are, and shall be tormented day and night, for ever and ever.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away, and there was found no place for them.

12 And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God: and the books were opened: and another [b]book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works.

13 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it: and death and ‖hell delivered up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works.

14 And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire: this is the second death.

15 And whosoever was not found written in the book of life, was cast into the lake of fire.

CHAP. XXI.

AND [a]I saw a new heaven, and a new earth: for the first heaven, and the first earth were passed away, and there was no more sea.

2 And I John saw the holy City, new Jerusalem coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.

3 And I heard a great voice out of heaven, saying, Behold, the Tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

4 [b]And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes: and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

5 And he that sat upon the throne, said, [c]Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write: for these words are true and faithful.

6 And he said unto me, It is done: [d]I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. [e]I will give unto him that is athirst, of the fountain of the water of life, freely.

7 He that overcometh, shall inherit all things, and I will be his God, and he shall be my son.

8 But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.

9 And there came unto me one of the seven Angels, which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the Bride, the Lamb's wife.

10 And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God,

11 Having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious; even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal,

12 And had a wall great and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve Angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel.

13 On the East three gates, on the North three gates, on the South three gates, and on the West three gates.

14 And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them the names of the twelve Apostles of the Lamb.

15 And he that talked with me, had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the city lieth foursquare, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs: the length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equal.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of Jasper, and the city was pure gold, like unto clear glass.

19 And the foundations of the wall of the city were garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was Jasper, the second Sapphire, the third a Chalcedony, the fourth an Emerald, 20 The fifth Sardonyx, the sixth Sardius, the seventh Chrysolite, the eighth Beryl, the ninth a Topaz, the tenth a Chrysoprasus, the eleventh a Jacinth, the twelfth an Amethyst.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls, every several gate was of one pearl, and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass.

22 And I saw no Temple therein: For the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb, are the Temple of it.

23 [f]And the city had no need of the Sun, neither of the Moon to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.

24 [g]And the nations of them which are saved, shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it.

25 [h]And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shall be no night there.

26 And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

27 And there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life.

CHAP. XXII.

AND he shewed me a pure river of water of life, clear as Crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God, and of the Lamb.

2 In the midst of the street of it, and of either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

3 And there shall be no more curse, but the throne of God, and of the Lamb shall be in it, and his servants shall serve him.

4 And they shall see his face, and his name shall be in their foreheads.

5 [a]And there shall be no night there, and they need no candle, neither light of the sun, for the Lord God giveth them light, and they shall reign for ever and ever.

6 And he said unto me, These sayings are faithful and true. And the Lord God of the holy Prophets sent his Angel to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly be done.

7 Behold, I come quickly: Blessed is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecy of this book.

22 Against "And on some" etc. add the marg. Some ancient authorities read And some refute while they dispute with you.

REVELATION.

I. 8 Omit marg.[8] ("the Lord, the God")
13 Omit marg.[11] ("the Son of man")

III. 2 For "fulfilled" read "perfected"

IV. 6 "of the throne" add marg. Or, before [Comp. v. 6; vii. 17.]

V. 6 "in the midst of the throne" etc. add marg. Or, between the throne with the four living creatures, and the elders

VI. 6 "A measure" etc. add marg. [instead of marg.[3] and [4]] Or, A chœnix (i. e. about a quart) of wheat for a shilling—implying great scarcity.
11 For "be fulfilled" read "be fulfilled in number" and then let the marg. and the text exchange places.

VII. 17 "of the throne" add marg. Or, before (See iv. 6.)

X. 6 Substitute marg.[3] ("delay") for the text.

XII. 4 For "stood . . . was . . . was . . . might" read "standeth . . . is . . . is . . . may"

XIII. 1 "he stood" add marg. Some ancient authorities read I stood etc., connecting the clause with what follows.
8 Let marg.[5] and the text exchange places. [Comp. xvii. 8.]

XIV. 6 For "an eternal gospel" read "eternal good tidings" 15 For "over-ripe" read "ripe" with marg. Gr. become dry.

XV. 2 For "that come" read "that come off"

XVI. 9 For "the God" read "God"
16 "Har-Magedon" add marg. Or, Ar-Magedon

XIX. 15 For "of Almighty God" read "of God, the Almighty"

XXII. 3 For "do him service" read "serve him"

A CHRONOLOGICAL INDEX TO THE HOLY BIBLE.

ACCORDING TO REVISIONS OF RECENT CHRISTIAN CHRONOLOGISTS.

POINTING TO THE YEAR OF THE WORLD, AND THE YEAR BEFORE AND AFTER CHRIST, IN WHICH THE MOST REMARKABLE EVENTS RELATED IN THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS OCCURRED, AND WHEREIN RECORDED.

PERIOD I.

Creation of the world to Noah's age, B. C. 2349.

Before Christ.
4004	Genesis I. & II.	IN the beginning God created the heaven and the earth, &c., and last of all man after his own image.
	III.	Man falls from his first state, but is promised a Saviour of the seed of the woman.
4003	IV. 1,	The world first peopled after Adam and Eve had left paradise.
3875	8.	About this time Cain and Abel offer sacrifice, and Abel is murdered.
	V. 3,	Seth born.
3874	6,	Enos born.
3679	9,	Cainan born.
3609	12,	Mahalaleel born.
3544	15,	Jared born.
3382	18,	Enoch, the seventh from Adam, born.
3347	21,	Methuselah born.
3130	25,	Lamech, the father of Noah, born.
3074	5,	Adam dieth, aged 930 years.
3017	23, 24,	Enoch, in the 365th year of his age, taken up to God.
2962	8,	Seth dieth, aged 912 years.
2948	28,	Noah, the father and patriarch of the new world after the flood, born.
2864	11,	Enos, the third from Adam, dieth, aged 905 years.
2769	14,	Cainan dieth, aged 910 years.
2714	17,	Mahalaleel, the fifth from Adam, dieth, aged 895 years.
2582	20.	Jared, the sixth from Adam, dieth, aged 962 years.
2448		To Noah, aged 500 years, is born Japheth, and two years after, Shem.
2353	32.	Lamech, the ninth from Adam, dieth, aged 777 years. He is the first man
	X. 21.	whom the Scriptures mention to have died a natural death before his father.
	V. 31, 27.	Methuselah dieth a little before the flood, in the 969th year of his age. He was the oldest man.
2349	VII. 11.	The flood comes upon the earth in the 600th year of Noah's age.

PERIOD II.

From Noah's age to Terah's dwelling at Haran, B. C. 1922.

2348	Genesis VIII. 18,	THE flood ceaseth, and Noah, with his family, and the creatures he carried in with him, comes out of the ark, and offers a burnt-offering.
	20.	At the same time God makes a covenant with Noah and his seed, promising never more to destroy the world by water; as a token whereof he
	IX. 9,	placeth the rainbow in the cloud. The same year Noah begins to plant
	20.	vines, and is drunk.
2346	XI. 10,	Arphaxad born.
2311	12,	Salah born.
2281	14,	Eber born.
2247	16.	Peleg born: so called, because in his days the earth was divided.
2234	X. 8,	About this time Nimrod begins to exalt himself, by laying the first foundation of the Assyrian monarchy.
	11.	Nineveh, the metropolis of Assyria, built.
2233	XI. 4, 6, 8, 9,	About this time the posterity of Nimrod begin to build the city and tower of Babel, so called from the confusion of languages which God sent among the workmen.
2217	18.	Reu born.
2188	Ps. CV. 23.	Mizraim, the grandson of Ham, leads colonies into Egypt, and layeth the foundation of a kingdom, which lasted 1663 years: whence Egypt is
	Is. XIX. 11.	called the land of Ham, and the Egyptian Pharaohs boasted themselves to be the sons of ancient kings.
2185	Gen. XI. 20,	Serug born.
2155	22,	Nahor born.
2126	24,	Terah, Abram's father, born.
2008	19,	Peleg, the sixth from Noah, dieth.
2007	25.	Nahor, the ninth from Noah, dieth.
1998	IX. 28, 29.	Noah dieth, aged 950 years, 350 years after the flood.
1996	XI. 32,	Abram born: he was 75 years of age when his father Terah died, aged 205
	26,	years: so that Terah begat not Abram in the 70th year of his age, but Nahor
1986	29, 30.	and Haran, and in the 130th year of his age begat Abram. See Acts vii. 4.
	XVII. 17.	Sarai Abram's wife (called also Iscah), Haran, Abram's brother's
1978	XI. 21,	daughter, born ten years after her husband.
1955	23.	Reu, the seventh from Noah, dieth.
1922	XI. 31.	Serug, the eighth from Noah, dieth.
		Terah with his family leaveth Ur of the Chaldeans, and dwells at Haran.

PERIOD III.

From Abram to the Ten Plagues, B. C. 1491.

1921	Genesis XII. 1, 2, 3,	ABRAM, after his father's decease, in the 75th year of his age, is commanded by God to enter upon the land of Canaan, which God promiseth to give unto his seed, and that in his seed (viz. Christ Jesus our Lord) all the families of the earth should be blessed.
1920	10.	In the year following, a famine in the land of Canaan forceth Abram
	Gal. III. 17.	with his family to go into Egypt. From his first coming into Egypt to the departure of the children of Israel out of it, are reckoned 430 years.
	Exodus XII. 40.	Abram and Lot in this same year return into Canaan; but the land not
	Genesis XIII.	being sufficient for both their flocks, they part asunder. Lot goeth to Sodom. God reneweth his promise to Abram; he removeth to Hebron, and there buildeth an altar.
	XV. 2.	Abram complaineth for want of an heir: God promiseth him a son, and a multiplying of his seed. Canaan is promised again, and confirmed by a sign.
1911	XVI. 1, 2,	Sarai, being barren, giveth Hagar her handmaid to Abram.
1910	15.	Ishmael, Hagar's son, born.
1908	XI. 13.	Arphaxad, the third from Noah, dieth.
1897	XVII. 5.	God maketh a covenant with Abram, and in token of a greater blessing changeth his name into Abraham. As a seal of this covenant, circumcision is ordained. Sarai her name is also changed into Sarah, and she is blessed. God promiseth them a son, and commandeth that his name be called Isaac; in him God promiseth to establish his covenant.

Before Christ.
	Genesis XVIII.	Abraham entertaineth three angels, who renew the promise to him of having a son. God revealeth to Abraham the destruction of Sodom,
	XXI.	with whom Abraham intercedes for Lot and his family. See Gen. xix. 29. Lot is commanded, for the preservation of himself and his family, to get out of Sodom, and to flee to the mountain; but by much entreaty he obtaineth leave to go into Zoar. Sodom, Gomorrah, and all the cities in the vale of Siddim, with all the inhabitants of them, are, for the most horrible sins, destroyed by fire and brimstone from heaven. The Dead Sea remains a monument thereof unto this day. Lot's wife, for looking back upon Sodom, contrary to God's command, is turned into a pillar of salt; and Lot himself, fearing to continue at Zoar, leaves the plain country, and betakes himself to the mountain, carrying his two daughters with him.
1896	XXI. 2.	Isaac born in the 100th year of Abraham's age. Not long after, to Lot are
	XIX. 36.	born Moab and Ammon, his sons at the same time, and his grandsons.
1892	XXI. 9.	Hagar and Ishmael, at Sarah's request are cast forth.
1878	XI. 15.	Salah, the fourth from Noah, dieth.
1871	XXII.	God tempteth Abraham to offer Isaac. Abraham giveth proof of his faith and obedience.
1859	XXIII.	Sarah dieth at Hebron in Canaan, in the 127th year of her age.
1856	XXIV.	Isaac marrieth Rebekah the daughter of Bethuel, the son of Nahor, in the 40th year of his age.
	XI. 11.	Shem, the son of Noah, dieth.
	XXV. 24.	Jacob and Esau born in the 60th year of their father Isaac's age.
1846	XXV. 7.	Abraham dieth, aged 175 years.
1837	XI. 17.	Heber, the fifth from Noah, dieth: from him Abraham and his posterity
1821		were called Hebrews. Gen. xiv. 13.
1817	XXVI. 34.	Esau, aged 40 years, marrieth Judith the daughter of Beeri the Hittite,
1796		and Bashemath the daughter of Elon the Hittite.
1773	XXV. 17.	Ishmael dieth, aged 137 years.
1745	XXX. 23.	Rachel, having been long barren, at length beareth Joseph. Jacob, desiring to depart, is persuaded by Laban to serve six years more for some part of his flock.
1739	XXXI.	Jacob, after he had been twenty years in Mesopotamia, sets forward on his journey homewards, without acquainting his father or his brothers-
	XXXII.	in-law. Rachel stealeth her father's gods, and is pursued by Laban. Jacob by his prudence is reconciled to his brother Esau. He wrestleth with an angel at Peniel, and is called Israel.
	XXXIV.	About this time, Dinah, Jacob's daughter, is defloured by Sichem the son of Hamor. Simeon and Levi, Dinah's brethren, revenge their sister's quarrel by putting all the males of Sichem to the sword; for which thing Jacob reproveth them.
	XXXV. 16.	Rachel is delivered of Benjamin on the way betwixt Beth-el, or Beth-le-hem, and Ephrath, and dies in childbed. Some think that Job lived about this time.
	XXXVIII. 16.	Judah lieth with Tamar his daughter-in-law in disguise.
1729	XXXVII.	Joseph is hated by his brethren, and is sold to merchantmen, Ishmael-
1718	XXXIX.	ites and Midianites, who carry him into Egypt, where he is sold to Potiphar, an officer of Pharaoh, and by him made overseer of his house.
	XL.	Joseph resisteth the temptations of his master's wife; he is falsely accused by her, and cast into prison. He interpreteth the dreams of Pharaoh's butler and baker, which come to pass according to his interpretation.
1716	XXXV. 28.	Isaac dieth, aged 180 years, and is buried by his sons, Jacob and Esau.
1715	XLI. 25,	Joseph interpreteth Pharaoh's two dreams; he giveth Pharaoh counsel, and is made governor of the whole land of Egypt.
	47,	Here begin the seven years of plenty in the land of Egypt. About
	50,	this time Manasseh and Ephraim, Joseph's two sons, are born of Asenath, the daughter of Potipherah, priest of On.
1708	54.	Here begin the seven years of famine.
1707	XLII. 1, 2, 3.	Jacob sendeth his ten sons to buy corn in Egypt; they are imprisoned by Joseph for spies; but are set at liberty on condition of bringing Benjamin, and Simeon is kept as a pledge.
	XLIII.	Jacob is with much difficulty persuaded to send Benjamin. Joseph
	XLV.	maketh himself known to his brethren, and sendeth for his father by command from Pharaoh.
1706	XLVI.	Jacob, having offered sacrifice to God for that his son Joseph is yet alive, goes with all his family into Egypt in the third year of the famine, and 130th year of his age. He is seated in the land of Goshen.
1704	XLVII.	Joseph getteth all the money, lands, and cattle of the Egyptians for bread; only the lands belonging to the priests he buyeth not.
1703	XLVIII.	Jacob adopteth Ephraim and Manasseh, and blesseth them, and all his
1689	XLIX.	sons: prophesieth the descent of the Messiah from Judah, and dieth, aged 147 years; seventeen whereof he lived in Egypt. He is, with great pomp, carried into Canaan, and buried in the sepulchre of his father.
1635	L.	Joseph on his death-bed prophesieth unto his brethren their return to Canaan; takes an oath of them to carry his bones out of Egypt, and dieth, aged 110 years.
		The book of Genesis endeth in the death of Joseph, containing the history of 2369 years: next to which in order of time the book of Job follows, written (as it is generally believed) by Moses.
1619	Exodus VI. 16.	Levi dieth in Egypt, aged 137 years; he was grandfather to Moses and
1577	I. 8.	Aaron.
1574	VII. 7.	Here begins the bondage of the children of Israel, when a king rose up in Egypt, who knew not Joseph.
1573	I. 15, 22.	Aaron born three years before his brother Moses, 83 years before the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt.
1571	II. 1, 5,	Pharaoh having in vain commanded the Hebrew midwives to destroy
1531	11.	all the males of the Israelites, sets forth an edict, charging that they be all cast into the river.
		Moses is born, who, being hid in the flags by the river's side, is found by Pharaoh's daughter, and becomes her adopted son.
		Moses, in the 40th year of his age, having slain an Egyptian whom he saw
	Josh. XIV. 7, 10.	contending with a Hebrew, fleeth into Midian, where he marrieth Zipporah the daughter of Reuel, or Jethro, a priest, and liveth with him forty years.
		Caleb, the son of Jephunneh, born.
1530	Ex. III.	Whilst Moses keeps his father-in-law's sheep at mount Horeb, God
1491	1, 2, &c.	appeareth to him in a burning bush, and sendeth him to deliver Israel.
	V.	Moses and Aaron having declared to Pharaoh the message on which they are sent unto him from God, are charged by him as heads of a mutiny, and sent away with many bad words; and more grievous labours are forthwith laid upon the Israelites.
	VII. 7.	Moses being now 80, and Aaron 83 years of age, urged thereunto by
	Psalm LXXVIII. CV.	God, return again unto Pharaoh, where the magicians by their sorcery imitating the miracles of Aaron's rod turned into a serpent, make Pharaoh more obstinate than he was before. Wherefore God by the hand of Moses lays ten plagues upon the Egyptians.

PERIOD IV.

From the departure of the Israelites, till Pharaoh gives his daughter in marriage to Solomon, B. C. 1014.

Before Christ 1491 — Exodus XII. 11, 29, 41.

UPON the fourteenth day of the first month (which was May the 4th, upon Monday with us), in the evening, the passover is instituted.

Upon the fifteenth of the same month, at midnight, the first-born of Egypt being all slain, Pharaoh and his servants make haste to send away the Israelites; and they, the self-same day wherein they were let go out of bondage, being the complete term of 430 years from the first pilgrimage of their ancestors, reckoning from Abraham's departure out of Charran, take their journey and march away, being 600,000 men, besides children, and come to Rameses, from whence by several encampings they come to the Red sea, the Lord conducting them in a pillar of a cloud by day, and in a pillar of fire by night. They carry Joseph's bones with them.

Numbers XXXIII.

Exodus XIV. — At the Red sea Pharaoh with his host overtakes them; Moses divides the waters with his rod, and the children of Israel pass through on dry ground unto the desert of Etham; whom, when Pharaoh and his army would needs follow, they are all overwhelmed by the waters coming together at the dawning of the day, whereby the Israelites are wholly freed from the bondage of the Egyptians; whose carcasses when they see floating all the sea over, and cast upon the shore, they sing a song of praise and thanksgiving unto God.

XV.

XVI. — Upon the fifteenth of the second month (our June the 4th, being Thursday), the Israelites come to the wilderness of Zin, which lieth between Elyma and Sinai, where, for want of food, they murmur against God and their leaders: about the even-tide God sends them quails, and the next morning rains upon them manna from heaven; and upon that kind of bread they lived afterward by the space of forty years, even till they came to the borders of the land of promise. An omer of it is preserved for a memorial.

XX. — God publisheth his Law, contained in the Ten Commandments, with a terrible voice from mount Sinai.

XXI. XXII., &c. XXIV. — The people being in great fear, God gives them sundry other laws, all which being written in the book of the covenant, Moses proposeth them to the people: which done, rising early in the morning, he builds an altar at the foot of the mountain, and sets up twelve statues, according to the twelve tribes of Israel, and sends twelve young men of the first-born (whom the Lord hath consecrated to himself as ministers of those holy things, before the Levitical priesthood was ordained), which offer sacrifice, first for sin, and then for thanksgiving, to the Lord: and when Moses had read the book of the covenant, he takes the blood of the calves and goats so offered, and with water, scarlet wool, and hyssop, sprinkles the book therewith, and all the people, or those twelve statues representing them; and so performs a solemn covenant between God and his people.

9, 18. — Moses and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and seventy men of the elders of Israel, go up into the mount, and there behold the glory of God: the rest returning, Moses with his servant Joshua abides there still, and waits six days, and upon the seventh day God speaks unto him, and there he continues forty days and forty nights (reckoning those six days which he waited for the appearance of the Lord), eating no meat all that while, nor drinking water (Deut. ix. 6); where he receives God's command touching the frame of the tabernacle, the priests' garments, their consecration, sacrifices, and other things comprised in this and the six following chapters.

XXV. &c. XXXI. 18. XXXII. — At the end of forty days God gives Moses the two tables of the Law in stone, made by God's own hand, and written with his own finger; bidding him withal quickly to get him down, for that the people had already made to themselves a molten calf to worship. Moses by prayer pacifieth God, and goes down from the mount, and seeing the people keeping a festival in honour of their idol in the camp, he breaks the tables of the law at the foot of the mount: for which the Jews keep a solemn fast unto this day.

20, 28. — Moses having burnt and defaced the idol, puts 3000 of the idolaters to death by the hands of the Levites.

XXXIV. — God commands Moses to frame new tables of stone, and to bring them with him into the mount: Moses brings them the next morning, and while he stands in the cleft of a rock, God passeth by, and showeth him a glimpse of his glory.

10. — God renews his covenant with his people, and upon certain conditions gives them his laws again.

1490 XXXIX. — In the first six months of this year, the tabernacle, the ark of the covenant, the altar, the table of show-bread, the priests' garments, the holy ointments, the candlestick, and other utensils and vessels belonging to the sacrifices, are finished in the desert at mount Sinai, and are brought unto Moses.

XL. — The tabernacle is set up and anointed with holy oil. Aaron and his sons are consecrated for the priesthood.

Lev. X. — Nadab and Abihu, for offering strange fire, are struck dead in the place by fire from heaven.

Numb. VII. — The princes of the tribes present their offerings towards the dedication of the tabernacle. God speaketh to Moses from the mercy-seat.

IX. — The second passover is instituted.

X. 29. Exodus. XVIII. — Jethro, who is also called Hobab, brings his daughter Zipporah, with her two sons, Gershom and Eliezer, which were left with him, to his son-in-law Moses: and having congratulated his and the whole people of Israel's deliverance out of bondage, he openly declares his faith and devotion towards the true God. By his advice Moses imparts the government of the people to some others, and ordains magistrates for the deciding of lesser causes.

Numbers. XI. 31. — Moses complains to God of the overgreat burden of his government; God, to ease him of his charge, gives him for assistance the court of seventy elders. The people lust for flesh. God gives them quails in wrath; and sends withal a most grievous plague among them.

XII. — God rebukes the sedition of Miriam and Aaron, and maintains Moses' right.

XIII. — From the wilderness of Paran, near Kadesh-bernea, twelve men are sent (among whom are Caleb and Joshua) to discover the land of Canaan. Returning, they bring with them a branch of a vine, with a cluster of grapes upon it; ten of the twelve so sent speak ill of the country, declare it barren, and magnify the cities for their strength, and the giantly stature of the inhabitants.

XIV. — The people, terrified with this relation, are about to return into Egypt, from which Caleb and Joshua endeavoring to dissuade them are like to be stoned. At this God is so provoked, that he threatens to destroy them; but is prevailed upon by Moses through his prayers to spare them. Nevertheless he denounceth that all who are now twenty years old and upward (except Caleb and Joshua) shall die in the wilderness. The men who raised the evil report are all destroyed by sudden death. Some endeavouring to enter upon the promised land, contrary to the command of God, are smitten by the Amalekites and Canaanites.

1489 Deut. I. 46. — In this place, viz. Kadesh-barnea, the Israelites continue many days; but that in some places they continued many years appeareth, for that in the space of 37 years there are but 17 encampings mentioned.

1471 Numbers XXXI. XVI. — To their long continuance in Kadesh, and the encampings from thence, all that we find delivered in the xvth and four next ensuing chapters of Numbers, seems to refer; as how Korah, Dathan and Abiram, for raising a mutiny against Moses and Aaron, were swallowed alive into the earth, and 250 of their associates; and how the people murmuring against Moses and Aaron for the calamity which had befallen their brethren, were destroyed by God, to the number of 14,700 men; and how twelve rods being brought by twelve princes, and laid in the sanctuary, Aaron's rod only budded, and brought forth almonds, and was laid up before the ark, for a memorial to those who should afterwards be given to rebellion.

Before Christ. 1471 — Numbers XVII.

1452 XX. — In these 37 years the Israelites, by 17 encampings, having compassed the hill country of Seir and Edom, they come to the wilderness of Zin, in the first month of the fortieth year after their departure out of Egypt.

1, — Here Miriam, the sister of Moses and Aaron, dieth.

2, — The people again for want of water murmur against Moses and Aaron, whom when God had commanded to call water out of the rock only by speaking to it, Moses, being moved in his mind through impatience and diffidence of the thing, speaks something, whatever it was, unadvisedly with his lips, and strikes the rock thrice with Aaron's rod, and thereby draws water from it; but for transgressing God's command, they are both debarred from entering into the land of Canaan.

12,

23, 28. — In the fifth month of this year Aaron dieth at Mosera, on the top of mount Hor, at the age of 123 years, leaving his son Eleazar his successor in the high priesthood.

XXI. 5, 9. John III. 14. 1 Cor. X. 9. Numbers XXI. — The people murmuring are plagued with fiery serpents, whereof many die; upon their repentance God commands that a brazen serpent be made and lifted up upon a pole, that as many as look on it may live.

About the latter end of this year, all those who at Kadesh-barnea mutinied against God being wholly extinct and dead, the Israelites pass over Zared, and come to the borders of Moab at Ar, and at length they arrive at Bamoth, a valley in the country of the Moabites, and pitch at mount Pisgah.

21, — Sihon, king of the Amorites, refusing them passage through his country, is slain, and the Israelites possess his land.

33. — Og, the king of Bashan, coming out against Israel, is destroyed with all his people, not one left alive, and his country possessed by the Israelites.

1451 XXII. 1, 2, — After these victories the Israelites set forward, and encamp in the plains of Moab.

3. — Balak, king of Moab, considering what the Israelites had done to the Amorites, fears, lest under pretence of passing through his country, they should possess themselves of his whole kingdom, takes counsel with the princes of the Midianites his neighbours, and sends for Balaam, a soothsayer out of Mesopotamia, to come and curse the Israelites, promising him great rewards for his labour; purposing afterward to make war upon them.

Joshua XXIV. 9. Numbers XXII. 7, 35. 2 Pet. II. 15, 16. Numbers XXIII. Deut. XXIII. 5. Joshua XXIV. 10. Numbers XXV. 1, 2, 3, &c. Deut. IV. 3. Psalm CVI. 28. Rev. II. 14. 1 Cor. X. 8. — Balaam, forewarned of God, refuseth at first to come; but being sent for a second time, he importuneth God to let him go, and goes with a purpose indeed to curse Israel; but God, offended thereat, makes the dumb ass of this wizard, on which he rode, speaking in a man's voice, to reprove his folly.

Balaam twice offers sacrifice, and would fain have cursed Israel, to gratify Balak therein; but being forced thereto by the Spirit of God, instead of cursing, he blesseth them altogether; foretelling what felicity attended them, and what calamities should befall their enemies.

By his advice the women of Moab and Midian are set on work to turn the Israelites away to idolatry. Wherefore God commands Moses first to take all the ringleaders of this disorder, and to hang them up before the sun, and then gives order to the judges to put to death all such as had joined themselves to Baal-peor. Last of all, God sends a plague upon the people, whereof die 23,000 men in one day: which added to them which were hanged and killed with the sword, amount in all to 24,000.

Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, by killing Zimri, the chief of his father's family, and Cozbi, the daughter of Zur, a prince of the Midianites, appeaseth the wrath of God, and the plague ceaseth. God therefore settleth the high priesthood for ever upon the house of Phinehas, and commands that war be made upon the Midianites.

Numbers XXV. Psalm CVI. 30. Numbers XXV. — Moses and Eleazar, by God's command, in the plain of Moab, near unto Jordan, over against Jericho, number the people from twenty years old and upwards, and find them to be 601,730 men, besides the Levites, whose number, reckoning them from one month old and upwards, comes to 23,000; and then Moses receives command for the parting the land of promise among the Israelites.

XXVII. 1, 2, 12, 23. Deut. III. 26, 27, 28. Numbers XXXI. Josh. XIII. 21, 22. — God signifies to Moses that he shall die, and Joshua is thereupon declared to be his successor; upon whom Moses lays his hands, and gives him instructions. Several laws are made.

Twelve thousand of the Israelites under the command of Phinehas, vanquish the Midianites, and put to the sword all the males among them, with their five princes, and among them Zur, the father of Cozbi, and Balaam the wizard; but they save the women alive; at which Moses is wroth, and commands that every male child, and all the women, except such as be virgins, be killed.

Numbers XXXII. Deut. III. Josh. XIII & XXII. — The lands which belonged to Sihon and Og, namely, all from the river Arnon to mount Hermon, Moses divides and gives to the tribes of Reuben and Gad, and the half tribe of Manasseh; so that their possessions lay on this side Jordan; nevertheless, they assist the rest of the tribes in all their wars, till they have subdued the Canaanites, and possessed the promised land.

Deut. XXVII. XXVIII. — Moses commands the people, that in their passage over Jordan they shall set up great stones, and engrave the Ten Commandments on them, with the form of blessing upon mount Gerizim, and of cursing on mount Ebal, exhorting them to observe the law of God, by setting before their eyes the benefits that would ensue thereon.

XXIX. — He also renews the covenant made by God with them and their children on mount Horeb, and again persuades them to keep that covenant by all the blessings and curses which would undoubtedly follow the keepers or breakers of it; yet with a promise of pardon and deliverance, if at any time, having broken it, they shall repent them of their sin; and tells them farther, that God had therefore thus declared his will unto them, to the end that none hereafter offending shall pretend ignorance.

XXX.

XXXI. XXXII. — Moses, having written this law, delivers it to the priests, the sons of Levi, and the elders of the people, to be kept; the same day also he writes his most excellent song, and teaches the same to the children of Israel to be sung; and having finished the book of the law, he takes order to have it laid up in the side of the ark.

XXXIII. — Moses now drawing near to his end, blesseth every tribe in particular, by way of prophecy, save only the tribe of Simeon.

XXXIV. — In the 12th month of this year he goes up to mount Nebo, and from thence beholds the land of promise, and there dieth, aged 120 years; the body of Moses God translates out of the place where he died into a valley of the land of Moab, over against Beth-peor, and there burieth it; nor doth any man know the place of it unto this day. The Israelites mourn for him 30 days.

Here ends the Pentateuch, or five books of Moses, containing the history of 2552 years and a half, from the beginning of the world; and the book of Joshua begins with the forty-first year after the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt.

Josh. II. — Joshua being confirmed in his government by God, sends forth spies from Shittim to the city of Jericho, who, being harboured by Rahab, are privily sent away, when search is made for them.

III. — Upon the tenth day of the first month (April 30), to wit, the same day that the Paschal Lamb was to be chosen out of the flock, the Israelites under the conduct of Joshua, a type of Jesus Christ, go up out of the river Jordan into the promised land of Canaan, a type of a more heavenly country. They pass through the river on dry ground, the waters being for the present divided; for a memorial of which miraculous passage, Joshua sets up twelve stones in the very channel of Jordan, and taking twelve other stones out of the midst thereof sets them up at Gilgal, the place where they next encamp.

IV.

V. 10. — Upon the 14th day of the same month, in the evening, the Israelites celebrate their first passover in the land of Canaan.

Before Christ.
1451	Josh. VI.	Jericho, the ark of the Lord having been carried round about it, is taken the seventh day, the walls thereof falling down at the sound of the priests' trumpets; all the inhabitants are put to the sword, except Rahab and her family.
	VII.	The Israelites besiege Ai, and are smitten by their enemies, God having abandoned them for sacrilege committed by Achan: Achan's sin being discovered by the casting of lots, and himself found guilty, he is stoned to death, and, together with his children and cattle, burned with fire.
	VIII.	God being pacified hereby, Ai is taken by ambushment and utterly destroyed.
	30, 35.	On mount Ebal, according to the law made, is an altar erected, and the Ten Commandments engraven on it; the blessings and cursings are repeated on mount Ebal and mount Gerizim, and the book of the law read in the ears of the people.
	IX.	The kings of Canaan combine against Israel: only the Gibeonites craftily find a way to save their own lives by making a league with them; but are afterwards deputed to the servile offices of the house of God.
	X.	Adoni-zedek, king of Jerusalem, with the kings of Hebron, Jarmuth, Lachish, and Eglon, hearing that Gibeon is fallen off from them, join their forces together and besiege it; but Joshua raiseth the siege, pursueth those five kings, and smiteth them as far as Azekah, the Lord in the meanwhile killing more with hailstones from heaven, than the Israelites with their swords. Joshua commands the sun to stand still over Gibeon, and the moon over the valley of Ajalon, by the space almost of one whole day, until the Israelites are fully avenged of their enemies. The five kings hide themselves in a cave at Makkedah; from whence they are brought forth, scornfully used, and hanged.
1450	Ex. XXIII. 10, 11.	From the autumn of this year, wherein, after the failing of manna, they began to till the ground, the rise of the sabbatical years is to be taken.
1445	Josh. XXIII.	Joshua, now grown old, is commanded by God to divide all the land on the west of Jordan among the nine tribes remaining, and the other half-tribe of Manasseh. The Lord and his sacrifices are the inheritance of Levi.
	XI.	The rest of the kings, with whom Joshua had waged war for six years, resolve to set upon him with united forces: but Joshua comes upon them unawares, slays them, and possesseth their countries.
	21.	Joshua now roots out those giants, the Anakims, with their cities, out
	XIV.	of the hill-countries, out of Hebron, Debir, and Anab, and generally out
	XV.	of all the mountains of Judah and all Israel. And having gotten the whole land into his hands, he divides it among the children of Israel according to their tribes; and the land rested from war.
1444		The first sabbatical year, or year of rest; from hence the year of
	XVIII.	Jubilee, or every fifty years' space is to be reckoned.
	XXII.	The tabernacle is set up at Shiloh (thought to be the same with Salem), where it continued 328 years.
1443	XXIII.	The Reubenites, Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh, with a blessing,
	XXIV.	are sent home to their possessions on the other side of Jordan.
1413	Judges II. 7.	Joshua gathers together all Israel, exhorts them to obedience, briefly recites God's benefits to them, reneweth the covenant between them and God, and dieth, 110 years old.
	III. 6, 7,	After the decease of Joshua, and the elders who outlived him, and who remembered the wonders which God had wrought for Israel, there succeeds a generation of men which forget God, and mingle themselves with the Canaanites by marriage, and worship their idols. In this time of anarchy and confusion, when every man did that which seemed right in his own eyes, all those disorders were committed, which are reported in the last five chapters of the Book of Judges; to wit, the idolatry of Micah and the children of Dan; the war of the Benjamites, and the cause
	8,	thereof. God, being highly provoked, gives them up into the hands of Cushan, king of Mesopotamia: which first calamity of theirs holds them but eight years.
1406	9,	Othniel, the son of Kenaz, and son-in-law to Caleb, stirred up by God as a judge and avenger of his people, defeats Cushan, and delivers the
	10,	Israelites out of bondage; and the land rested forty years after the first
1343	12,	rest which Joshua procured for them. Othniel dying, the Israelites fell again to sin against God, and are given over into the hands of Eglon, King of Moab, who, joining with the Ammonites and the Amalekites, overthrows the Israelites, and takes Jericho; and this second oppression continueth eighteen years.
1325	15,	Ehud, the son of Gera, is raised up by God to be an avenger of his
	30,	people; for feigning a message to Eglon, he runs him into the belly with his dagger; then getting away, he gathers all Israel into a body on mount Ephraim, and slays 10,000 of the most valiant men of Moab; and the land resteth forty years after the former rest obtained by Othniel.
	31.	After him, Shamgar, the son of Anath, slayeth 600 Philistines with an ox-goad, and he also avengeth Israel.
1305	IV. 1, 2, 3,	The Israelites, after the death of Ehud, returning to their old sin, are given up by God into the hands of Jabin, king of Canaan; and this thraldom of theirs continueth twenty years.
1285	4.	Deborah, the wife of Lapidoth, a prophetess, who at this time judgeth Israel in mount Ephraim, and Barak of the tribe of Naphtali, being made captain of the host of Israel, in sight of Megiddo, overcomes Sisera, captain of Jabin's army, whom Jael, the wife of Heber the Kenite, afterward kills in her own tent. For a memorial of which victory Deborah com-
	V. 31.	poseth a song; and the land resteth forty years after the former rest obtained by Ehud.
1242	VI.	The Israelites sinning again, are delivered into the hands of the Midian-
1245		ites; which fourth thraldom lasteth seven years. Hereupon they cry unto God for help, and are reproved by a prophet. Then Gideon, the son of Joash, of Manasseh, is by an angel from God sent to deliver them. He first overturns the altar of Baal and burns his grove, and is called Jerub-
	VII.	baal. He, out of 32,000 men, which came unto him, chooseth only (God so commanding) 300; but with them he puts to flight all the host of the Midian-
	VIII.	ites, whom the Ephraimites afterward pursue, and slay their princes Oreb and Zeeb. Gideon having pacified the Ephraimites, who complain that they were not called to the battle at first, passeth the river Jordan, and defeats the remainder of the Midianitish army; he chastiseth also the men of Succoth and Penuel, who had refused him victuals in his journey; and slays the two kings of the Midianites, Zebah and Zalmunna. After which great victories, the Israelites offering to settle the kingdom upon him and his posterity, he refuseth it; but receiving their golden ear-rings, he makes thereof an ephod, which afterwards proves an occasion of idolatry. The Midianites being thus vanquished, the land enjoys rest forty 1236	33.	years, after the former rest restored to them by Deborah and Barak.
	IX. 1, 2, &c.	Gideon dieth, and the Israelites, falling back again to idolatry, worship Baal-berith for their god.
1235		Abimelech, the son of Gideon (begotten upon his concubine), purposing to get to himself the kingdom which his father had refused, slayeth seventy of his brothers all upon one stone; and having, by the help of the Shechemites, got to be made king, Jotham, the youngest son of Gideon, who only escaped Abimelech's fury, from the top of mount Gerizim expostulates with them the wrong they had done to his father's house; and, by way of a parable, foretells their ruin; which done, he flies, and dwells quietly in Beer.
1233	22,	Abimelech, having reigned three years over Israel, Gaal, a Shechemite, conspires against him; which being discovered to him by Zebul, he utterly
1232		destroys the city of Shechem, and puts all the inhabitants to the sword, and burns the temple of their god Berith with fire; from thence he goeth
	50.	and layeth siege to Thebez, where he is knocked on the head with a piece
	2 Sam. XI. 21.	of a millstone, cast upon him by a woman from the walls, and then killed outright by his armour-bearer.
1210	Judges X. 1,	Tola the son of Puah, after Abimelech, judgeth Israel twenty-three years.
1206	2, 3,	Jair the Gileadite succeeds Tola, and judgeth Israel twenty-two years.
1188	8.	The Israelites, forsaking again the true God, fall to worship the gods of several nations, and are given up into the hands of the Philistines and Ammonites; which fifth thraldom lasteth eighteen years. Upon their repentance, and abandoning their idols, at length they obtain mercy.
1187	Judges X. 15.	Jephthah the Gileadite, being made captain of the host of Israel, subdues the Ammonites: before the battle he vows his daughter unawares to
	XI.	be offered in sacrifice, and afterward performs it. He puts to the sword
	XII. 6,	42,000 Ephraimites, who had behaved themselves insolently against him, and judgeth Israel six years.
1182	8,	Ibzan the Bethlehemite succeeds Jephthah, and judgeth Israel 7 years.
1175	11,	Elon the Zebulonite succeeds Ibzan, and judgeth Israel ten years.
1164	12,	Abdon the Ephraimite succeeds Elon, and judgeth Israel eight years.
1156	1 Sam. IV. 18.	Eli the high priest (in whom the high priesthood was translated from the family of Eleazar to Ithamar's) succeeds Abdon, and judgeth Israel forty years. The Israelites again provoke the Lord to anger, and he delivers them into the hands of the Philistines. This sixth thraldom
	Judges XIII. 1, 2,	begins seven months after Eli's entering upon the government, and lasteth forty years, even till seven months after his death, when the ark was brought back again.
1155		Samson the Nazarite, as an angel had foretold, is born at Zorah.
1137	24. XIV. 4.	Whilst Eli the high priest executeth the office of a judge in civil causes under the Philistines, Samson takes an occasion to quarrel with them, by marrying a woman of Timnath; for having on the day of his betrothing propounded a riddle to the Philistines, and laid a wager, his wife tells them the meaning of it; enraged hereat, he goes and slays thirty men of Askelon, and gives them the suits of raiment which he had stripped off their bodies, in performance of the wager which he had lost, and returns home to his father.
1136	XV.	Samson again in harvest-time goes to present his wife with a kid at her father's house, but finds her given away in marriage to another man: Samson resolves to be avenged; he catches 300 foxes, and tying fire-brands to their tails, turns them all into the corn-fields of the Philistines, and into their vineyards, and olive-gardens, and sets them all on fire. The Philistines take Samson's wife and father-in-law, and burn them; Samson in revenge slays a great multitude of them, and sits down upon the rock Etam, from whence being taken by 3000 of the Jews, and by them delivered into the hands of the Philistines, he slays of them a thousand men with the jaw-bone of an ass; in which place he is miraculously refreshed, when thirsty and ready to faint.
1117	XVI.	Samson is betrayed by Delilah his concubine, bereaved of the hair of his Nazariteship, and delivered to the Philistines; who put out his eyes, and bind him with chains of brass. The Philistines gather together to offer sacrifice to Dagon their god, and Samson is brought to make them sport; whose hair being grown, and his strength in a great measure restored, he takes hold of the two chief pillars whereon the house stood (wherein were the princes of the Philistines, and a great multitude of people) and pulls down the house, killing more men at his death than he did in all his lifetime. So he died, having judged Israel in the days of the Philistines twenty years.
1116	1 Sam. IV.	The Israelites take up arms against the Philistines, but with very ill success, for they lose 4000 men in the battle. Then they send for the ark of the covenant from Shiloh, and cause it to be brought into the camp. The Philistines, seeing now all lie at stake, encourage one another to behave themselves like men that day; and so falling on, they slay of the Israelites 30,000 men. The ark of God is taken, and Hophni and Phine-has, priests, and sons of Eli, are slain. Of all which when tidings are brought to old Eli, frighted thereat, he falls from his chair and breaks his neck, in the 98th year of his age.
		The Philistines, having brought the ark into Ashdod, set it in the house of Dagon their god. But when Dagon had been found two several times
	VI.	fallen groveling before it, and broken in pieces, and the inhabitants of the place sorely plagued, they remove it from thence to Gath, and from thence to Ekron. But the same plagues and judgments following wherever it went, after seven months, by the advice of their priests, they send home
	VII.	the ark again with presents and gifts into the land of the Israelites, and it is brought to Bethshemesh, where 50,070 men are smitten for looking into the ark. From hence it is carried to the house of Abinadab, in Kirjath-
1096		jearim, who sanctifieth his son Eleazar to keep it.
	13.	After twenty years the Israelites, by Samuel's persuasion, solemnly repent at Mizpeh, and, upon their conversion, God by thunder from heaven delivers them from the invasion of the Philistines, who are sub-
1095	VIII.	duced, the hand of the Lord being against them all the days of Samuel. Samuel, being grown old, takes for his assistance in the government his
	Hosea XIII. 10.	sons; by whose ill management of affairs, the Israelites require a king to be given them: whereupon God gives them a king in his wrath, to wit,
	1 Sam. XI. 12.	Saul, the son of Kish, after Samuel had judged Israel twenty-one years. Saul is privately anointed by Samuel, and afterward publicly proclaimed king at Mizpeh. About a month after Jabesh-gilead is besieged by Nahash king of the Ammonites, and the siege raised by Saul: whereupon the whole congregation of Israel, coming together at Gilgal, again proclaim Saul king.
1085	XVII. 12.	David the son of Jesse the Ephrathite, born at Beth-lehem-judah 30 years before he succeeded Saul in the kingdom. He was his father's youngest son.
1063	XVI. 11.	God rejects Saul, and sends Samuel to Beth-lehem, there to anoint
	XVIII.	David king, whom Saul ever after extremely persecuteth.
	XXIV.	Yet Jonathan, Saul's son, loveth him, and oftentimes rescueth him from Saul's cruelty.
1060	XXVI.	David, having Saul twice in his power, forbears to hurt Him.
1056	XXVII.	David, fearing he may some time or other fall into the hands of Saul, flies to Gath unto king Achish, carrying with him 600 men; and having obtained of him the town of Ziklag to dwell in, he continueth one year and four months in the land of the Philistines: from whence he invadeth the countries of the Geshurites, Gezrites, and Amalekites, and puts to the sword all, both men and women, not leaving one alive to carry the news thereof to king Achish.
1055	XVIII.	Achish, proposing to make war upon the Israelites, takes David along
	1 Chron. XII.	with him in that expedition, to whom, whilst he is upon his march with his 600 men, repair a great many others of the tribe of Manassch, and join with him.
	1 Samuel XXVIII.	Saul, seeing the army of the Philistines, is in great fear, and (Samuel being now dead) goes to En-dor to consult with a witch there: the woman raiseth an apparition of Samuel, and Saul receives from it that dreadful doom, The Lord will deliver Israel, together with thyself, into the hands of the Philistines.
	XXIX.	The princes of the Philistines growing jealous of David, he and his company early the next morning leave the army, and return to Ziklag.
	XXXI.	The armies join battle; and the Israelites are defeated; the three sons of Saul are slain, and he himself falls on his own sword.
	2 Samuel I.	Three days after, an Amalekite brings Saul's crown, and the bracelet that was upon his arm, and presents them to David, professing that, finding him fallen upon his sword, he had killed him outright, and taken the crown from off his head: whereupon David causeth him to be put to death for stretching forth his hand to slay the Lord's anointed, and lamenteth the death of Saul and Jonathan his son in a funeral song. David, having asked
	II.	counsel of God, goes up to Hebron with those that are about him, where
	1 Chron. XII. 23.	he is anointed king by the men of Judah, his own tribe, in the 30th year of his age: and there he reigns seven years and six months.
1048	2 Sam. III. 6,	Abner, affronted by Ishbosheth, revolteth to David, and deals with the
	22.	chief men of Israel to transfer the whole kingdom unto him, and this in the hearing of the Benjamites.
	IV. 2.	He comes to David, and is kindly received; returning, he is treacherously murdered by Joab. David much laments his untimely death, and buries him at Hebron.
		Baanah and Rechab murder their lord and master Ishbosheth, as he lieth resting himself upon his bed. They bring his head to David, who in detestation of their treason, causeth them immediately to be put to death.

Before Christ.
1044	2 Sam. VII. 1 Chron. XVII. XXII. 2 Sam. VIII. 1 Chron. XVIII. Gen. XV. 18. Deut. XI. 24.	David now dwelling in his house of cedar, which he had built, and living in a full and perfect peace, imparteth to Nathan the prophet his purpose of building a house for God; but is answered from God, that this was a work which should be done, not by him, because he was a man of blood, and trained up in war; but by his son Solomon, a man of peace, which should be born unto him. The time which passeth from hence till the birth of Solomon is spent in wars; wherein David subdues the Philistines, Edomites, Amalekites, Moabites, Ammonites, and Syrians, and extends his kingdom to the utmost bound of that land which had been promised to the seed of Abraham, and never possessed by any of them, save only by David and his son Solomon.
1035	1 Kings IV. 2 Sam. XI.	At the end of this year Joab, going with the army against the Ammonites, besiegeth Rabbah, the metropolis of Ammon, whilst David takes his ease at Jerusalem, and there commits adultery with Bathsheba the wife of Uriah the Hittite, who was then in the army, whom he also procures to be slain.
1034	1 Chron. XX. 2 Sam. XII.	The child so gotten in adultery is born. David is convicted by Nathan the prophet of his sin, and he repents; in testimony whereof he composeth the 51st Psalm. The child dieth.
1033	25. 1 Chron. XXII. 9.	Bathsheba becomes now David's wife, and beareth him a son, unto whom, as unto one who should prove a man of peace, God gives the name of Solomon; and, as to one beloved of the Lord, the name of Jedidiah.
1030	2 Sam. XIII. 1, 23.	Absalom avengeth his sister Tamar, and killeth his brother Amnon; for which thing he fleeth to Geshur in Syria, where he continues three years with king Talmai, his grandfather by the mother's side.
1027	XIV.	After three years' exile he returns to Jerusalem, where he continues two
1025		years, before the king his father admits him into his presence, and is reconciled to him.
1024	XV.	This rebel son having got chariots and horses, and a guard to attend him, insinuates himself into the favour of the people, and steals away their hearts from his father David.
1023	7.	The next year following, under pretence of a vow, he obtaineth leave to go to Hebron, where, by Ahithophel's counsel, he breaks out into open rebellion, and forceth his father to fly from Jerusalem.
	XVII.	Ahithophel, because his counsel in all matters is not followed by Absalom, hangs himself.
	XVIII.	Absalom having lost 20,000 men, fleeth, and a bough of an oak catching hold of him, he there hangs, and is run through by Joab.
1017	XXIV.	David, tempted by Satan, commandeth Joab to number the people: God, offended thereat, sends a prophet to put three plagues to his choice, viz., the famine, sword, or pestilence. David chooseth to fall into the hands of a merciful God, rather than into the hands of men. So God sends a pestilence; whereof 70,000 men die in one day. The angel being about to destroy Jerusalem, God bids him hold his hand: for he beholds David repenting in sackcloth, and entreating him to spare the innocent people, and to turn his hand upon himself, and upon his father's house.
	1 Chron. XXI.
1016	1 Kings XIV. 21.	Rehoboam is born unto Solomon by Naamah, an Ammonitish woman.
1015	1 Kings I.	David being now 70 years of age, and broken with continual cares and wars, grows so weak and feeble, that clothes can no longer preserve heat in him. Therefore Abishag, a young virgin, is appointed to keep him warm. Adonijah, seeing his father thus declining, by the assistance of Joab and Abiathar, makes himself king: which David understanding, he presently commands Zadok the priest, and Nathan the prophet, with other great men, to anoint Solomon king. Adonijah hearing this, betakes himself to the sanctuary, and is pardoned.
	II.	David, having given instruction to his son Solomon, dieth; after he had reigned in Hebron seven years and six months, and 33 years in Jerusalem over all Israel.
1014	III. 1. 2 Chron. VIII. 11. 1 Kings III. 5.	Pharaoh, king of Egypt, gives his daughter in marriage to Solomon. The Lord appears to Solomon in a dream, and bids him ask what he will, and it shall be given him. Solomon asketh wisdom; God gives him wisdom from above, and adds thereunto riches and honour. Of this divine wisdom Solomon makes an eminent manifestation in judging between two harlots.

PERIOD V.

From Foundation of First Temple to Obadiah's Denouncement of God's Judgment, B. C. 588.

1012	VI. 1. 2 Chron. III. 1. 1 Kings VI. 38. VIII. 2 Chron. V. VI. VII. 1 Kings XI. 2 Chron. IX. 1 Kings XII.	SOLOMON layeth the foundation of the temple in the 480th year after the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt.
1005		Solomon's temple finished in the eleventh year of his reign; having been seven years and a half in building.
1004		Solomon this year (being the 9th Jubilee, and opening the fourth Millenary of the world) with great magnificence celebrates the dedication of the temple: at which time God giveth a visible sign of his favour.
975		Solomon having, as it is with reason believed, forsaken his lusts and vanities, to which he had been too intemperately addicted, and written, as a testimony of his repentance, his book called the Preacher, dieth. He reigned 40 years.
		The Israelites assemble at Shechem to crown Rehoboam, Solomon's son, king over all Israel. The people by Jeroboam sue unto him for a removal of some grievances; to whom Rehoboam, by the advice of young men, returning a harsh answer, alienates the hearts of ten tribes from him, who make Jeroboam king over them, and fall at the same time from the house of David, and from the true worship of God.
	25.	Jeroboam, in the beginning of his reign, repairs Shechem, destroyed by Abimelech 258 years before, and there dwells; afterward going over Jordan he builds Penuel, and at length makes Tirzah the seat of his kingdom. But fearing lest his new subjects by going to Jerusalem to worship, may be induced to revolt from him, he deviseth a new form of religion, setting up two golden calves, the one at Beth-el, the other at Dan, for the seduced people to bow down unto.
	XIV. 17. XII. 26.
	XIV.	From the time of this dismal rent Rehoboam reigneth over Judah and Benjamin 17 years, and Jeroboam over Israel, or the other ten tribes, 22 years.
974	2 Chron. XII. XI. 17.	The Priests and Levites, and other Israelites who feared God, stick to Rehoboam, and maintain the kingdom of Judah three years; after which time Rehoboam falls to idolatry, and walketh no more in the ways of David and Solomon.
	1 Kings XII. 32. XIII. 2.	Jeroboam sacrificing to his calf at Beth-el, a prophet is sent unto him from God, who foretells the judgment which should one day be executed upon that altar, and the Priests (viz. those whom Jeroboam had made of the lowest of the people) that served at it. Which prophecy then and there is confirmed by signs and wonders upon the king himself, and upon the altar.
971	XIV. 25. 2 Chron. XII.	Shishak king of Egypt spoileth Jerusalem and the temple; but the king and the princes repenting at the preaching of Shemaiah the prophet, God gives them not over to utter destruction.
958	1 Kings XV.	Abijam the son of Rehoboam succeeds his father in the kingdom of Judah, and reigns three years.
957	2 Chron. XIII.	He obtains a great victory over Jeroboam, killeth 500,000 men in one battle, and taketh Beth-el.
955	1 Kings XV. 8,	Asa in the twentieth year of Jeroboam succeeds his father Abijam, and reigns 41 years.
954	25,	Nadab in the second year of Asa succeedeth his father Jeroboam in the kingdom of Israel, and reigneth not full two years.
953	27.	Nadab at the siege of Gibbethon (a town of the Philistines), is slain by Baasha of the tribe of Issachar in the third year of Asa; and the same year having made himself king over Israel, he utterly destroyeth the whole race of Jeroboam, and reigneth 24 years. In this time lived the prophets Jehu, Hanani, and Azarias.

Before Christ.
951	2 Chron. XIV.	Asa destroyeth idolatry, and enjoying ten years of peace, strengthens his kingdom with forts and a standing army.
941	9.	Zerah the Ethiopian with an innumerable army invadeth Judah: Asa overcomes him, sacrificeth to God of the spoil, and maketh a solemn covenant with God. He also deposeth Maachah his grandmother, a great patroness of idolatry; bringeth into the temple those things which his father and himself had consecrated unto God, and enjoys a long peace.
	XV.
930	1 Kings XVI. 6, 8,	Elah the son of Baasha succeeds his father in the kingdom of Israel.
929		In the second year of his reign, and the twenty-seventh of Asa's, Zimri, one of his captains, conspires against him, kills him, and reigneth in his stead. As soon as he sits in the throne, he destroyeth the whole family of Baasha; but the army which then lay before Gibbethon makes Omri then king, who presently besiegeth Tirzah, and taketh it; which Zimri seeing he sets on fire the king's palace, and perisheth in the flames.
	21,	The people of Israel are now divided into two factions; one follow Tibni the son of Ginath, and endeavour to make him king; the other adheres to Omri; but Tibni dying, Omri reigns alone in the 31st year of Asa.
925	22,
924	23, 24,	Omri having reigned six years in Tirzah, removes the seat of his kingdom to Samaria, a place which he himself had built.
918	29.	Ahab succeeds his father in the kingdom of Israel, and reigneth 22 years in Samaria. He did evil in the sight of the Lord above all that were before him.
914	1 Kings XXII. 41.	Jehoshaphat succeedeth his father Asa in the fourth year of Ahab king of Israel, and reigneth 25 years in Jerusalem.
912	2 Chron. XX. 31. XVII. 7.	Jehoshaphat being settled in his kingdom, and having demolished the high places and groves, in the third year of his reign he sends Levites with the princes to instruct the people in the law. God in the meantime subdueth his enemies under him.
901	1 Kings XX.	Ben-hadad king of Syria layeth siege to Samaria, who by the direction of a prophet is beaten off, and a vast number of the Syrians slain.
899	XXI.	Ahab not being able to persuade Naboth to sell him his vineyard, falls sick upon it; Jezebel his wife, suborning false witnesses to accuse him of blasphemy, causeth Naboth to be stoned, and puts the king in possession of the vineyard. Whereupon the prophet Elijah denounceth judgments against Ahab and Jezebel; wicked Ahab repenting, God defers the judgment.
898	XXII. 51. 2 Kings III. 1. I. 17.	Ahab in the seventeenth year of the reign of Jehoshaphat maketh his son Ahaziah his associate in the government of his kingdom. Jehoshaphat also maketh Jehoram his son copartner with him; whence it is, that Jehoram the son of Ahab, who succeeded his brother Ahaziah in the kingdom of Israel, in the eighteenth year of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, is said to have begun his reign in the second year of Jehoram the son of Jehoshaphat.
897	1 Kings XXII. 2 Chron. XVIII.	Ahab having got Jehoshaphat to assist him in the siege of Ramoth-gilead, before he goes, he asketh counsel of 400 false prophets, who promise him victory and success; but by Jehoshaphat's advice Micaiah, a true prophet of God, is consulted, who foretells his overthrow, and according to his word Ahab is slain at Ramoth-gilead, and buried at Samaria.
	2 Sam. VIII. 2. 2 Kings I.	Ahaziah king of Israel, lying ill of a fall, sends to consult Baalzebub the god of Ekron concerning his recovery. Elijah the prophet meeteth the messenger, and telleth him Ahaziah shall surely die; whereupon two captains with over fifty men apiece are sent to apprehend him, and bring him before the king; Elijah calleth for fire from heaven, and destroyeth both them and their companies. A third captain with his fifty men being sent, and behaving himself submissively, Elijah goes along with him; the prophet certifies the king that he shall not come down from his bed alive. So Ahaziah dieth, having governed (partly by himself, and partly together with his father) two years.
	1 Kings XXII.
	2 Kings III. 1.	Jehoram succeedeth his brother Ahaziah in the kingdom of Israel in the latter end of the eighteenth year of Jehoshaphat, and reigneth twelve years.
	II. 11.	Elijah is taken up into heaven in a fiery chariot.
892	2 Chron. XXI. 2, 3. 2 Kings VIII. 16.	Jehoshaphat grown old gives to his sons many gifts with fenced cities in Judea; but his eldest son Jehoram he now more absolutely investeth with the throne of the kingdom in the fifth year of Jehoram king of Israel.
889	2 Chron. XXI. 4, 5. Genesis XXVII. 40. 2 Chron. XXI. 10, 11,	Jehoram now, by the death of his father, has the kingdom of Judah to himself, which he holds for years. He is no sooner settled in his throne, but he puts all his brethren to the sword, with many of the princes of Israel. At this time the Edomites, who ever since king David's time had lived in subjection to Judah, revolt, and (as it was foretold by Isaac) they for ever shake off his yoke; Libnah also, a city of the priests in the tribe of Judah, falls off from him about this time.
888		Jehoram following the counsel of his wicked wife Athaliah, the daughter of Ahab king of Israel, sets up in Judah, and even in Jerusalem itself, the idolatrous worship of Baal, and compels his subjects thereto: a letter which was left for him by Elijah the prophet comes to his hands, which reproves him, and denounces all those calamities and punishments which afterward befell him.
885	2 Kings VIII. 25,	Ahaziah succeeds his father in the kingdom of Judah (having had part of the government bestowed upon him the year before) in the 12th year of Jehoram king of Israel, and reigneth one year in Jerusalem.
884	28.	Jehoram king of Israel, and Ahaziah king of Judah, lead their armies to Ramoth-gilead against Hazael, who had newly succeeded Ben-hadad in the kingdom of Syria: Jehoram is dangerously wounded, and retires himself to Jezreel to be cured. In the meantime Elisha sendeth a young prophet with instructions to anoint Jehu the son of Jehoshaphat, the son of Nimshi, at Ramoth-gilead, king over Israel, and to open to him the will of God for the rooting out of the house of Ahab; who, being proclaimed king by the soldiers, marcheth straight to Jezreel, killeth Jehoram in the field of Naboth, and causeth Jezebel to be cast out at a window, where she is eaten by dogs. He despatcheth letters also to Samaria, and causeth seventy of Ahab's children to be beheaded. Then taking with him Jehonadab the son of Rechab, he comes himself to Samaria, and destroys the whole family of Ahab, and all the priests of Baal. Nevertheless, having put down the worship of Baal, he departs not from the worship of Jeroboam's golden calves, but maintains that idolatry all the time of his reign, which was 28 years.
	IX.
	2 Kings X.
	IX.	Jehu proceeds farther, and executes the divine vengeance upon the idolatrous house of Judah; he pursues Ahaziah, who fled towards Megiddo, and overtaking him at Gur, causeth him to be killed in his chariot. Going also to Samaria, he meeteth with 42 of Ahaziah's kinsmen, whom he causeth to be slain.
	X.
	XI. 2 Chron. XXII. 10.	Athaliah the daughter of Ahab, seeing her son Ahaziah dead, usurps the kingdom, destroying those that had right to the succession; but Jehosheba the daughter of king Jehoram, and wife to Jehoiada the high priest, takes Jehoash, being then an infant, and son to her brother Ahaziah, and hides him in the temple, and so saves him from that massacre which was made of the rest of the blood royal.
878	2 Kings XI. 2 Chron. XXIII.	Jehoiada the high priest brings out Jehoash, now seven years old, and anoints him king; causeth Athaliah to be slain, and restoreth the worship of the true God, destroying the house of Baal, and commanding the idolatrous priest Mattan to be killed before his altars. Jehoash now beginning his reign in the seventh year of Jehu, reigneth 40 years in Jerusalem.
857	2 Kings XII. 7. XIII. 1.	Jehoash, in the 23d year of his reign, giveth order for the repair of the temple, committing the charge thereof to Jehoiada the high priest.
	VIII. 12.	Jehoahaz succeedeth his father Jehu in the kingdom of Israel, and reigneth 17 years: during all which time Hazael king of Syria oppresseth him, and exerciseth all those cruelties upon the Israelites, which Elisha the prophet had foretold.
841	XIII. 10.	Jehoash, the son of Jehoahaz king of Israel, is taken into the consortship of that kingdom by his father in the 27th year of Jehoash king of Judah, and reigneth 16 years.

840	2 Chron. XXIV. 2 Kings XII. 20.	Judah that fall to idolatry after the decease of Jehoiada, is stoned to death in the court of the house of the Lord by the commandment of king Jehoash, who the next year after is murdered by some of his servants, as he lay in his bed; and Amaziah his son succeedeth him.
833	XIII.	Jehoahaz dieth, and Jehoash his son succeedeth in the kingdom of Israel. Not long after his father's funeral he visits Elisha the prophet then lying sick, and with many tears asketh counsel of him, who promiseth him victory over the Syrians. A dead man is brought to life by being laid in Elisha's grave.
836	XV. 1.	Jeroboam the second in this year taken into the consortship of the kingdom of Israel by his father Jehoash, going to war against the Syrians. This is gathered from Azariah king of Judah's beginning to reign in the 27th year of this Jeroboam.
826	XIV. 2 Chron. XXV.	Amaziah king of Judah, growing proud upon a victory obtained against the Edomites this 14th year of his reign, provoketh Jehoash king of Israel to battle. Jehoash overcomes him, and takes him prisoner, breaks down 400 cubits of the wall of Jerusalem, and having spoiled the temple and the king's house of a vast treasure, returns to Samaria.
825	2 Kings XIV. 23	Jehoash dies fifteen years before Amaziah, and Jeroboam the second, his son, reigneth in Samaria 41 years.
810	XIV. 2 Chron. XXV.	Amaziah, finding a conspiracy against him at Jerusalem, flies to Lachish, where he is murdered; after whom comes his son Uzziah, or Azariah, in the 27th year of Jeroboam the second, and reigneth 52 years in Jerusalem.
808	2 Kings XV XV. 25. Isaiah IX. 1. Jonah III. Matt. XII. 41.	Now is held the 13th Jubilee under the two most flourishing kings; in whose times live sundry great prophets in both kingdoms; Isaiah and Joel in Judah; Jonas, Hosea, and Amos, in Israel. Jonas of Gath-hepher, a town belonging to the tribe of Zebulon in Galilee of the Gentiles, (observe here the blindness of the Pharisees, John vii. 52,) was afterward sent into Nineveh, the metropolis of Assyria, where both king and people at his preaching repented.
784	2 Kings XIV. 29.	Jeroboam king of Israel (under whom that kingdom came to its full height of glory) dieth; after his death all things fall into confusion, and the state is reduced to a plain anarchy, which lasteth 11 years and a half; for such an interregnum or vacancy the synchronism of Kings requires, that the six months of Zachariah the son of Jeroboam may answer the 38 years and one month of Shallum, who murdered him in the 39th year of Azariah, or Uzziah, king of Judah.
773	XV. 8.	Zechariah the son of Jeroboam, the 4th and last of the race of Jehu, (as was foretold,) begins his reign over Israel in the 38th year of Azariah, or Uzziah, king of Judah, and reigneth six months.
772	10. Amos VII. 9.	Shallum the son of Jabesh, at the end of six months, murders him in the sight of the people, and reigns one month, in the 39th year of Uzziah king of Judah. After Zachariah's death follow those direful calamities foretold by Amos the prophet.
771	2 Kings XV. 14, 19,	Menahem the son of Gadi going from Tirzah to Samaria, killeth Shallum, wasteth Tiphsah and the borders thereof, and because the town would not open to him, he takes it, and rips up all the women with child. While Menahem in these broils labours to get the possession of the kingdom, Paul king of Assyria invadeth his country, to whom Menahem giveth 1000 talents of silver, and afterward reigneth quietly 10 years.
761		Pekahiah succeedeth his father Menahem in the 50th year of Uzziah king of Judah, and reigneth 2 years.
759	25, 27,	Pekah, one of his captains, kills him in his own palace at Samaria, and reigneth 20 years.
758	32. 2 Chron. XXVII. 5. Mic. I. 1.	Jotham succeedeth his father Uzziah in the kingdom of Judah at the age of 25 years, and reigneth 16 years in Jerusalem. Jotham subdues the Ammonites, and makes them tributary for 3 years. Under him and his two successors the prophets Micah and Hosea execute their prophetical office. About this time lived the prophet Nahum, and prophesied the destruction of Nineveh.
742	2 Kings XVI. 1. 2 Chron. XXVII. 1. Isa. VII.	Ahaz succeedeth his father Jotham in the 17th year of Pekah king of Israel, and reigneth 16 years. This year Rezin king of Syria, and Pekah king of Israel are confederate against Judah, which strikes a great terror into that nation; but unto Ahaz, God, by the prophet Isaiah, sends a gracious message, with a promise of deliverance; for a sign whereof (when the incredulous king, being bid to ask a sign, refused to do it) God gives him the promise of Immanuel to be born of a virgin. Rezin and Pekah now lay siege to Jerusalem, and therein to Ahaz, but are beaten off; Ahab is no sooner delivered from his enemies, but he forsakes God his deliverer, and falls to idolatry. Wherefore God gives him over into the hands of the king of Israel, who slays of the men of Judah 120,000 in one day, with a great many of the nobility, and carrieth away 200,000 captives; but these, by the advice of the prophet Obed, are released and sent home.
739	2 Kings XV. 30.	Hoshea the son of Elah murders Pekah king of Israel, and gets the kingdom into his own hands; it is said in the 20th year of Jotham, that is from the time that Jotham first began to reign, which is the same with the 4th of Ahaz his son. Hoshea, by reason of the tumults and disorders which ensued, cannot be said to have reigned till 9 years after, the state continuing all that time in great confusion, without any form of government.
730
728	XVII. 8.	Shalmaneser, king of Assyria, comes up against Hoshea, and makes him to serve him, and pay him tribute.
726	XVIII. 1. 2 Chron. XXIX. XXX.	Hezekiah succeedeth his father Ahaz in the kingdom of Judah: he destroyeth idolatry, and prospers: he also celebrates a solemn passover, and reigneth 29 years in Jerusalem; his father had made him in the last year of his reign, his assistant in the government.
725	XXXI. 2 Kings	Hoshea king of Israel, having consulted with So king of Egypt, refuseth to pay tribute to Shalmaneser: provoked hereby, and jealous of some farther design in that confederacy of Hoshea with the king of Egypt, Shalmaneser layeth siege to Samaria, and towards the latter end of the third
724	XVII. 4.	year he taketh it, and carrieth away the Israelites captive into his own
721		country. This was the end of the kingdom of Israel, when it had stood divided from the kingdom of Judah 254 years.
713	XVIII. XX. Isaiah XXXVIII.	Sennacherib king of Assyria, coming up against Judah, besiegeth their fenced cities, and taketh many of them, but is pacified by a tribute. About this time Hezekiah falls sick, and is told by Isaiah that he shall die, but pouring out his tears and prayers unto God, he recovereth his health, and obtaineth a prolongation of his life and kingdom for 15 years. For a sign whereof the sun goes ten degrees backward.
710	2 Kings XIX. Isaiah XXXVII.	Sennacherib, not observing the articles of peace, layeth siege to Jerusalem, and sendeth a blasphemous letter to Hezekiah; which he opening, and spreading before the Lord in the temple with many tears, craves assistance from God against the Assyrians. Whereupon the prophet Isaiah assures him that God will deliver him and defend that city. The self-same night an angel of the Lord slays 185,000 men in the Assyrian army; and the next morning Sennacherib departeth, and returns to Nineveh; where not long after, whilst he is worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, he is slain by his own sons.
677	2 Kings XXI. 2 Chron. XXXIII.	Manasseh at 12 years of age succeedeth his father Hezekiah, and reigneth 58 years. He setteth up idolatry, and sheddeth much innocent blood. Wherefore God delivers him up into the hands of the Assyrians, who in the 22d year of his reign carry him away captive to Babylon: but upon
656	Judith XIII.	his repentance God restores him to his liberty and kingdom. This year Nebuchodonosor king of Assyria, purposing to make himself universal monarch, sends Holofernes his general against Judea, who layeth siege to Bethulia, and there hath his head taken off by Judith, a

An idolater indeed, as his father, but no penitent: he is murdered by his own servants. Josiah, a child of 8 years old, succeedeth his father Amon, and reigneth 31 years. In his time lived Jeremiah and Zephaniah the prophets, and Huldah the prophetess.

	2 Chron. XXXIV.	In the 12th year of his reign, he begins a reformation in Judah and Jerusalem and carries it on successfully.
630		This year he giveth order for the repair of the temple. Hilkiah the high
624		priest, having found a book of the law, sends it to the king, who hears it read all over to him; and thereupon asketh counsel of Huldah the prophetess, who prophesieth the destruction of Jerusalem, but not in his days.
	2 Kings XXIII. 2 Chron. XXXIV.	Josiah calling to him the elders of Judah and Jerusalem, with the priests and prophets, causeth the book of the law to be read over before all the people, and reneweth the covenant between God and his people; he burneth also dead men's bones upon the altar at Beth-el, as was foretold; and keepeth a most solemn passover.
610	2 Kings XXXIII. 9.	At this time a war breaks out between the king of Egypt and the king of Assyria. Josiah unadvisedly engageth in this war against Necho king of Egypt, and is slain in the valley of Megiddo. The good king being thus taken out of the world, whose life only kept off the Babylonish captivity from that nation, not only the people then living bewailed his death, but
	Zechar. XII. 11.	even in after time a public mourning for him was kept. The prophet Jeremy also in remembrance thereof composeth his Lamentations; wherein bewailing the calamities which were shortly to befall that people, as present
	2 Chron. XXXV. 25. Lam. IV. 20.	before his eyes, in a most compassionate manner he points, as it were with his finger, at the death of Josiah as the source and original of all those ensuing miseries.
	2 Kings XXIII. 2 Chron. XXXVI.	After the death of Josiah, the people anoint Shallum, one of his younger sons, to be their king. After three months' reign, he is deposed by Pharaoh Necho, who makes Eliakim, his elder brother, king over Judah and Jerusalem, and changes his name into Jehoiakim; but Jehoahaz he carries along with him captive into Egypt, where he ends his days.
	5.	Jehoiakim, at 25 years of age, begins to reign, and he reigneth 11 years.
609	Jerem. XXVI.	Uriah and Jeremiah prophesy against Jerusalem: the former is put to death, the latter is acquitted, and set at liberty. About this time Habbakkuk also prophesieth.
607	XXV. 1.	This year is Nebuchadnezzar the Great made by his father Nebopolazzar his associate in the kingdom of Assyria and Babylon; into whose hands
	2 Chron.	God delivers up Jehoiakim, who is put in chains to be carried to Babylon;
606	XXXVI. 6.	but upon his submission and promises of obedience is left in his own house, where he lives a servant to Nebuchadnezzar 3 years.
	Daniel I. 3, 7. Isaiah XXXIX. 7.	Nebuchadnezzar gives order to Ashpenaz, master of the eunuchs, that he shall carry from thence of the children of Israel, both of the blood royal (as was foretold by the prophet Isaiah to Hezekiah) and also of the nobility, the choicest youths both for beauty and wit that he can find; who, being educated 3 years in the language and sciences of the Chaldeans, may afterward be fit to serve the king in his palace; among whom, of the tribe of Judah, are Daniel, called Belteshazzar; Hananiah, called Shadrach; Mishael, called Meshach; and Azariah, called Abed-nego.
605		Whilst Nebuchadnezzar pursues his victories over the king of Egypt, his father dies; which coming to his knowledge, he gives order for the bringing away of the captives, and posts with a small company the nearest way to Babylon, where he is received as the lawful successor to his father's dominions. He brought to Babylon what he thinks fit of the vessels and furniture of the temple, and placeth them in the house of his god, Belus.
	Dan. I. 2. 2 Chron. XXXVI. 1.
603	2 Kings XXIV. 1. Dan. II.	Jehoiakim, having lived 3 years in subjection to the king of Babylon, falls off, and rebels against him. This year (being the second of Nebuchadnezzar's reign, taking it as if begun at his father's death,) Daniel recovers Nebuchadnezzar's dream, and interprets it to betoken the four chief monarchies; whereupon he and his companions are highly advanced.
600	2 Kings XXIV. 2.	Nebuchadnezzar sends an army, consisting of Chaldeans, Syrians, Moabites, and Ammonites, against Jehoiakim; these waste the whole
599	Jerem. XXII. 18. XXXVI. 30.	country of Judea, and carry away from thence 3023 captives. Jehoiakim also is taken prisoner, whom they put to death, cause his carcass to be drawn out at the gate of Jerusalem (as was foretold by the prophet Jeremiah) and leave it without the walls unburied.
	2 Kings XXIV. 8. 2 Chron. XXXVI. 9.	Jehoiachin (called also Conias and Jeconias) at 18 years of age succeeds his father Jehoiakim, and reigns three months in Jerusalem. Against him Nebuchadnezzar leads an army, and besiegeth Jerusalem:
	Isaiah XXXIX. 6. Jerem. XXIV. 1. Ezekiel XVII. 12. I. 2, 3.	Jehoiachin with all his kindred and courtiers come out to meet him. Nebuchadnezzar makes them all prisoners, enters Jerusalem, and takes all the treasure he can find in the temple and the king's palace, breaking in pieces all the vessels of gold and furniture which Solomon had made for the temple; he carrieth away captive to Babylon the king, his mother, wives, courtiers, magistrates, and 10,000 able men out of Jerusalem, leaving none behind but the poorer sort of people; and out of the country round about he carried also away 8000 artificers; among the captives are Mordecai, and Ezekiel, the priest; Ezekiel therefore in his prophecy reckons the time all along from the beginning of this captivity.
	2 Kings XXIV. 17. 2 Chron. XXXVI.	Nebuchadnezzar before his departure from Jerusalem, makes Mattaniah, Jehoiachin's father's brother, king, changing his name into Zedekiah. Zedekiah, beginning his reign at 21 years of age, reigneth 11 years; he, by rebelling against Nebuchadnezzar, or rather by continuing in open rebellion (as his fathers had done) against God, brought upon Jerusalem and the whole nation of the Jews those long-deserved calamities which God had so often forewarned them of by his prophets; for, in the latter end of the year
588		of Zedekiah, Jerusalem, after a long siege, is taken by Nebuchadnezzar, and
	2 Kings XXV. Jerem. I. 3. XXXIX. LII.	his Chaldeans enter it. Zedekiah flees away by night, but being pursued, is taken, and brought prisoner to Riblah, Nebuchadnezzar's head-quarters; there having first seen his children slaughtered before his eyes, he has afterward those eyes put out, and being loaden with chains, is carried away captive to Babylon. About a month after the taking of the city, Nebuzar-adan captain of the guard, sent by Nebuchadnezzar, makes his entry into it sets fire to the temple, the king's palace, and some noblemen's houses, and so layeth the whole city in ashes; the walls of Jerusalem being razed to the ground; all that were left in the city, and those that a little before had fallen to the Chaldeans, with what treasure he can find, doth Nebuzar-adan carry with him into Babylon.
	76. 2 Kings XXV. 21. Jerem. XLIX. 7. Ezekiel XXV. 12.	And thus was Judah carried out of her own land, 468 years after David began to reign over it, 388 years after the falling off of the ten tribes, and 134 years after the destruction of the kingdom of Israel. Obadiah the prophet denounceth God's judgments against the Edomites who now insult over the calamity of the Jews. The same do Jeremy and Ezekiel, and the author of the 97th and 137th Psalms, who wrote all about the same time.

PERIOD VI.

From Nebuchadnezzar to Birth of John the Baptist, B. C. 4.

569 The Babylonian Empire. 562	Dan. IV. 29, 33, 34.	NEBUCHADNEZZAR, proud of his victories over Egypt, and his conquest of Judea and other countries, and boasting the magnificence of his buildings, falls distracted, and is driven from the society of men. After seven years spent among the beasts of the field, his understanding returning to him, he humbly acknowledgeth the power of God, and his goodness towards him; and is restored to his kingdom. A few days after he dies, having reigned about 20 months together with his father, and 43 years by himself.
	2 Kings XXV. 27. Jer. LII. 31.	Evil-merodach his son succeeds him in the 37th year of the captivity of Jehoiachin or Jeconiah, who presently gives order for the enlargement of Jehoiachin, and two days after changeth his prison-clothes, sets him above all the princes of his court, and causeth him to eat at his own table. Jehoiachin dies about two years after.

Before Christ. 555	Daniel VII. 1.	Belshazzar, having removed some persons who had murdered his father Evil-merodach, and usurped his throne, succeeds in the kingdom of Babylon. In the first year of this king's reign Daniel has the vision of the four beasts, signifying the four great monarchies of the world, and of God delivering over all power and sovereignty to the Son of Man.
553	VIII. 1.	In the third year of Belshazzar, Daniel receives the vision of the ram and the he-goat, betokening the destruction of the Persian monarchy, and the great misery which Antiochus should bring upon the people of God.
538	V. Jerem. XXVII. 7. Dan. V. Isa. XIII. Hab. II. Jerem. XXV. 12. L. LI. Dan. V. 31. VI. 6.	This year Belshazzar makes a great feast for all the nobles, and causeth to be brought forth all the vessels of the house of the Lord, which Nebuchadnezzar his grandfather had brought away from Jerusalem, to the glory of his idols, and dishonour of the true God. In the midst of all this jollity a hand appears writing on the wall of the room in which the king and his numerous guests sit drinking. The king, greatly terrified hereat, sends for his Chaldean astrologers and wizards, and commands them to read the writing, and give him the interpretation of it; but they not being able to do either, Daniel is sent for, who reads the writing, and gives the king the interpretation of it: whereupon Daniel is publicly proclaimed the third man in the kingdom. This same night Belshazzar is slain, Babylon is taken by Cyrus, and the empire translated to the Medes and Persians, as had been sundry times foretold by the prophets.
		Cyrus having given the kingdom of Babylon to Darius the Mede, reserving some palaces in the city for himself, he returns through Media into Persia.
		Daniel's greatness raising envy in some principal courtiers and officers, these contrive his ruin: but finding nothing in his management of affairs whereof to accuse him, they resolve to order matters so, that Daniel's piety towards God shall become an offence worthy of death. They move the king to make a decree, that for 30 days no petition shall be made to any god or man, but to himself only. Which decree Daniel breaks by making supplication to his God, and is for so doing cast into a den of lions; but being found to have received no hurt there, Darius commands his conspirators to be cast into the same den, who are presently devoured; and the king publisheth a decree, that all persons throughout his dominions shall reverence and fear the God of Daniel.
537	IX. Jerem. XXIX. 10. Dan. IX.	Towards the end of the first year of the reign of Darius the Mede, to be reckoned from the subversion of the Babylonish empire, begins the 70th year of the captivity of the Jews, which, by Jeremiah's prophecy, was to be the last year of their calamity. Upon consideration of which time so near at hand, Daniel pours out his most fervent prayers to God for the remission of his own sins, and those of his people; and for that promised deliverance out of their captivity. To whom the angel Gabriel brings an answer not only of this, but also of the spiritual deliverance of the church by the death of the Messiah; uttering that memorable prophecy of the seventy weeks.
536 The Persian Empire.	Ezra I. 2. Isaiah XLIV. 28. XLIV. 1, 13.	Cyrus, his father Cambyses and his father-in-law Cyaxares both dying, Persia falls to him by inheritance, and Media by contract of marriage: and so he is possessed of the whole eastern empire; from which time both Xenophon (Inst. lib. 8.) reckons the 7 years of his reign, and the Holy Scripture out of the records of the Medes and Persians, reckons this his first year; for it teacheth us, that in this year came forth that renowned edict of his, Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, The Lord God of Heaven hath given me all the kingdoms of the earth, and hath charged me to build him a house at Jerusalem which is in Judah, &c. At which time the 70 years of the Babylonish captivity being expired, (as was foretold by Isaiah and Jeremiah, the former making mention of Cyrus by name,) he gives leave to all the Jews, dwelling in all parts of his dominions, to return into their own country, and commands them immediately to fall in hand with rebuilding of the temple.
		He restoreth also all the vessels of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar had brought from thence; and contributes towards the building.
	Ezra I. 5, 6. II. Nehem. VII.	The Jews therefore return into their own country; the poorer sort having allowance made them to defray their charges upon the way. The number of the children of the province, or Hebrews born in Chaldea, which with their captain Zerubbabel, and their high priest Joshua, return out of captivity, is 42,360, besides proselytes, men-servants, and maid-servants, to the number of 7,337. Now the particular sums of Ezra's catalogue being cast up amount only to 29,818; and those in Nehemiah's account make but 31,031, both which come far short of that general sum of 42,360, which at the bottom of each catalogue is said to be the number of the whole congregation. Wherefore the Hebrews in the xxixth chapter of their great chronicle tell us, that to complete the full sum of 42,360, we must cast in those of the other ten tribes of Israel, who came up out of the captivity with the Jews. For even till the last extirpation of the Jewish state there remained some relics of the other ten tribes, not only in the dispersion, and at Jerusalem, and other cities of Judah; but also of those who kept still in their own seats; for Shalmaneser swept not away all out of the whole ten tribes, but left a remnant of them in their own country, who were afterward, together with the Jews, Benjamites, and Levites, carried away by Nebuchadnezzar into Babylon, and are now dismissed and sent back again by Cyrus.
	Acts XXVI. 7. Lam. I. 1. Luke II. 36.
	Ezra III. 8, 13.	In the second year after their return from Babylon, in the second month, they appoint Levites to oversee the work of the house of God, and lay the foundation of the temple; the old men lamenting, who 53 years before had seen the old temple standing, and the younger sort rejoicing to see the new one going up.
	IV. 5, 6.	The Samaritans by the means of certain courtiers about Cyrus, whom they had bribed for that purpose, disturb the Jews in their work of the temple.
		In the beginning of the reign of Artaxerxes (called in profane story Cambyses) the Samaritans, who, whilst Cyrus lived, had secretly undermined the Jews, now openly frame a direct accusation in writing against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem, and present it to the king, who presently forbids the Jews to proceed in the building.
520	V. 1.	In the second year of king Darius Hystaspes (the same with Ahasuerus) Zerubbabel and Jeshua, incited by the prophets Haggai and Zechariah, set forward the building of the temple.
	Hag. II. 1, 9.	Haggai prophesieth that the glory of this second temple shall be greater than that of the former; not as being a more magnificent structure, but in regard the blessed Messiah shall one day honour it with his presence, and from thence propagate peace to all nations.
518	Est. I. II.	Ahasuerus puts away queen Vashti his wife, and not long after espouseth Esther, the niece of Mordecai the Jew.
515	Ezra VI.	In the sixth year of Darius, or Ahasuerus, the temple is finished; the dedication whereof is celebrated with great joy and abundance of sacrifices, the priests and Levites, every one in his place, standing on the ministry of the temple. The passover also is celebrated.
510	Est. III. Deut. XXV. 19.	Haman, an Agagite, of the race of the Amalekites, a great favorite of king Ahasuerus, offended at Mordecai, because he falls not down and adores him, as others do, resolves to be revenged of the whole nation of the Jews, (which was ever averse to his,) and to root it out; for the executing of which purpose, that he may find a successful time, he causeth Pur, that is, the lot, to be cast before him, for to know the day and month wherein the Jews shall be destroyed, and the lot falls on the 12th month Adar.
	Est. IV.	Haman obtains an edict from the king, that all Jews, without respect to sex or age, upon the thirteenth day of the month Adar, be put to death in all the provinces of the king's dominions. Hereupon Mordecai, Esther, and all the Jews, humble themselves before the Lord by fasting and prayer.
	VI.	Ahasuerus, hearing it read in the chronicles that a conspiracy had been discovered to him by Mordecai, commandeth that he be publicly honoured and that by Haman himself, his deadly enemy.
	VII.	Esther, entertaining the king and Haman at a banquet, maketh suit for her own life, and her people's, and accuseth Haman. The king, understanding that Haman had provided a gallows for Mordecai, causeth him to be hanged thereon. In memory of this great deliverance the two days of Purim are made festival.
509	IX.

Before Christ. 467	Ezra VII.	Ezra the priest, a man skilled in the law of Moses, obtains a large commission from king Artaxerxes, to settle the Jewish commonwealth, and to reform the church at Jerusalem.
	Neh. II.	In the twentieth year of king Artaxerxes, Nehemiah a Jew, one of his cup-bearers, being made governor of Judea, obtains leave to build the wall of Jerusalem, and finish that great work. Here begins Daniel's 70 weeks to be fulfilled before the passion of our Saviour.
	Dan. IX. 24.
442	Neh. V. 14.	Nehemiah having governed Judea 12 years, returns to the king of Persia.
415	XIII. 6.	This year is the 21st Jubilee, the last that ever the prophets of the Old Testament saw; for that place in Nehemiah, chap. xii. 22, is not to be understood of the last Darius, but of Darius Nothus, who now reigns in Persia; the full history of Nehemiah ending with the time of Artaxerxes Longinus, father of this Darius Nothus.
		Hitherto (saith Eusebius in his chronicle, to the 32d year of Artaxerxes) the Divine Scriptures of the Hebrews contains the annals of the times. But those things which were done among them afterward we must deliver out of the books of the Maccabees, and out of the writings of Josephus, who have delivered a general history of the Jewish affairs from thence down to the times of the Romans.
	XIII.	That Malachi, the last of the prophets, was contemporary with Nehemiah, appears from hence, that he nowhere exhorts the people to the building of the temple, as Haggai and Zachary did; but the temple being now built, he reproves those disorders, which Nehemiah at his second return with a new commission from Babylon saith he found in his absence to have crept in among the Jews; as marriage with strange women, withholding of tithes, and abuse in the worship of God. And because a succession of prophets was not to be expected, as before, he exhorteth the people constantly to adhere to the law of Moses, till Christ the chief prophet should appear; whose forerunner John the Baptist should come in the spirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers unto their children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just. See 1 Mac. iv. 46, and ix. 17.
	Malachi IV. 4. Luke I. 17. Matt. XI. 14. XVII. 12.
335	Jos. Ant. I. 11. c. 8.	ALEXANDER the Great, king of Macedonia, passeth out of Europe into Asia, and begins to lay waste the Persian empire.
332	Id. Ibid.	Manasses, brother to Jaddus the high priest, refusing to put away his strange wife, is driven from the sacrifice: Sanaballath his father-in-law, governor of Samaria, revolteth from Darius, obtains leave of Alexander to build a temple on mount Gerizim, and makes Manasses high priest thereof, to which resort all such as are entangled in unlawful marriage, with all such offenders as think themselves not safe at Jerusalem. This was the rise of that schismatical conventicle of the Samaritans. See John iv. 20.
	Jos. Ant. I. 11. c. 8.	Alexander marcheth toward Jerusalem, intending to besiege it. Jaddus the high priest, hearing of it, putteth on his priestly ornaments, and accompanied with the people all in white, goeth out to meet him. Alexander, seeing his habit, falls prostrate before him, saying that, whilst he was in Macedonia, a man appeared unto him in the very same habit, who invited him to come into Asia, and promised to deliver the Persian empire into his hands. After this he goes to the temple, and offers sacrifice according to the high priest's direction. They show him the prophecy of Daniel, That a Grecian should come and destroy the Persians; whereby he is mightily confirmed in his persuasion that he himself is the man. Lastly he bestoweth on the Jews whatever favours desired, and departeth.
330	Daniel VIII. 7. XI. 13.	The Persians are overcome, Darius slain, and Alexander remains universal monarch of the eastern world.
The Macedonian Empire.	Jos. Ant. I. 12. c. 1. 1 Mac. I.	Alexander having reigned six years and ten months dieth; his army and dominions are divided among his captains. Antigonus makes himself governor of Asia, Seleucus of Babylon and the bordering nations; Lysimachus hath the Hellespont; Cassander, Macedon; and Ptolemeus, the son of Lagus, gets Egypt.
320	Jos. Ant. I. 12. c. 1.	Ptolemeus, surnamed Soter, makes himself master of Jerusalem by a stratagem; for he enters the city on a sabbath-day under pretence of offering sacrifice; and whilst the Jews suspect nothing, but spend the day in ease and idleness, he surpriseth the city without resistance, and maketh the citizens captives. He sendeth several colonies of Jews into Egypt, and puts great confidence in them.
277	I. 12. c. 2.	Ptolemeus Philadelphus, son of Ptolemeus Soter, being a great favourer of learning, builds a most magnificent library at Alexandria. Demetrius Phalerius, to whom he had committed the care of procuring all sorts of books and out of all countries, persuades him to employ 72 Jews in translating the Holy Scriptures out of the original Hebrew into the Greek tongue, which was done in the seventh year of his reign. The king also dismisseth many captive Jews, and dedicates many presents to the temple of God at Jerusalem.
177	2 Mac. III.	One Simon, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, governor of the temple, falling out with Onias the high priest, goes to Apollonius the governor of Celosyria, and informs him that there is a vast treasure in the temple: Apollonius acquaints king Seleucus his master with it, who presently sends his treasurer Heliodorus to Jerusalem, to bring this money away. Heliodorus entering the temple, is by angels struck down in the very place, and carried from thence half dead; but by the prayers of Onias he is soon after restored to his health. Returning to Seleucus that sent him, he magnifies the holiness of the temple, and the power of God dwelling in it.
176	1 Mac. I. 10.	Antiochus Epiphanes succeeds Seleucus in the kingdom of Syria, and reigneth 11 years and some months.
175	2 Mac. IV. 7,	Jason, by corrupting king Antiochus, obtaineth the office of high priest.
172	3, 24,	Menelaus, brother to Simon the traitor, being employed by Jason to carry the money to the king, promiseth 300 talents of silver above what Jason had sent, and getteth the priesthood to himself.
170	27.	Menelaus, not paying the money he had promised the king at his admission, is summoned to appear before Antiochus; he substituteth Lysimachus his brother in his place.
	1 Mac. I. 21, 22. 2 Mac. V. Jos. Ant. I. 12. c. 7. Daniel XI. 28. 1 Mac. VIII. 5.	Antiochus taketh Jerusalem, and sacking it, pillageth the temple, destroyeth 40,000 of the inhabitants, and selleth as many more. He endeavoureth also to abolish the worship of God, and forceth many Jews to forsake their religion. The Samaritans now disown their relation to the Jews, to whom in prosperity they pretended alliance, and consecrate the temple on mount Gerizim to Jupiter.
168		Perseus, having made war upon the Romans, is this year overcome by them, and the kingdom of the Macedonians ends, when from Caranus it had stood 626 years. Nevertheless the relics of the Macedonian empire, while that of the Roman was rising, did yet survive in the Ptolemies of Egypt, and the kings of Syria.
167	I. 45.	King Antiochus, by a public edict, commands all nations that are subject unto him to observe the same way of divine worship, and laying aside their peculiar customs, to profess the same religion with the Grecians: the punishment of death being threatened unto such as shall be disobedient; and he appoints overseers over every people and nation who shall compel them hereunto. Of the Jews many choose rather to undergo the most cruel torments, than to offer sacrifice unto idols; all which martyrdoms, with those glorious sufferings of the seven Maccabean brethren, are recorded in the two books of Maccabees.
	1 Mac. II. 2 Mac. VI. Jos. Ant. I. 12. c. 8. 1 Mac. III. 2 Mac. VIII. Jos. Ant. I. 12. c. 9. 1 Mac. III.	Mattathias, a priest, with his five sons, slay those that are sent by king Antiochus to compel them to offer abominable sacrifices, and after betake themselves to the desert. They are followed by many others, of whom a great number are stifled in their caves, because they would not defend themselves on the sabbath-day. Mattathias abolisheth that superstition, and exhorts his sons to assert their privileges, and deliver their country from bondage.
		Mattathias dies, and Judas Maccabeus takes upon him the management of this affair. He delivers his country and purgeth it from the abominations which had been committed in it.

Before Christ.
166	Jos. Ant. I. 12. c. 10. 1 Mac. III. 13. Joseph. ut supra.	Apollonius, governor of Samaria, having raised an army among the Gentiles and Samaritans, falls upon the Jews; but is discomfited and slain by Judas Maccabeus.
		Seron also, governor of the lower Syria, musters up all the forces under his command, and invades Judea: him Judas Maccabeus encounters, slays 800 of his men on the place, and puts the rest to flight.
165	1 Mac. III. 27. Jos. Ant. I. 12. c. 11.	Judas Maccabeus defeats a great army, which Antiochus sent against the Jews. Lysias returns with a greater power; Judas kills 5000 of his men, and causeth him to retreat. He purifieth the temple, and setteth it in order, after it had lain desolate three years; and buildeth a wall about Sion.
164	1 Mac. VI. 2 Mac. IX. 9. Jos. Ant.	Antiochus is taken with a violent pain in his bowels, and such a rottenness seizeth his flesh, that worms breed in it: he confesseth that he is plagued for the wrong done to Jerusalem, and dieth in the 149th year of the kingdom of the Grecians. His son Antiochus Eupator, a child about nine years old, succeeds him. He maketh peace with the Jews, but quickly breaketh it; he puts to death Menelaus the high priest, and confers that honour upon Alcimus, or Jacimus.
	Jos. Ant. I. 12. c. 15.	Onias, the son of Onias III., retires into Egypt, where Ptolemeus Philometor, and Cleopatra his wife, permit him to build a temple at Heliopolis in imitation of that at Jerusalem, and they constitute him high priest there.
163	I. 12. c. 13.
	1 Mac. VII.	Demetrius Soter, the son of Seleucus, escapes from Rome, and comes into Syria, where he causeth himself to be crowned king, and putteth to death Antiochus and Lysias.
162	2 Mac. XIII.
	Jos. Ant. I. 12. c. 15.	Demetrius, at the instance of Alcimus, sends Nicanor with a great army against Judas Maccabeus, whom he endeavours to surprise. They join battle, and Nicanor is slain.
161	2 Mac. XIV. Jos. Ant. I. 12. c. 17.	Here ends the continued history of the second book of Maccabees, being an abstract and breviary of the five books of Jason, a Jew of Cyrene.
	1 Mac. IX. Jos. Ant. I. 12. c. 18, 19. 1 Mac. VIII. 19. Jos. Ant.	King Demetrius sends Bacchides with a new army, consisting of 20,000 men, against Judas Maccabeus; Judas, having with him but 800 men, ventures to engage him, and is slain. His brother Jonathan is chosen general in his stead.
		Jonathan enters into an alliance with the Romans. Josephus observes, that this was the first league that ever was known to be between the Jews and the Romans.
160	I. 18. c. 17. 1 Mac. IX. 55, 70.	Whilst Alcimus commands the wall of the inner court of the temple to be pulled down, God strikes him suddenly with a palsy, so that without speaking a word he dies in great torment.
158	Jos. Ant. I. 13. c. 2.	Jonathan, having wearied Bacchides by war, compelleth him to make a league and draw off his army.
153	1 Mac. X. 1. Jos. Ant. I. 13. c. 3. 1 Mac. X. 3, 10. Jos. Ant. I. 13. c. 4.	Alexander Balas, the son of king Antiochus Epiphanes, enters with an army into Syria: the garrison of Ptolemais set open their gates to him, by reason of their hatred to king Demetrius; who prepares himself for war.
		Demetrius desireth an alliance with Jonathan, who makes use of this occasion to repair the fortifications of Jerusalem.
		Alexander Balas is no less careful to obtain the friendship of Jonathan, and, to oblige him, confers on him the high priesthood.
152	1 Mac. X. 15. Jos. Ant. I. 13. c. 5.	Jonathan puts on the holy vestment on the seventh month of the 160th year of the kingdom of the Grecians, at the feast of tabernacles. He was the first high priest of the Hasmonean family.
150	1 Mac. X. 21. Id. Ibid.	Demetrius and Alexander come to battle, and Demetrius is slain.
		Alexander Balas, finding himself in the peaceable possession of the kingdom of Syria, espouseth Cleopatra, the daughter of Ptolemeus Philometor king of Egypt. Alexander highly honours Jonathan the high priest at his nuptials.
148	1 Mac. X. 49, 50. Joseph. ubi supra.	Demetrius Nicanor, eldest son of Demetrius Soter, enters into Cilicia with an army. King Alexander Balas gives the command of Syria to Apollonius, who sets upon Jonathan the high priest; Jonathan defeats him, and takes Joppe and Azotus, and burns the temple of Dagon.
146	1 Mac. X. 51. Jos. c 7. 1 Mac. X. 75. Jos. Ant. I. 13. c. 8. 1 Mac. XI. Jos. loc. citat.	Ptolemeus Philometor, king of Egypt, comes to the relief of king Alexander his son-in-law; Alexander ungratefully sets Ammonius to lie in ambush to kill him. The treachery being discovered, Ptolemeus takes away his daughter from Alexander, and marrieth her to Demetrius. Alexander having been driven from Antioch, the inhabitants of that place make offer of the kingdom to Ptolemeus; but he refuseth it, and persuadeth them to accept of Demetrius for their king.
145	1 Mac. XI. XI. 54. Jos. Ant. I. 13. c. 9.	Alexander returns with a great army. Ptolemeus and Demetrius unite their forces, and overcome him in a pitched battle; but Ptolemeus dies of the wounds which he received, after he had seen the head of Alexander sent to him by Zabdiel, an Arabian prince. Jonathan besiegeth the citadel at Jerusalem, held by a garrison of Macedonians. Complaint hereof being made to Demetrius, Jonathan appeaseth him by presents, and obtaineth new favours for the Jews. Demetrius incurreth the hatred of his soldiers by abridging their pay in time of peace.
		Tryphon, with some soldiers that revolted from Demetrius, undertakes to establish Antiochus, the son of Alexander Balas, in the kingdom of Syria.
144	1 Mac. XI. 55. XII.	Demetrius is vanquished by young Antiochus, and made to fly into Seleucia. Great honours are by Antiochus conferred on Jonathan, who assists him against Demetrius.
		Jonathan renews his alliance with the Romans and Lacedemonians, and fortifies Jerusalem.
143	Jos. Ant. I. 13. c. 9. c. 10.	Tryphon contrives how he may quit himself of Antiochus, and reign in his stead: but fearing Jonathan's opposition, he invites him to come to Ptolemais, and bring with him some few of his soldiers, promising to deliver that city into his hands. Jonathan, suspecting no treachery, comes only with 1000 men to Tryphon at Ptolemais; but as soon as he is entered the city, Tryphon commands the gates to be shut. Jonathan is taken prisoner, and all his men put to the sword.
	1 Mac. XIII. Jos. Ant. lib. 13. c. 10, 11.	The Jews hereupon make choice of Simon Maccabeus for their general in the place of his brother Jonathan. Tryphon leads an army against Simon. He promiseth for 100 talents of silver to release Jonathan; the money being paid him, he breaks his promise, and puts Jonathan to death. Simon erects a stately monument for his father and his brethren.
	1 Mac. XIII. 31, 32. Jos. Ant. I. 13. c. 12.	Tryphon murders the young king Antiochus, and puts the crown on his own head.
		The Romans and Lacedemonians renew their leagues with Simon and write them in tables of brass.
142	1 Mac. XIV. 18. Jos. Ant. I. 13. c. 13	Simon has the government and high priesthood settled on him and his heirs: the Jews are by his means discharged from all manner of tribute to any foreign prince. He takes Sion, the fortress of Jerusalem, drives out of the city all idolaters, clears the houses of their idols, and placeth in the city such as are true worshippers of God.
139	I. 13. c. 12.	Tryphon's vices render him so odious to his soldiers, that they submit themselves to Cleopatra, Demetrius's relict. She marrieth Antiochus Soter, Demetrius's brother, and causeth him to be crowned king. Antiochus drives Tryphon out of Syria, besiegeth him in Dora, whence he flies to Apamea, where he is taken and slain.
138
135	1 Mac. XVI. Jos. Ant. I. 13. c. 14.	Simon the high priest traversing the cities of Judea, and taking care for their orderly government, comes down with his two sons, Mattathias and Judas to Jericho; Ptolemeus the son of Abubus, Simon's son-in-law, invites them to a castle which he had fortified, called Dochus, and there, whilst he entertains them at a banquet, barbarously murders them. John Hircanus succeeds his father in the high priesthood.
		Here ends the first book of Maccabees, containing the history of forty years.
130	Jos. Ant. I. 13. c. 17. Jos. I. 1.	John Hircanus takes Shechem, and demolisheth the temple on mount Gerizim, 200 years after it had been built by Sanballat.
107	Bell. c. 3. Ant. lib. 13. c. 19. & lib. 20. c. 8.	Judas, eldest son of Hircanus, otherwise called Aristobulus, and surnamed Philellen, succeeds his father in the government and the high priesthood; he was the first of any, that, after the return from the captivity of Babylon, set a crown upon his head, and changed the state into a monarchy.
38	Luke II. 37.	Anna the prophetess, daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher, this year becoming a widow, departs not from the temple, but serveth God with fasting and prayer night and day, for 84 years together, until such time as she sees Christ in the temple.

Before Christ.
63	Jos. Bell. c. 5. Ant. lib. 14. c. 8.	Jerusalem is this year taken by Pompey; who meddles not with any of the treasure which was in the temple, but makes the Jews tributary to the Romans.
49		Here begins the empire of the Roman Cesars, when Julius Cesar, having overthrown Pompey at the battle of Pharsalia, was made perpetual dictator.
The Roman Empire	Jos. I. 14. c. 25.	Herod, the son of Antipas, or Antipater, an Idumean, is this year by the Romans declared king of Judea.
40	Id. Ibid.	Herod, assisted by Sosius the Roman general, lays siege to Jerusalem,
38	c. 28. I. 1.	and takes it: the soldiers fill all corners of the city with blood, rapine and
37	Bell. c. 13.	cruelty. Antigonus, the prince and high priest, is by Sosius carried away prisoner to Rome, and Herod put in full possession of the kingdom.
28	Dionys. lib. 52. Jos. Ant. lib. 20.	Cesar Octavianus, nephew to Julius Cesar, assumes the title of emperor; at which time the government among the Romans was legally changed from a republic into a monarchy. The next year following he is by the senate surnamed Augustus.
27
18	John II. 20.	Herod this year begins to enlarge, or rather to rebuild, the temple at Jerusalem, 46 years before the first passover of the ministry of Christ.
6	Luke I. 11.	The angel Gabriel appears to Zachary the priest, as he is offering incense in the temple, telling him that a son shall be born unto him, whom he shall call John.
5	26,	In the sixth month after John was conceived, the same angel Gabriel is sent by God to Nazareth in Galilee, to the most blessed Virgin Mary (espoused to Joseph, a person of the house and lineage of David); the angel declares unto her, that she shall conceive by the overshadowing of the Holy Ghost, and bring forth a son, and call his name JESUS.
4	57.	John the Baptist born six months before Christ.

PERIOD VII.

From the Birth of Christ to St. John's Return to Ephesus, A. D. 96.

	Luke II. 6, 21.	CHRIST our Lord and Saviour in the fulness of time is born of the blessed Virgin Mary at Bethlehem, and laid in a manger.
	Matt. II. 1, 12, 14, 16, 19. Jos. Ant.	On the eighth day after his nativity he is circumcised, and named JESUS. The wise men of the east bring presents to the new-born king of the Jews. Joseph flees into Egypt with the child Jesus, and Mary his mother. Herod commands the infants in and about Bethlehem to be slain.
3	I. 17. c. 17. Matt. II. 21, 23.	Herod dieth, and his son Archelaus is by Cesar made tetrarch of Judea: other dominions, which belonged to Herod, are divided among his sons. Christ, by God's appointment, is brought back out of Egypt into Nazareth.
		The first year of the vulgar Christian Era begins here.
After Christ. 8	Luke II. 46.	By occasion of the passover our Lord goes up with his parents to Jerusalem, and there disputes with the doctors in the temple.
14		Augustus dies, and Tiberius succeeds him.
26	Jos. Ant. I. 18. c. 3.	Josephus, called Caiaphas, is made high priest of the Jews by the favour of Valerius Gratus, the Roman governor.
27	Matt. III. 1. Mark I. 2. Luke III. 3. John I. 7. Isa. XLI. 1.	Towards the end of this year Pontius Pilate is sent to be procurator of Judea in the place of Valerius Gratus.
		John the Baptist begins to preach and to baptize in the desert of Judea, thereby preparing the way of the Lord, and doing his endeavour that Christ coming after him may be made known unto Israel. Unto John God gives a sign whereby he may know the Lord's Christ, that upon whom he shall see the Spirit descending and remaining on him, the same is he which shall baptize with the Holy Ghost.
	Matt. III. 13. Mark I. 9. Luke III. 22.	Jesus entering upon the thirtieth year of his age, comes from Galilee to Jordan, and is baptized of John; at which time a most illustrious manifestation is made of the blessed Trinity: for the Son of God ascending out of the water, and praying, the heavens are opened, and the Spirit of God in the shape of a dove descends upon him: and the voice of the Father is heard from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.
	John I. 34.	John sees it, and bears record that this is the Son of God.
	Matt. IV. 1. Mark I. 12. Luke IV. John I. 35, 47.	Jesus full of the Holy Ghost returns from Jordan, and is led by the Spirit into the wilderness, where he fasteth forty days and forty nights, and is tempted by the devil.
		John gives testimony to our Saviour passing by him: Andrew, Peter, Philip, and Nathanael, acknowledge him to be the Messias and become his disciples.
	II. 1.	Christ, at a marriage in Cana of Galilee, turneth water into wine.
		The first passover of Christ's public ministry, from which the first year of the seventieth and last of Daniel's week begins. In which the covenant is confirmed with many, Dan. ix. 27, compared with Matt. xxvi. 28.
30	John II. 13.	JESUS cometh to Jerusalem at the time of the passover, and entering into the temple, scourgeth out those that bought and sold there. The Jews require a sign of his authority: Christ bids them destroy that temple (understanding the temple of his body), and in three days he will raise it up.
	Matt. XIV. 3. Mark VI. 17. Luke III. 19.	Herod the tetrarch casteth John the baptist into prison for reprehending his incest with his brother Philip's wife, and other evils done by him.
31	John IV. 7, 42. Luke IV. 43.	Christ discovers himself to the woman of Samaria. He goes throughout all Galilee, teaching in the synagogues, and working miracles.
		Matthew called to be a disciple.
		The second passover of Christ's ministry, John v. 1, compared with iv. 3, 5, from which the second year of the seventieth week of Daniel begins.
	John V. 1. Luke VI. 13.	JESUS comes up to Jerusalem at the time of the feast, and heals on the sabbath-day a man that had an infirmity 38 years, lying at the pool of Bethesda. He makes a most divine apology to the Jews that sought to kill him, because he said that God was his father.
	Matt. V. VI. VII. Luke VI. 20. Mark VI. 7.	Christ out of the multitude of his disciples chooseth 12, whom he calleth Apostles: namely, Peter, Andrew, James, John, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James the son of Alpheus, Simon called Zelotes, Judas the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot. To these our Saviour chiefly directs his discourse in that glorious, full, and admirable sermon on the mount.
32	Matt. X. 1. Mark VI. 35. Luke IX. 12. John VI. 1, 15.	Jesus sends his 12 apostles by two and two to preach, and heal the sick. John the Baptist is beheaded in prison by Herod's command. Jesus feeds 5000 men, besides women and children, with five barley loaves and two little fishes. He refuses to be made a king.
		The third passover of Christ's ministry, John iv. 4, from which the third year of the seventieth week of Daniel begins.
	Matt. XVII. 1. Mark IX. 1. Luke IX. 28. Matt. XVII. 24.	JESUS is transfigured on the mount; Moses and Elias are seen to talk with him; and a voice from heaven is heard a second time, saying, This is my beloved son; hear him. Christ payeth tribute to Cesar. A certain village of the Samaritans refuseth our Saviour entertainment in his way to Jerusalem: the disciples, desiring to call fire from heaven to consume them, are severely reprehended.
	Luke IX. 51. X. 1.	The seventy disciples are sent out by two and two to work miracles, and to preach.

After Christ.
33	Luke XI. 1.	Christ teacheth his disciples to pray.
	John XI. 1.	Christ raiseth Lazarus, that had been buried four days.
		Caiaphas, high priest of the Jews, prophesieth concerning the death of Christ.
	Luke XIX. 1.	Zaccheus a publican converted.
	Mark X. 46.	Christ restoreth to blind Bartimeus his sight.
	John XII. 3.	Mary the sister of Lazarus anoints our Saviour's feet with costly spikenard, and wipeth them with the hair of her head.
	Matt. XXI.	Christ rideth in triumph into Jerusalem: the multitude spread their
	Mark XI.	garments in the way, and cry, Hosanna to the Son of David. Coming
	Luke XIX.	near the city he weeps over it, and foretells its destruction. He enters
	John XII.	the temple, and casteth out those that bought and sold there; and heals
	Isa. LII.	the blind and lame.
	Zech. IX. 9.	He curseth the fruitless fig-tree, and the next morning it is found dried
	Matt. XXI. 19.	up and withered. Thence he takes occasion to show the power of faith.

The fourth passover, in which Christ our passover is sacrificed, 1 Cor. v. 7, and so an end is put to all legal sacrifices prefiguring this great expiation. The fourth or middle year of Daniel's last week begins, Dan. ix. 27.

	XXVI.	ON the first day of unleavened bread, when the passover of the Jews
	Mark XIV.	was to be slain (April 2), in the evening, Jesus eateth the passover
	Luke XXII.	with his disciples, and institutes the sacrament of his body and blood in bread and wine.
	John XIII.	Christ washeth his disciples' feet, and exhorteth them to humility and
	XVIII.	charity.
	Matt.	In the self-same night Christ is betrayed by Judas, mocked, buffeted,
	XXVII.	and spit upon by the soldiers.
	Mark XV.	Next day he is condemned by Pilate, and crucified; the sun during the
	Luke XXIII.	crucifixion is darkened, and the vail of the temple rent in the midst.
	John XIX.	Christ praying for his enemies gives up the Ghost. Joseph of Arimathea begs the body, and lays it in a new sepulchre.
	Ps. XXII.	On the third day, the next after the Jewish sabbath (April 5), Christ
	Matt.	riseth from the dead; his resurrection is declared by angels to the women
	XXVIII.	that came to the sepulchre. Christ first appeareth to Mary Magdalene,
	Mark XVI.	and afterward to his disciples, and dineth with them.
	Luke XXIV.	Christ bringeth his apostles to mount Olivet; commandeth them to ex-
	John XX.	pect in Jerusalem the sending down of the Holy Ghost: sends them to
	Acts I.	teach and baptize all nations, and blesses them; and while they behold,
	Matt.	he is taken up, and a cloud receives him out of their sight. After his ascen-
	XXVIII.	sion the disciples are warned by two angels to depart, and to set their minds upon his second coming; they accordingly return, and, giving themselves to prayer, choose Matthias to be an apostle in the place of Judas.
	Acts II.	On the day of Pentecost (May 24), the Holy Ghost descendeth on the apostles in the form of cloven tongues, like as of fire, and enableth them to speak all languages. Peter the same day preacheth Christ and the resurrection, and about 3000 believers are added to the church.
	IV.	The rulers of the Jews, offended at Peter's sermon, and his miraculous cure of the lame man, cast both him and John into prison: upon their examination they boldly avouch the lame man to be healed by the name of Jesus, and that by the same Jesus we must be eternally saved. The Jews forbid them to speak any more in that name. The apostles answer, that it is fit they should obey God rather than men. They are threatened and let go.
	V. 1, 17.	Ananias and his wife Sapphira for their hypocrisy are struck dead.
		The apostles are again cast into prison by the high priest; but an angel sets them at liberty, and bids them preach the gospel to the people without fear: being taken again teaching in the temple, they are brought before the council; where, by the advice of Gamaliel, they are delivered.
34	VI.	The number of believers increasing at Jerusalem, the apostles ordain seven deacons, who should distribute the alms of the whole church to the widows and poorer sort of believers. Stephen, one of these deacons, having confounded some that disputed with him, is by them falsely accused of blasphemy, and brought before the council, where he reprehends their rebellion, and murdering of Christ. Whereupon they cast him out of the city, and stone him; he in the mean time praying for them.
	VII.
	VIII	A great persecution of the Church at Jerusalem follows after the death
	5,	of the first martyr Stephen.
		Philip, one of the seven deacons, preacheth at Samaria, and converteth many; worketh miracles, and healeth the sick. Simon the sorcerer, seeing the wonders that are done by Philip, believeth, and is baptized.
	15.	The apostles at Jerusalem, hearing that Samaria had received the faith, send thither Peter and John to confirm and enlarge the Church. The apostles by prayer and imposition of hands confer the Holy Ghost on all believers. Simon Magus offers them money, that he may receive the power of conferring the same, whose impiety is sharply reproved by Peter. Having completed their ministry in those parts, they return to Jerusalem.
35	VIII 26.	An angel sendeth Philip to teach and baptize the Ethiopian eunuch.
	IX. 1,	Saul, a violent persecutor of all that call on the name of Jesus, and one who consented to the death of Stephen, goes now towards Damascus with commission from the high priest and the council to apprehend all Christians in those parts, and to bring them bound to Jerusalem; on the way he is miraculously converted by a voice from heaven; and three days after baptized by Ananias at Damascus, where he preached the gospel of Christ with great boldness.
38	23.	Saul having preached the gospel at Damascus a long time, the Jews lay wait to kill him, but he escapeth from thence, and comes to Jerusalem;
	2 Cor. XI. 32.	there he sees Peter, and James the brother of our Lord, and abides with
	Gal. I. 18.	them fifteen days. Here he speaks boldly in the name of Jesus, and disputes with the Grecians, or rather Jews that used the Greek tongue.
	Acts XXII. 17.	These also consult how they may kill him.
		While Saul prays in the temple, he is in a trance, and the Lord appears unto him, and bids him to depart from Jerusalem, because they will not receive his testimony; adding, that he will send him to the Gentiles.
	IX. 30.	Saul leaving Jerusalem goes to his own country Tarsus, and from thence
	Gal. I. 21.	travels into Syria and Cilicia.
	Acts IX.	Peter visits the churches of Judea, Galilee, Samaria, &c. At Lydda
	32, 36.	he cureth Eneas of the palsy; and at Joppa restoreth Tabitha to life.
41	X.	At Cesarea, Cornelius, a centurion, by prayers and alms finds favour in the sight of God, and is commanded by an angel to send for Peter, now at Joppa. God by a vision teacheth Peter not to despise the Gentiles. Peter being sent for by Cornelius, goes and preacheth Christ to him and a great company that were met at his house: while Peter preacheth, the Holy Ghost falls upon them all; and immediately the apostle baptizeth them.
	XI.	Peter, at his return to Jerusalem, is accused by those of the circumcision for conversing with the Gentiles; but he declares to them his vision, and the whole matter concerning Cornelius; and they glorify God for granting to the Gentiles also repentance unto life.
		The believers, who ever since the martyrdom of Stephen and the persecution thereupon ensuing, had been dispersed throughout all Phenice and Cyprus, come now to Antioch, and preach the gospel to the Greeks there, having before preached to none but the Jews. The church at Jerusalem, understanding this, and that the number of believers increased exceedingly, sends Barnabas thither to confirm them: he goes to Tarsus, and takes Saul along with him to Antioch, where they continue a whole year, converting multitudes to the faith. Here the disciples were first called Christians.
44	VII.	About this time James the brother of John is beheaded by the command of Herod Agrippa. He also imprisoneth Peter, whom an angel delivers upon the prayers of the church. This same Herod, not long after, speaking to the people at Cesarea, some of them cry out, It is the voice of God, and not of man; and immediately an angel of the Lord smites him, because he gave not the glory to God; and he is eaten of worms, and dieth.

After Christ.
45	Acts XIII.	Barnabas and Saul set forward in their preaching of the gospel. They plant the Christian faith in Seleucia, Cyprus, and other places. At Paphos they preach the gospel to Sergius Paulus, governor of that country; Elymas a sorcerer, withstanding them, and endeavouring to turn away Sergius from the faith, is at Saul's rebuke struck blind. From this time Saul is always called by his new name Paul; he preacheth to Antioch, the Gentiles believe, but the Jews gainsay and blaspheme. Whereupon he and his assistants turn to the Gentiles, and come to Iconium.
46	XIV.	At Iconium they are persecuted and ready to be stoned. From hence they fly to Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia. At Lystra, Paul healing a cripple, the multitude cry out, that the gods are come down, and call Barnabas Jupiter; and Paul, Mercurius; and would have sacrificed to them, had not the apostles with clothes rent run in among them, and assured them that they were men like themselves. Soon after there come Jews from Antioch and Iconinm, who excite the people against them. Paul is by the furious multitude stoned, and drawn out of the city
	2 Cor. XI. 25.	as dead; but whilst the disciples stand about him, he riseth up, and the next day departs with Barnabas to Derbe.
	XII. 2.	In this year Paul was caught up into the the third heaven, and heard unspeakable words.
	2 Tim. I. 2, 5.	About this time Timothy, though a child, with his mother Eunice, and his grandmother Lois, embrace the Christian faith preached by Paul.
52	Acts XV.	Certain Judaizing Christians come from Judea to Antioch, and teach that the Gentiles ought to be circumcised, and observe the law of Moses; these Paul and Barnabas oppose, and a council is held by the apostles and others at Jerusalem to determine this controversy.
53	36.	Paul and Barnabas, thinking to visit the churches together, fall at strife, and part asunder: Barnabas and Mark go into Cyprus; Paul and Silas into Syria and Cilicia.
	XVI.	Paul coming to Derbe finds there Timothy, whom (because his mother was a believing Jew, though his father a Gentile,) he causeth to be circumcised, and takes him along with him. He is by a vision admonished to go into Macedonia: coming to Philippi, the chief city of that part of Macedonia, he converts Lydia; casteth out of a certain maid-servant a spirit of divination, whose master losing a considerable gain thereby, brings Paul and Silas before the magistrates: these cause them to be whipped and imprisoned; but at midnight, Paul and Silas praying and singing psalms, the doors of the prison fly open, and their bonds are loosed: the jailer, ready to kill himself, is converted to the faith, and baptized the same night with his whole family. Next day the magistrates come themselves, and pray them to depart the city.
54	XVII.	From Philippi Paul takes his journey through Amphipolis and Apollonia, and comes to Thessalonica, where he finds a synagogue of the Jews; there he preached three sabbath-days; some believe, others persecute him. Leaving Thessalonica he comes to Berea, and soon after arrives at Athens, disputes with the philosophers, and declares unto them that UNKNOWN GOD whom they had ignorantly worshipped. He converts Dionysius the Areopagite, and thence passeth to Corinth.
	XVIII.	Paul at Corinth meets with Aquila and Priscilla, not long before banished from Rome by the decree of Claudius. Here he continues a year and six months, and thence writes to the Thessalonians.
55		Paul is accused by the Jews, and brought before Gallio, proconsul of Achaia, who refuseth to be judge in a controversy about religion, and so drives them away from the judgment-seat.
56	18.	Paul departs from Corinth, and passeth to Ephesus, thence he sets out towards Jerusalem, that he may be at the feast; he lands at Cesarea, goes down to Antioch, and comes into the regions of Galatia and Phrygia, confirming the disciples in all those places.
57	XIX.	Paul returns to Ephesus, disputes daily in the school of Tyrannus, and continues preaching there, and the parts thereabout.
58		He writes his epistle to the Galatians.
60		At Ephesus, Demetrius a silversmith, jealous of his gain, raiseth a tumult against Paul, which is appeased by the town-clerk.
	1 Cor. I. 11. XVI. 8.	About this time a schism ariseth in the church at Corinth, which causeth Paul (now in or about Ephesus) to write his first epistle to the Corinthians.
	Acts XX.	Paul departs from Ephesus, and comes into Macedonia, and gathers a
	2 Cor. VIII. 1, 2, 6, 19. 1 Cor. XVI. 5.	contribution for the relief of the saints at Jerusalem.
		The apostle, having learnt from Titus the success of his first, writes now his second epistle to the Corinthians. Out of Macedonia he goes into Greece, and comes to Corinth, where he writes his epistle to the Romans.
	Acts XX. 3, 4, 6.	Paul purposing to go thence into Syria, to carry the collections to Jerusalem, the Jews lay wait for him; understanding this, he returns into Macedonia the same way he came, and thence passes into Asia.
		After the days of unleavened bread Paul sails from Philippi, and comes to Troas: there he restores Eutychus to life. Having passed through several cities of Greece, he arrives at Miletus; from thence he sends to call the elders of the Church of Ephesus, whom he earnestly exhorts to the performance of their duty.
	Acts XXI.	Paul comes to Jerusalem, is apprehended in the temple, and secured in the castle; he claimeth the privilege of a Roman, and escapeth scourging.
	XXII.	Paul pleadeth his cause before Ananias the high priest. The chief captain,
	XXIII.	understanding that above forty Jews had bound themselves under a curse neither to eat nor drink till they have killed him, sends him to Felix the governor of the province, by whom he is imprisoned at Cesarea.
62	XXIV.	Paul is accused before Felix by Tertullus the orator: Felix goes out of his office, and to gratify the Jews, leaves Paul in prison. Portius Festus succeeds him in the government.
	XXV.	The Jews come to Cesarea, and accuse Paul before Festus. He answereth for himself, and appeals unto Cesar. King Agrippa comes to Cesarea, and Festus opens the whole matter to him.
	XXVI.	Paul makes his defence in the presence of Agrippa; who thereby is almost persuaded to be a Christian, and the whole company pronounce him innocent.
63	XXVIII.	Paul comes to Rome, is a prisoner at large, and preacheth there two years.
		Here ends the History of the Acts of the Apostles, written by St. Luke, St. Paul's beloved companion in his travels.
64		St. Paul from Rome writes his epistles,
		To the Philippians.
		To Philemon.
		To the Colossians.
		To the Ephesians.
65	Heb. XIII. 24.	About the latter end of this year Paul is set at liberty; and a little before his departure out of Italy into Asia he writes his epistle to the Hebrews.
	Tit. I. 5.	He preacheth the gospel in the isle of Crete, and leaves Titus there to set things in order, and ordain elders in every city.
66		St. Paul writes his epistles,
		To Timothy I.
		To Titus.
		To Timothy II.
		About this time the epistles of St. Peter, St. John, and St. Jude seem to be written.
67	Euseb. Hist. Ec.	St. Peter and St. Paul are said to have suffered martyrdom at Rome
70	1. 2. c. 24. Luke XIX. 43, 44.	towards the latter end of Nero's reign.
		This year Jerusalem (according to Christ's prophecy) is besieged, taken, sacked, and burnt, by Titus, 1,100,000 of the Jews perish, 97,000 are taken prisoners; besides an innumerable company that in other places of Judea kill themselves, or perish through famine, banishment, or other miseries.
96		St. John is banished into the isle of Patmos by Domitian, and there receives and writes his Revelation.
		After the death of Domitian, St. John returns to Ephesus, and at the request of the Church writes his Gospel.

TABLES OF SCRIPTURE MEASURES, WEIGHTS, AND COINS:

WITH AN APPENDIX,

CONTAINING THE METHOD OF CALCULATING ITS MEASURES OF SURFACE, HITHERTO WANTING IN TREATISES ON THIS SUBJECT.

By the Right Reverend RICHARD, Bishop of Peterborough.

A MEASURE is a known quantity applied to another of the same kind that is less known, to make its dimensions better known, by help of numbers expressing the proportion that the known quantity bears to the unknown. The dimensions to be measured are three: 1. Mere length, which hath but one dimension. 2. Surface, which consists of length multiplied into breadth; so it hath two dimensions, as it were, interwoven; and this is always measured by some square surface already known, as by a square foot, or a square cubit, or any other square already known, by help of its side. Moses generally useth the square cubit. 3. Solidity or capacity, which hath three dimensions multiplied into each other; length, breadth, and height, or depth. This is measured by a known cube. From solidity ariseth weight in all sublunary bodies; and by weight we measure the value of coins. Therefore I shall join weights and coins together in the fourth table.

I use = to signify Equal; :: to express Proportion; . is called Separatrix, parting Decimals from Integers.

I. TABLE. Measures of Length.

I express the Cubit, and its Parts, both by Inch Measure, and by Foot Measure; which I deduce from Inches by this Proportion:

Inch Meas. Foot Meas.
As 12. 1. :: 21.888 1.824

	Inch Dec.	Foot Dec.
A cubit is = to	21.888	= 1.824
A Span the longer = ½ a Cubit	= 10.944	= .912
Span the less = ⅓ of a Cubit	= 7.296	= .608
A Hand's breadth = 1/6 of a Cubit	= 3.684	= .304
A Finger's breadth = 1/24 of a Cubit	= .912	= .076

Measures of many Cubits length I express only in Foot Measure.

	Feet. Dec.
A Fathom = 4 Cubits	= 7.296
Ezekiel's Reed = 6 Cubits	= 10.944
Schœnus, the Egyptian Line for Land Measure, which I think Scripture useth to divide Inheritances. Psalm xvi. 6, and lxxviii. 55. They used different Lengths, but the shortest and most useful was,	Cubits. = 80 = 145.92

Herodotus mentions a Schœnus just 300 times as long: I judge that all the greater were made in proportion to the least.

The mile	= 4000 Cubits = 7296 Feet.
Stadium, 1/10 of their Mile	= 400 Cubits = 729.6
Parasang, 3 of their Miles	= 12000 Cubits = 4 English Miles, and 580 Feet.

II. TABLE. Measures of Surface.

Moses hath described these by square Cubits. I here express them reduced to our square Feet. The method of this reduction is taught in an Appendix. I first propose three clear examples given by Moses; Secondly, I place six instances of greater difficulty.

The clearest examples are,

I. The Altar of Incense. Only two sides of it, viz. its length and breadth, are expressed by Moses; each of them is affirmed to be one Cubit. Yet he declares it was foursquare: whence we collect, that it was just one square Cubit. See Exod. xxx. 2. Now it is demonstrated in the Appendix, that one Jewish square Cubit amounts to in surface three English square Feet, and about 47 square Inches.

II. The Table of Shew-bread, Exod. xxv. 23. It is affirmed to be two Cubits in length, and one in breadth. None doubt but it was rectangular, containing two Jewish square Cubits. These amount to six English square Feet, and above half, viz. 94 square Inches.

III. The Boards of the Tabernacle, each 10 Cubits in length, and one and a-half in breadth, Exod. xxvi. 16, being rectangular, must contain 15 square Cubits, Jewish. These are proved to contain very near 50 square Feet of English Measure.

The more difficult cases reserved to the Appendix are,

I. The Mercy Seat, whose surface is = 12 square Feet and a half.

II. A general method is taught of reducing any given number of Jewish Cubits to English square Feet.

III. The example of the 15 square Cubits in the Boards of the Tabernacle is made clearer.

IV. The Court of the Tabernacle, described Exod. xxvii. 18, is found to be just half the Egyptian Aroura, and to contain 1 Rood, 21 Perches, 27 square Feet, &c.

V. The whole Aroura is determined, and reduced to our English Measures, 3 Roods, 2 Perches, 55 square Feet.

VI. The suburbs, or Glebe Land, given to each city of the Levites, Num. xxxv. 3–5, is showed to be a square, on each of the four sides of every city, containing a million of Jewish square Cubits, or 100 Arourœ; which amount to in each square 76 Acres, 1 Rood, 26 Perches, 80 square Feet. Whence we collect, that all the four Squares amounted to 305 Acres, 2 Roods, 1 Perch, besides 51 Feet square.

III. TABLE. Measures of Capacity.

	Wine Gal.	Pints.	Inch Sol.
Epha or Bath	7	4	15
Chomer, Homer in our translation	75	5	7
Seah, ⅓ of Epha	2	4	3
Hin = ⅙ of Epha	1	2	1
Omer, 1/10 of Epha	0	6	0.5
Cab, 1/18 of Epha	0	3	10
Log, 1/72 of Epha	0	0½	10
Metretes of Syria (John ii. 6) = Cong. Rom	0	7⅓	0
Cotyla, Eastern, 1/360 of Epha	0	0½	3

This Cotyla contains just 10 Ounces Avoirdupois of Rain water; Omer 100; Epha 1000; Chomer 10,000. So by these Weights all these Measures of Capacity may be expeditiously recovered very near exactness.

IV. TABLE. Of Weights and Coins.

The Jewish Weights are reduced to the Standard Grains of our Troy Weight; whereof 438 are equal to the Roman ounce, and to our ancient English Avoirdupois ounce.

An APPENDIX to the Second Table of Measures of Surface, described by Moses, showing the Method of reducing them by Calculation to the Measures used in England, for the benefit of those that understand Decimal Arithmetic, and desire to try the Reductions given in the Table, or to make further Improvements in this kind of Measures.

1. The Mercy Seat.—I shall begin with Reduction of the Measures of the Mercy Seat, which was God's throne of Grace among the Jews. Moses in Exod. xxv. 17, affirms, that its length was two Cubits and a half, its breadth one Cubit and a half. The fractions adhering to its length and breadth make some difficulty to beginners in Arithmetic, which the Decimal way doth much abate. Supposing therefore, what I have elsewhere proved, that the Jewish Cubit was in Foot measure 1.824; the length must be expressed in Foot measure, and Decimals thereof, 4.560. The breadth in like measure will be 2.736. Wherefore the product of these numbers multiplied into each other gives its surface 12.47,616: in number of its square Feet, and Decimals thereof, 12 square Feet, and very near half a square Foot; if the Decimals had been .50, it had been just half a Foot. If we desire to express those Decimals of a Foot in square Inches, as is usual in England, we must multiply .47,616 by 144, the square Inches of a Foot, and the product will be 68.56,704: which shows that the Decimals we found amount to 68 square Inches, and about half an Inch more: we need not be nicer.

2. A square Cubit reduced to our Measure.—2. In the Altar of Incense Moses describes the Jewish square Cubit, which must be reduced to our Foot measure, thus, 1 8 2 4 / 1 8 2 4. The product of these numbers multiplied will be the upper surface of this altar, 3.326,976, that is, three square Feet, and .326,976 Decimals of a square Foot, which we may express by 47 square Inches, and a few Decimals of an Inch square inconsiderable.

3. The Boards of the Tabernacle.—3. Moses's description of the Boards of the Tabernacle, Exod. xxvi. 16, by 10 Cubits in length, and one and a half in breadth, naturally leads a man to discern in each Board's surface 15 Jewish square Cubits; because if we conceive a line drawn from the end of one Cubit at the bottom of the Board to the end of one Cubit at the top of the Board, this must needs be 10 whole square Cubits on one side of that line, and 10 half square Cubits (= 5 whole) on the other side of that line: here therefore are 15 square Cubits. The reduction of these into English square Feet is performed by multiplying 15, viz. the number of Cubits given, into 3.326,976, the Feet and Decimals of one square Cubit, and the product will be 49.90,464, and that is very near to fifty square Feet; for those Decimals amount to above 130 square Inches; and little more than 13 square Inches would make it just 50 Feet, which abatement we need not here regard.

4. The Court of the Tabernacle.—4. Let us now go to the measure of the surface of land. But we will begin with the Court of the Tabernacle, the ground on which the Priests performed all the solemn public worship of Israel in Moses's time. The Area of this Court is described by Moses, Exod. xxv. 18, by its length 100 Cubits, and its breadth every where 50 Cubits. Wherefore this Area must be in Jewish measure 5000 square Cubits, for that is the product of 100 multiplied into 50. To reduce these 5000 Jewish Cubits into English square Feet, I must multiply 5000 into 3.326,976, the product is 16,634.88 English square Feet.

But in cases of such long numbers of Feet we use for brevity's sake, and to help our memories, to reduce them into Perches, or Roods, or Acres, which contain known numbers of square Feet. A Perch contains 272¼ square Feet. A Rood is = to 10,890 square Feet. An Acre is = to 43,560 square Feet. It is plain that the number 16,634.88 hath not Integers equal to those of an Acre; but it hath enough to answer those in a Rood, and some overplus, therefore I must divide 16,634.88 by 10,890, which is a Rood. By such division continued in the Decimal way, until I have a fraction of five or six places, which is exact enough, I find the quote to be 1.527,537, which assures me that my number 16,634.88 hath but once entirely in it a whole Rood: but it hath moreover in it many Decimal parts of a Rood. These therefore I reduce to the Perches contained in them, by multiplying them into 40, which is the number of Perches that make up a Rood: and cutting off six places from the product, which is 21.101,480; so I find there are 21 Perches entire, and the figures after the Separatrix are Decimals of a Perch. These also I multiply by 272.25, which are the square Feet and Decimals of a Perch. The product of this last multiplication, after eight places cut off from it by the Separatrix, because there were six places of Decimals in one of the multipliers, and two in the other, is 27.62,793,000. Hence I learn that there are therein but 27 entire Feet, all the eight Decimal places amount to little above half a Foot, and therefore I cast them away as inconsiderable in the measure of land. This method of reduction by multiplication of Decimals I find to be easier than the common way of reduction by division, and therefore I propose it to be used by beginners in this practice of surveying. So I find this Court to contain in English measure 1 Rood, 21 Perches, 27 Feet, and little more than a half a Foot squared. But reflecting upon Moses's measure by Cubits, and finding them to be precisely 5000 square Cubits, I observed that they were just half 10,000, which I had observed from Herodotus's Euterpe to be the Area of the Egyptian Aroura, by which their land was as generally measured, as ours is by Acres and Roods. See Herodot. I. 2. c. 168. I called also to mind a passage in Manetho an Egyptian Priest, cited by Josephus in his first book against Apion, where he affirms, that Manetho in his history of the reign, wars, and expulsion of the Pastors, (whom Africanus affirms to be Phœnicians, or Canaanites, and Josephus vainly believed to be Jews,) wrote out of the public Records of Egypt, that these Pastors made at Abaris a very large and strong encampment, that encompassed 10,000 Arourœ, sufficient to contain 240,000 men, and long maintain their cattle. Hence it appears, that not only the Egyptians, but the Phœnicians or Canaanites also, that had dwelt among them, and had reigned there during the time of six kings successively, used the measure of land called Aroura. Now this was long before Moses's time: for the beginning of Amosis or Tethmosis, who expelled them out of Egypt, was very near the time of Abraham's death, as appears by the annals of the learned Primate of Ireland. Wherefore I believe that Moses, who was skilled in all Egyptian learning, especially surveying, did of choice make the Court of the Tabernacle to be just half an Aroura, which was a known measure to him and his people, who had long dwelt in Egypt, and Divine Authority directed him so to do.

5. The Reduction of an Aroura to English measures.—5. Because we have shewn from Herodotus, that an Aroura is the square of 100 Jewish or Egyptian Cubits, and 100 such Cubits, may in English Foot measure be expressed by 182.4 English Feet, it follows, that the square of this number will express exactly the number of the English square Feet that are contained in an Aroura. Now by multiplication of 182.4 into itself, I find the product to be 33,269.76: Therefore I conclude that there are 33,269 square Feet entire, and .76 Decimals of a square Foot, in an Aroura. Now to reduce these English square Feet into Roods, Perches, and the remainder of square Feet, I use the method used in the last paragraph: First, I divide them by 10,890, the square Feet in a Rood; and the quote I find 3.055,084, that is 3 Roods, and .055,084 Decimals of a Rood. Secondly, I multiply those Decimals by 40, which is the number of Perches in a Rood; the product is 2.202,960. Hence I conclude there are therein 2 Perches, and .202,960 Decimals of a Perch. Thirdly, I multiply these last Decimals by 272.25, which are the square Feet of a Perch. The product is 55.25,586,000, that is 55 entire square Feet; the eight places of Decimals amount to little above ¼ of a square Foot, therefore I reject them as inconsiderable in a measure of land. By all these reductions, it is found, that an Aroura is in English measure three Roods, two Perches, 55¼ square Feet. Hence it follows also that it is not well translated by Jugerum, for it is much larger; nor is it well in English called an Acre, for it is considerably less. To this place I refer the use of the lesser sort of χοῖνο, which yet is most convenient for the use of the Egyptians, and of the Jews, to measure out private men's inheritances by a line which was 80 Cubits long. For the length of this line will measure one side of an Aroura, if the other side be 125 Cubits long, which is the length of this line, and its half, and 5 Cubits above half of it, which they might easily mark on it by a knot or a ring. And by this means they might easily lay any number of Arourœ together, all of them rectangular and parallel to each other. Such lines I suppose for measure of inheritances are intimated, Psalm lxxviii. 55, and xvi. 6, &c.

6. The Levites' Glebe.—6. I shall conclude with an example amounting after reduction to a number of English Acres, which measure we have not yet reached to. This I take from Num. xxxv. 3, 4, 5, verses. There Moses describes what measure of land the Levites were to be allowed for their cattle, their goods, and all their beasts, on the north, east, south, and west sides of each of their cities. So that the city was to be in the midst of the land belonging to it. This land in our translation is called suburbs, because of its nearness to all their cities. But we must not thence imagine that it means houses and streets adjoining to their cities, in which sense we sometimes use the word suburbs. For Moses plainly tells us they were places for their several sorts of cattle to feed in, such as might also be orchards or gardens for fruit, or perhaps for a little corn, comprehended in the words their goods. These fields he limits by 1000 Cubits, which was just a quarter of an eastern mile, but amounts in mere length to 608 yards English measure, and therefore exceeds a quarter of an English mile by 168 yards in length. But it is certain that cattle cannot feed upon mere length, but this must signify the side of some surface of land bounded thereby, and we must have two sides of that surface given, before we can find the Area, or surface contained. Therefore Moses, ver. 5, tells us, that on each side of each city they must measure 2000 Cubits, which will determine no surface, unless we understand it to mean the two sides of a square, bounded on every side by 1000 Cubits; these two sides multiplied into each other will produce a square that contains just a million of square Cubits, and that is a known and exact measure of just 100 Arourae; and this shews that the 2000 Cubits mentioned ver. 5, are the two sides of that square, whereof the 1000 mentioned ver. 4, is one, and may be called the root of the square. This shews the agreement of the two different numbers. The reduction of this million of square Cubits will be performed by the same method that I have used before. Therefore, first, I express 1000 Jewish Cubits by 1824 English Feet, without any Separatrix, according to the principles owned in Decimal Arithmetic; and the square of that number will be 3,326,976, without a Separatrix. Secondly, I divide this number by 43,560, which are the square Feet of an Acre, and find the quote to be 76.376,859, which signify 76 entire Acres, and .376,859 Decimals of an Acre. Thirdly, to find what Roods are contained in these Decimals, I multiply them by four, the number of Roods in an Acre, and find the quote to be 1.507,436, which proves that there is but one Rood in them, and the six figures cut off by the Separatrix (because there were six Decimals in one of the Multipliers) are all Decimals of a Rood. Fourthly, therefore, to find what Perches are in these last Decimals, I multiply them by 40, which is the number of Perches contained in a Rood. The product is 20.207,440; hereby I find there are 20 entire Perches, besides the Decimals of a Perch placed after the Separatrix. Fifthly, to find what square Feet are in those last Decimals, I multiply them by 272.25, which are the square Feet and Decimals in a Perch, the product is 80.97,804, which is 80 square Feet, and all the Decimals not amounting to a square Foot, I reject as inconsiderable in measure of land. Thus we have found that this and every other square on each side of every Levitical City, was prescribed to be 76 Acres, 1 Rood, 20 Perches, 80 square Feet in our measure, but was just a million of square Cubits in their measure.

To add the four squares belonging to one Levitical City together, the best way will be to take the first quote that we found in Acre measure, viz. 76.376,859, and we must multiply it by four, and we shall find, by the method I have used, all the four squares together to amount to 305 Acres, 2 Roods, 1 Perch; we need not take notice of any lesser quantities in this case. We may also by this method find the sum of the Acres belonging to all the 48 cities of the Levites, and many other improvements in this kind of measuring surfaces. But I leave them to the industry of others.

JUDEA, PALESTINE, OR THE HOLY LAND.

PALESTINE is bounded on the north by mount Libanus, or Lebanon, which separates it from that part of Syria, anciently called Phœnicia; on the east by mount Hermon, which divides it from Arabia Deserta; on the south by Arabia Petrea; and on the west by the Mediterranean sea, or sea of Syria.

This country received the name of Palestine from the Philistines, who dwelt on the sea-coast: it was called Judea, from Judah: and it is termed the Holy Land, being the country where Jesus Christ was born, preached his holy doctrines, confirmed them by miracles, and laid down his life for mankind. Palestine is about one hundred and eighty-five miles in length, and generally eighty in breadth; it is situated between 31° and 33° 40′ north latitude.

The climate of Palestine is, during a great part of the year, very hot. The easterly winds are usually dry, though they are sometimes tempestuous; and those which are westerly are attended with rain. The heat here might be expected to be excessive: yet mount Libanus, from its uncommon height, is covered all the winter with snow.

The first rains, as they are called, generally fall about the beginning of November; and the latter rains, in the month of April. In the country round Jerusalem, if a moderate quantity of snow falls in the beginning of February, and the brooks soon after overflow their banks, it is thought to forebode a fruitful year; and the inhabitants make rejoicings upon this occasion, as the Egyptians do with respect to the Nile: this country is seldom refreshed with rain during the summer season.

The rocks of Judea are, in many places, covered with a soft chalky substance, in which is enclosed a great variety of shells and corals. The greatest part of the mountains of Carmel, and those of Jerusalem and Bethlehem, are overspread with a white chalky stratum. In mount Carmel are gathered many stones, which, being in the form of olives, melons, peaches, and other fruit, are imposed upon pilgrims, not only as those fruits petrified, but as antidotes against several diseases.

With respect to the rivers of the country, the Jordan, called by the Arabs Sceriah, is not only the most considerable, but, next to the Nile, is the largest, either in the Levant or in Barbary. It has its source at the bottom of mount Libanus or Lebanon, and is formed from the waters of two fountains, which are about a mile distant from each other. One of them lies to the east, and is called Jor; the other, which is exposed to the south, is named Dan. The confluence of the two streams is found near the ancient city of Cesarea Philippi, which is at present only a village, and called Beline. The river takes a course between the E. and S., and, after running seven miles, falls into the lake Samochon or Mathon, at present called Huletpanias, about six miles in length, from north to south, and nearly four in breadth, from east to west. The Jordan issues from this lake, and flows through a great plain, passing under a stone bridge called Jacob's bridge, consisting of three arches well constructed. The river then continues its course as far as the lake of Tiberias, near the ancient cities of Chorazin and Capernaum, where it mixes with its waters. When it issues from this lake, which is about eighteen miles in length, and eight in breadth, it takes the name of Jordan major, dividing Peros from Samaria, the plains of the Moabites from Judea, and receiving the waters of the Dibon, the Jazer, the Jacob, and the Carith. After being augmented by these streams, in a course of sixty-five miles from the lake of Tiberias, or sea of Galilee, it discharges itself into the Dead sea. The Jordan, in the rainy seasons, overflows its banks to the distance of more than four miles; and, on account of the inequality of the ground, forms two or three channels. Its current is extremely rapid, and the water always muddy: but when taken from the river, and put into any kind of vessel, it very soon clarifies, and is sweet.

The Dead Sea is a name of modern date; the ancients call it the lake of Asphaltites, the sea of Sodom, the Salt sea, the lake of Sirbon; the Arabs name it Bahheret-Lut; that is, the sea of Lot. It is about fifty miles in length, and ten in breadth. The lofty mountains of the country of the Moabites are on the eastern side, and discharge into it the waters of Arnon and the Jaret. On the west and south it is bounded by very high mountains also. It is likewise on the west that the brook Cedron, which rises at Jerusalem, empties into this sea.

We are informed that this vast lake was covered formerly with fruit trees and abundant crops, and that from the bosom of the earth, now buried under its waters, arose the superb cities of Sodom, Gomorrah, Admah, Zeboiim, and Segor. No plants of any kind grow in this lake. The bottom of it is black, thick, and fœtid. Branches of trees which fall therein become petrified in a little time. The Dead sea produces a kind of bitumen, which may be found floating on the surface, like large lumps of earth. This bitumen is a sulphurous substance, mixed with salt; it is as brittle as black pitch, is combustible, and exhales, while burning, a strong and penetrating smell. The ancient Arabs used it for smearing and embalming their dead, to preserve them from perishing. The mountains near this sea produce a kind of black stone, which, when polished, has a beautiful lustre.

Acra, or Acre, (now called St. John de Acre, and which the Arabs call Accho, or Akka,) is one of the places from which the Israelites could not expel the ancient Canaanites, and was formerly reckoned among the ancient cities of Phœnicia. It is also known by the name of Ptolemais. The situation is advantageous: on the north and east it is encompassed by a fertile plain; on the west it is washed by the Mediterranean; and on the south by a large bay, which extends from the city as far as mount Carmel. It contains little more than a few cottages, and heaps of ruins. The residence of the bashaw of the province is at this place.

To the south of Acre is Sebasta, the ancient Samaria, the capital of the ten tribes after their revolt from the house of David. It is seated on a long mount, which rises in a fruitful valley, and is now converted into gardens.

A little farther to the south is Naplosa, the ancient Sychem, which stands in a narrow valley, between mount Ebal on the north and Gerizim on the south. At a small distance from Naplosa is Jacob's well, famous for Christ's conference with the woman of Samaria.

Jerusalem is encompassed with hills, so that the city seems as if situated in an amphitheatre; there are few remains of the city as it appeared in Christ's time; the situation being changed; for mount Sion, the highest part of ancient Jerusalem, is almost excluded; while the places adjoining to mount Calvary are nearly in the centre. This city, which is about three miles in circumference, is situated on a rocky mountain, on all sides of which are steep ascents, except toward the north. The walls are not strong, nor have they any bastions. The city has six gates. There are supposed to be about twelve or fourteen thousand inhabitants in Jerusalem.

Jasa, the ancient Joppa, is the port where the pilgrims disembark. They generally arrive in November, and repair without delay to Jerusalem.

Bethlehem, also called Ephrata, and the city of David, is famous for being the birth-place of Christ. It is about two miles to the S. E. of Jerusalem, on the ridge of a hill; at present only an inconsiderable place.

Raha, the ancient Jericho, is eighteen miles N. E. of Jerusalem, situated in a plain six or seven leagues long, by three wide, surrounded by a number of barren mountains.

Habroun, or Hebron, is twenty-four miles S. of Bethlehem. The Arabs call it El-Kahil, the well-beloved. It is situated at the foot of an eminence, on which are some remains of an ancient castle.

Nazareth, now only a small village, is on the top of a high hill.

Cana of Galilee, otherwise called Cana Minor, celebrated for the miracle wrought by Christ, of changing the water into wine, is nothing more than a small village, with very few inhabitants.

Sidon, called by the Turks Sayd, is situated on the sea-coast. It was anciently a place of great strength, and had a very extensive commerce. Though it is still populous, and a place of considerable trade, it has fallen from its ancient grandeur. Its exports consist in silks, with raw and spun cotton; the manufacturing of which employs most of the inhabitants, amounting to about five thousand. The city is defended by an old castle, built in the sea.

Tyre, called by the Turks Sour, is about twenty miles to the south of Sidon. It was once very celebrated for its purple, called the Tyrian dye, produced from a shell-fish. This city was, in ancient times, the centre of an immense commerce and navigation, and the nurse of arts and sciences. The ancient city stood, originally, on an island, joined to the main land by a mole; the remains of which appear at present. It has two harbours; that on the north side is very good; but the other is choked up with ruins. The present inhabitants are only a few poor fishermen, who live in vaults and caves.

Cesarea was at first called Strabo's Tower; and was the capital of Palestine. This city was divided into two parts by a little hill, whereon was erected a temple dedicated to Cesar.

Jericho is situated in a large plain, about twenty miles long, and ten broad, bounded by a variety of mountains on the south-west, the west, and north; it is at present inhabited by a few miserable Arabs.

The Mount of Forty Days is situated on the north side of the plain of Jericho: the summit is covered neither with shrubs, trees, nor earth, but consists of a solid mass of white marble; it is very difficult and dangerous to ascend, the path leading by a winding course, between two dismal abysses. This mountain is one of the highest in the province, and one of its most sacred places. It takes its name from the rigorous fast which Christ observed here. From this mount may be seen the hills of Arabia, the country of Gilead, the country of the Ammonites, the plains of Moab, and that of Jericho, the river Jordan, and the whole extent of the Dead sea. Opposite to Jericho, beyond Jordan, rises Mount Nebo.

Mount Carmel, on the south side of the bay of Acre, projects at one part into the sea, forming a great promontory, called the point of Carmel. There are a number of grottos, gardens, and convents on this mount; as also many cisterns for receiving the rain-water. On this mountain was a fortress called Ecbatane.

Mount Tabor is most delightfully situated, rising amidst the plains of Galilee, distant about twelve miles from the city of Tiberias; it is distinguished by different names, as Itabyrion, Taburium, and by the Arabs Gibel-el-Tor. It is in appearance like a sugar-loaf, and is covered from the top to the bottom with small trees.

Palestine, which comprehends the ancient country of Canaan, and was occupied by nine tribes of Israel, has experienced many and severe revolutions; the extreme fertility of the country, and its many advantages and happy situation, induced the neighbouring and powerful kingdoms to attempt its subjection; most of them succeeded in reducing to obedience and slavery the peaceable inhabitants: the Persians, Saracens, Syrians, and Romans have alternately been masters for a time, and then obliged to yield to superior force: they treated the conquered with the utmost barbarity, and committed the greatest devastation and slaughter; not even sparing old or young, women or helpless children. Thus it continued changing its ferocious masters, until, in the twelfth century, the Turks taking Cesarea, the whole country fell into their possession; and has continued under their power ever since. The innumerable scenes of blood and desolation exhibited in this country have changed it from that happy, fruitful, and prosperous state, so beautifully described in Deuteronomy, to an almost uninhabited desert, and heap of ruins: few traces of its ancient splendour remain; and confusion and doubt hang over all the researches of the inquirer.

The present masters exercise unlimited and tyrannical authority over their slaves in Palestine, keeping the miserable inhabitants in the utmost subjection; governing them by Caliphs and Bashaws, with rods of iron; and holding them in the most deplorable ignorance and superstition.

AG

A'A-RON, a teacher, or lofty.
A-bad'don, the destroyer.
A-bag'tha, father of the wine-press.
Ab'a-na, made of stone, a building.
Ab'a-rim, passages, or passengers.
Ab'da, a servant, or servitude.
Ab'de-el, a vapor, a cloud of God.
Ab'di, he is my servant.
Ab'di-el, the servant of God.
Ab'don, a servant or cloud of judgment.
A-hed'ne-go, a servant of light.
A'bel, vanity, breath, vapor.
A'bel, (a city,) mourning.
A bel-beth-ma-ach'ah, mourning to the house of Maachah.
A'bel-ma'im, mourning of waters.
A'bel-me-ho'lah, mourning of sickness.
A'bel-miz-ra'im, the mourning of the Egyptians.
A'bel-shit'tim, mourning of thorns.
A'bez, an egg, or muddy.
A'bi, my father.
A-bi'ah, the Lord is my father.
A-bi-al'bon, most intelligent father.
A-bi'a-thar, excellent father.
A'bib, green fruits, or ears of corn.
A-bi'dah, the father of knowledge.
A-bi'dan, the father of judgment.
Ab'i-el, God my father.
A-bi-e'zer, father of help.
Ab'i-gail, the father's joy
Ab-i-ha'il, the father of strength.
A-bi'hu, he is my father.
A-bi'jah, the Lord is my father.
A-bi'jam, father of the sea.
Ab-i-le'ne, the father of mourning.
A-bim'a-el, a father sent from God.
A-bim'e-lech, father of the king.
A-bin'a-dab, father of willingness.
A-bin o-am, father of beauty.
A-bi'ram, a high father.
Ab i-shag, ignorance of the father.
A-bish a-i, the present of my father.
A-bish'a-lom, the father of peace.
A-bish'u-a, father of salvation.
Ab'i-shur, the father of the wall, or father of uprightness.
Ab'i-tal, the father of the dew.
Ab'i-tub, father of goodness.
Ab'i-ud, father of praise.
Ab'ner, father of light.
A'bram, a high father.
A'bra-ham, the father of a great multitude
Ab sa-lom, father of peace.
Ac'cad, a vessel, a pitcher, or sparkle.
Ac'cho, close pressed together.
A-cel da-ma, the field of blood.
A-cha'i-a, grief or trouble.
A-cha'i-cus, a native of Achaia.
A'chan, or Ach'ar, he that troubleth.
Ach'bor, a rat.
A'chim, preparing, or revenging.
A'chish, thus it is, or how is this?
A'chor, trouble.
Ach'sah, adorned, bursting the veil.
Ach'shaph, poison, tricks.
Ach'zib, liar, lying, or that runs.
Ad'a-dah, the witness of the assembly.
A'dah, an assembly.
A-dai'ah, the witness of the Lord.
A-da-li'ah, one that draws water.
Ad'am, earthy man, red.
Ad'a-mah, red earth, or of blood.
Ad'a-mi, my man, red, earthy, human.
A'dar, high or eminent.
Ad'di, my witness, adorned, prey.
Ad'don, basis, foundation, the Lord.
A'di-el, the witness of the Lord.
A'din, adorned, voluptuous, dainty.
A-di-tha'im, assemblies, testimonies
Ad'la-i, my witness, my ornament.
Ad'mah, earthy, red, or bloody.
Ad'ma-tha, a cloud of death, a mortal vapor.
Ad'nah, rest, or testimony eternal.
A-do-ni-be'zek, the lightning of the Lord, or the Lord of lightning.
A-do-ni'jah, the Lord is my master.
A-don'i-kam, the Lord is raised.
A-do-ni'ram, my Lord is most high, or Lord of might and elevation.
A-do-ni-ze'dek, justice of the Lord.
A-do'ram, their beauty, their power.
A-do-ra'im, strength of the sea.
A-dram'ma-lech, the cloak, glory, grandeur, or power of the king.
A-dram-yt'ti-um, the court of death.
A-dul'lam, their testimony, their prey, or their ornament.
Ag'a-bus, a locust, feast of the feather.
A gag, roof, floor.
A gar. See Hagar.

AR

A-grippa, one who causes great pain at his birth.
A'gur, stranger, gathered together
A'hab, uncle, or father's brother.
A-has-u-e'rus, prince, head, or chief.
A-ha'va, essence or generation.
A'haz, one that takes and possesses.
A-ha-zi'ah, seizure, vision of the Lord.
A-hi'ah, brother of the Lord.
A-hi-e'zer, brother of assistance.
A-hi'jah, the same with Ahiah.
A-hi'kam, a brother who raises up.
A-hi'lud, a brother born.
A-him'a-az, brother of the council.
A-hi'man, brother of the right hand.
A-him'e-lech, my brother is a king.
A-hi'moth, brother of death.
A-hin'o-am, the beauty of the brother, or brother of motion.
A-hi'o, his brother, his brethren.
A-hi'ra, brother of iniquity, or brother of the shepherd.
A-his'a-mach, brother of strength.
A-hi'shar, brother of a prince, or brother of a song.
A-hit'ho-phel, brother of ruin or folly.
A-hi'tub, brother of goodness.
A-hi'hud, brother of praise.
Ah'lab, which is of milk, or of fat.
A-ho'lah, his tabernacle, his tent.
A-ho'li-ah, the tent or tabernacle of the father.
A-ho'li-bah, my tent and my tabernacle in her.
A-ho'li-ba-mah, my tabernacle is exalted.
A'i, or Ha'i, mass or heap.
A-i'ath, the same as Ai.
A ja-lon, a chain, strength, or stag.
A-lam'me-lech, God is king.
Al-ex-an'der, one who assists men.

Prophecies in Old and New Testaments Literally Fulfilled.

TEXT.	THE FULFILLMENT.
Gen. 9 : 25, 27.	The descendants of Shem and Japheth are "ruling" and "enlarged," but the descendants of Ham are still "the servants of servants."
Gen. 16 : 10, 12. Gen. 17 : 20.	The posterity of Ishmael have "multiplied exceedingly," living like "wild men," "their hand against every man," free in "the presence of all their brethren," and of all their enemies.
Gen. 49 : 10.	"The sceptre has departed from Judah."
Lev. 26 : 38, 39. Deut. 28 : 62, 67. Ezek. 5 : 10, 15. Hos. 3 : 4.	The Jews have been "led away into all nations," "Jerusalem has been trodden down by the Gentiles," the people have been "plucked from off their own land," "removed into all the kingdoms of the earth," "scattered among the heathen," "among all people," "sifted among all nations," have "become a proverb," have found "among these nations no ease, and the sole of their foot had no rest," have "been many days without a king and without a sacrifice."
Num. 23 : 9.	The Jews "dwell alone," and are not "reckoned among the nations."
Num. 24 : 20.	"The remembrance of Amalek" is "utterly put out from under heaven."
Ps. 2 : 8. Mal. 1 : 11.	The Lord has given to the Messiah "the heathen for his inheritance," and the progress of the gospel is hastening the time when "from the rising of the sun, even to the going down of the same, his name shall be great among the Gentiles."
Jer. 49 : 17, etc. Ezek. 25 : 12, etc. Joel 3 : 19. Amos 1 : 11, etc. Obad. 10 : 18, etc.	The family of Esau has become extinct, "cut off for ever," so that there is "none remaining of the house of Esau." The "palaces of Bozrah" have been "devoured by fire." Fire was "kindled in Rabbah and in the palaces thereof," and Ammon was destroyed as in "the day of the whirlwind."
Nah. 1 : 3.	Nineveh is completely destroyed, and for ages its locality was unknown.
Isa. 13 : 14.	Babylon has been swept with "the besom of destruction," is made "a desolation for ever," "a possession for the bittern and pools of water," "a dwelling-place for dragons, an astonishment and hissing, without an inhabitant."
Ezek. 26 : 4, 5.	Tyre has become "like the top of a rock, a place for fishers to spread their nets upon."
Ezek. 29 : 14, 15.	Egypt became "a base kingdom," tributary to strangers, and never able to "exalt itself above the nations."
Dan. 11 : 37, 39.	The fourth and last of the four great kingdoms was divided into ten kingdoms, and among them has arisen a power with a triple crown, "diverse from the first," "with a mouth speaking very great things," wearing out the saints of the Most High," "changing times and laws," ruling "over many and dividing the land for gain."
Luke 21 : 24.	The Jews have been led into all nations, and Jerusalem has been trodden down of the Gentiles.
1 Tim. 4 : 1–3.	The apostasy here predicted has taken place. The Roman Church has forbidden the priesthood "to marry," and commanded "to abstain from meats."
Rev. 2 : 3.	The decay of the seven Asiatic churches and their fate have been literally foretold.
Rev. 13–17.	The rise, power and fury of the mystical Babylon are here set forth, and Rome built on seven hills is pointed out as the seat of this tyranny.
	The omniscient Lord of all, who seeth the end from the beginning, could alone have foretold these events, which have already come to pass.

A Summary of the Contents of Each of the Books of the Old and New Testaments.

Old Testament.

Genesis. Describes the creation; gives the history of the old world, and of the steps taken by God toward the formation of the theocracy.

Exodus. The history of Israel's departure from Egypt; the giving of the law; the tabernacle.

Leviticus. The ceremonial law.

Numbers. The census of the people; the story of the wanderings in the wilderness.

Deuteronomy. The law rehearsed; the death of Moses.

Joshua. The story of the conquest and partition of Canaan.

Judges. The history of the nation from Joshua to Samson.

Ruth. The story of the ancestors of the royal family of Judah.

1 Samuel. The story of the nation during the judgeship of Samuel and the reign of Saul.

2 Samuel. Story of the reign of David.

1 and 2 Kings. The books of Kings form only one book in the Hebrew MSS. They contain the history of the nation from David's death and Solomon's accession to the destruction of the kingdom of Judah and the desolation of Jerusalem, with a supplemental notice of the liberation of Jehoiachin from his prison at Babylon, twenty-six years later; they comprehend the whole time of the Israelitish monarchy, exclusive of the reigns of Saul and David.

The Books of Chronicles are so called as being the record made by the appointed historiographers of the kingdoms of Judah and Israel; they are the official histories of those kingdoms.

Ezra. The story of the return of the Jews from the Babylonish captivity, and of the rebuilding of the temple.

Nehemiah. A further account of the rebuilding of the temple and city, and of the obstacles encountered and overcome.

Esther. The story of a Jewess who becomes queen of Persia and saves the Jewish people from destruction.

Job. The story of the trials and patience of a holy man of Edom.

Psalms. A collection of sacred poems intended for use in the worship of Jehovah. Chiefly the productions of David.

Proverbs. The wise sayings of Solomon.

Ecclesiastes. A poem respecting the vanity of earthly things.

Solomon's Song. An allegory relating to the Church.

Isaiah. Prophecies respecting Christ and his kingdom.

Jeremiah. Prophecies announcing the captivity of Judah, its sufferings, and the final overthrow of its enemies.

Lamentations. The utterance of Jeremiah's sorrow upon the capture of Jerusalem and the destruction of the temple.

Ezekiel. Messages of warning and comfort to the Jews in their captivity.

Daniel. A narrative of some of the occurrences of the captivity, and a series of prophecies concerning Christ.

Hosea. Prophecies relating to Christ and the latter days.

Joel. Prediction of woes upon Judah, and of the favor with which God will receive the penitent people.

Amos. Prediction that Israel and other neighboring nations will be punished by conquerors from the north, and of the fulfillment of the Messiah's kingdom.

Obadiah. Prediction of the desolation of Edom.

Jonah. Prophecies relating to Nineveh.

Micah. Predictions relating to the invasions of Shalmaneser and Sennacherib, the Babylonish captivity, the establishment of a theocratic kingdom in Jerusalem, and the birth of the Messiah in Bethlehem.

Nahum. Prediction of the downfall of Assyria.

Habakkuk. A prediction of the doom of the Chaldeans.

Zephaniah. A prediction of the overthrow of Judah for its idolatry and wickedness.

Haggai. Prophecies concerning the rebuilding of the temple.

Zechariah. Prophecies relating to the rebuilding of the temple and the Messiah.

Malachi. Prophecies relating to the calling of the Gentiles and the coming of Christ.

New Testament.

Gospel of St. Matthew. A brief history of the life of Christ.

Gospel of St. Mark. A brief history of the life of Christ, supplying some incidents omitted by St. Matthew.

Gospel of St. Luke. The history of the life of Christ, with especial reference to his most important acts and discourses.

Gospel of St. John. The life of Christ, giving important discourses not related by the other evangelists.

Acts of the Apostles. The history of the labors of the apostles and of the foundation of the Christian Church.

Epistle to the Romans. A treatise by St. Paul on the doctrine of justification by Christ.

First Epistle to the Corinthians. A letter from St. Paul to the Corinthians, correcting errors into which they had fallen.

Second Epistle to the Corinthians. St. Paul confirms his disciples in their faith, and vindicates his own character.

Epistle to the Galatians. St. Paul maintains that we are justified by faith, and not by rites.

Epistle to the Ephesians. A treatise by St. Paul on the power of divine grace.

Epistle to the Philippians. St. Paul sets forth the beauty of Christian kindness.

Epistle to the Colossians. St. Paul warns his disciples against errors, and exhorts to certain duties.

First Epistle to the Thessalonians. St. Paul exhorts his disciples to continue in the faith and in holy conversation.

Second Epistle to the Thessalonians. St. Paul corrects an error concerning the speedy coming of Christ the second time.

First and Second Epistles to Timothy. St. Paul instructs Timothy in the duty of a pastor, and encourages him in the work of the ministry.

Epistle to Titus. St. Paul encourages Titus in the performance of his ministerial duties.

Epistle to Philemon. An appeal to a converted master to receive a converted escaped slave with kindness.

Epistle to the Hebrews. St. Paul maintains that Christ is the substance of the ceremonial law.

THE TWELVE ORIGINAL APOSTLES.

1. Peter.—Originally called Simon. Son of Jonas. Occupation, a fisherman. About the same age as Christ. Probably suffered martyrdom at Rome with Paul.

2. Andrew.—Brother of Peter. Same occupation. Said to have been crucified at Patræ in Achaia, on a cross shaped like X, hence, St. Andrew's cross.

3. James.—Son of Zebedee. A fisherman. Put to death in A. D. 44 by Herod Agrippa.

4. John.—Younger brother of James. Same occupation. Driven to Patmos. Lived to a great age, and died, the last of the apostles, as late as A. D. 99 or 100.

5. Philip.—Of Bethsaida. History uncertain before and after his call.

6. Bartholomew.—Of Cana. Probably went eastward to India. Tradition says that he was flayed alive, and afterward crucified with his head downward.

7. Thomas.—Preached in Persia. After-history uncertain.

8. Matthew.—The publican. A tax-gatherer. Author of the Gospel according to St. Matthew. Preached in Judea and among foreign nations. Time and manner of death uncertain.

9. James.—Son of Alpheus. Younger brother of Jude. Preached at Jerusalem. Was thrown from the temple and killed.

10. Jude.—Called also Lebbeus. After-history unknown.

11. Simon.—A Canaanite. Labored in Egypt, and supposed to have been crucified in Judea during the reign of Domitian.

12. Judas.—Called also Iscariot. Son of Simon. The treasurer of the twelve. Betrayed Christ. Attempted suicide by hanging; but the rope breaking, his abdomen was lacerated by the fall, and he died a double death.

* For Biblical Students we bring into one point of view all the great prophecies and allusions to Christ in the Old Testament which are expressly cited, either as predictions fulfilled in him or applied to him in the New Testament.

The first series describes Christ in his human nature as the promised Seed of the woman in the grand charter of our redemption (Gen. 3 : 15), and his pedigree, sufferings, and glory in his successive manifestations of himself until the end of the world.

The second series describes his character and offices, human and divine.

The combination of these in all their branches, representing him as the Son of God and Son of man conjointly, was altogether fulfilled to the utmost nicety in Jesus of Nazareth, and altogether in no other person that ever appeared, demonstrating that it was "he of whom Moses and the prophets did write," and that we Christians have not followed cunningly-devised fables, but many infallible proofs, in holding him for our Lord and our God.

Such is the sublime, magnificent, and stupendous scheme of prophecy, connected, though scattered like the beauties of nature, through the pages of Holy Writ, which God revealed to mankind by the mouth of all his prophets, in divers degrees and sundry modes of inspiration (Heb. 1 : 1), from the grand charter of our redemption, given in Paradise (Gen. 3 : 15), to the last appearance of his Son upon earth (Rev. 20 : 11), when that Son promised that he would come quickly to refresh the world at the regeneration or restitution of all things (Acts 3 : 19–21); and as surely as he appeared before in humiliation as "a Man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief," to instruct and save mankind by his example and by his death as "the Apostle and High Priest of our profession" (Heb. 3 : 1), so surely will "he appear a second time, in glory, for salvation to them who expect him" (Heb. 9 : 28), but as a consuming fire for destruction to them who despise and reject his awful message. Heb. 12 : 25–29.

"And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be." Rev. 22 : 12.

May we, "with hearts fixed and trusting in the Lord" (Ps. 107 : 12; John 14 : 1), be enabled to join in the apostle's patient and humble wish, not presuming to hasten the time, but "tarrying the Lord's leisure."

SUNDAY-SCHOOL SERVICE FOR FOURTH QUARTER.

Opening Service.

I. Silence.

II. Call to Worship.

All join in saying:

All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works.

III. Singing. (Gloria in Excelsis.)

IV. Responsive Scripture Reading.

Supt. Bless the Lord, O my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name.

School. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits:

Supt. Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases;

School. Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies;

Supt. Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things; so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's.

School. The Lord executeth righteousness and judgment for all that are oppressed.

Supt. He made known his ways unto Moses, his acts unto the children of Israel.

School. The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.

V. The Lord's Prayer. (The school, standing, will repeat in concert, the superintendent leading. Be sure to follow the model in Matt. 6: 9-13.)

Books Studied This Quarter.

There are two lessons from the Psalms—one from 122 and another from 85 and 126. The temperance lesson is from the Book of Psalms, and the Christmas lesson from Isaiah. The others are found in Esther, Ezra, Nehemiah, and Malachi.

Esther is so named because the chief incidents narrated cluster about Esther, the queen of the king of Persia. The object of the book seems to be to explain from history the origin and motive of the feast of Purim or lots. There are two theories concerning the book—one that it is a reliable history, the other that it is a historical romance, founded on fact, like Scott's novels. The date is unknown. Professor Sayce says about 435 B. C. The author is unknown. It may have been written by Mordecai and revised by Ezra. The name of God nowhere occurs in the book, but his providences are everywhere manifested. The omission may have been to avoid irreverence.

Ezra was a famous scribe and priest: a man of great character and distinction. The Jews held him in reverence almost equal to Moses. They say that if Moses had not given the law Ezra could have done so. His book covers a period of eighty years, from 536 B. C. to 456 B. C. He arranged the Old-Testament books in their order and established synagogues.

Nehemiah was a "Jew of the dispersion," trained from his youth to be a Persian courtier, and promoted to the office of royal cupbearer. The king appointed him governor of Judea, when he led a great religious revival and rebuilt the walls of Jerusalem. His administration of affairs was marked with patriotism, piety, prudence, perseverance, probity, and courage. The Jews in the country reckoned Nehemiah as a part of the Book of Ezra. It is conceded that the main part of the book was written by Nehemiah. There are extracts from chronicles and registers, which may have been added by Ezra or other writers.

Malachi was the last of the Minor Prophets and the writer of the last book of the Old-Testament canon. Nothing is known of the writer save what is found in this book. He seems to be contemporary with Nehemiah's last visit to Judah, and probably co-operated with him in his last reformation. The generally-accepted date is about 400 B. C. The time of the book extends over fourteen years. It may be divided into three sections. The first contains a rebuke to the priests for their partiality in administering the law; in the second the people are rebuked for intermarriages with the heathen; in the third the people are warned of the coming of the judgment of God, preceded by the advent of the Messiah.

JOY IN GOD'S HOUSE.—Ps. 122.

1. I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord.
2. Our feet shall stand within thy gates, O Jerusalem.
3. Jerusalem is builded as a city that is compact together:
4. Whither the tribes go up, the tribes of the Lord, unto the testimony of Israel, to give thanks unto the name of the Lord.
5. For there are set thrones of judgment, the thrones of the house of David.
6. Pray for the peace of Jerusalem: they shall prosper that love thee.
7. Peace be within thy walls, and prosperity within thy palaces.
8. For my brethren and companions' sakes, I will now say, Peace be within thee.
9. Because of the house of the Lord our God I will seek thy good.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord." Ps. 122: 1.

Time.—After the Exile.

Place.—Temple in Jerusalem.

Hints.—The poet is describing the joy of the people as they start to go to Jerusalem to keep the yearly festival, and their delight as they reach the sacred city.

STEPPING HEAVENWARD.

A SONG OF DEGREES.—So this psalm is called. Some think it was used by the people as they were returning from Babylon on their way to Jerusalem. Others, that it was sung as they were going up to their yearly feasts. In either case it shows their joy in coming once more into the Holy City where they should worship God in his holy temple.

A JOYOUS RELIGION.—Religion is a joyous thing. We should delight to assemble together in God's house, where we may meet him and call upon his name. The Christian man has sorrows as well as other men, but they do not come from his religion. This it is that throws light in the dark places, brings comfort in sorrow, and awakens songs in the night. Be glad and rejoice in the Lord.

A SOCIAL GATHERING.—If we are genuine Christians, we will want others to enjoy the same blessings. The Christian spirit will make each of us a missionary. We will want others to go with us to the house of God and to partake of what we enjoy. "The more angels the more room." Our pleasures are not lessened, but only increased by having others come into church fellowship with us.

THE TRUE SPIRIT.—"The shining from God's house brightens everything, puts sunset glows even on the clouds, and transfigures the whole of daily life. At a camp-meeting not long ago one man remarked that for years he had lived at Grumble Corners, but had lately moved up to Thanksgiving Street, and he found the air purer there, the people more charming, the sunlight brighter, everything better.

GIVING THANKS.—One of the duties required of all God's children is to give thanks. One of the things for which men are most to be blamed is the sin of ingratitude. Read the Psalms, and see how often the sacred writer calls upon all to praise God. There were so many occasions for it in the life of the Hebrew nation. We have even more today. Open your mouths in God's sanctuary and rejoice.

BEARING TESTIMONY.—If the Lord has brought you out of captivity, as he did these Jews, then in his house and everywhere else you want to bear testimony to what he has done and is daily doing for you. These annual journeys to the three historical feasts were a public announcement that Jehovah was their God—the only living and true God—and they his people. We are God's witnesses. We have been delivered from the bondage of sin. By our presence and our words we are to bear testimony whenever opportunity offers. Don't sit like drunken dogs, with nothing to say. By so doing you bear false witness.

A POWER FOR GOD.—We must pray that peace shall prevail inside the city, that it may be protected from outside enemies, and that prosperity shall reign in the homes of the people. The man who obeys God and does his will is the prosperous man.

QUESTIONS TO ANSWER.

Why was the poet glad?
When was this sung?
What three annual feasts were kept?
Should religion make us joyful?
Why should we rejoice in God's house?
What did Jerusalem represent?
Why go to church?
For what should we pray?
Who shall be prosperous?
Will Christianity make us selfish?
Where shall we go for peace?
What is the temple of the Holy Spirit?

Our Catechism.—MISSIONS.—Q. 1. What command did Jesus give to his disciples just before he ascended to heaven? "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature" (Mark 16: 15). Q. 2. What does this mean? A. That the disciples were to be missionaries to bear the gospel to others. Q. 3. What is the true spirit of missions? A. Love for Christ and the souls of men for whom he died. Q. 4. What is the true aim of missionary work? A. To make Christ known to the world. Q. 5. How are missionaries sent out? By churches and missionary societies. Q. 6. Are there enough missionaries? A. "The harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few" (Matt. 9: 37).

HAMAN'S PLOT AGAINST THE JEWS.—Esther 3: 1-11.

1. After these things did king Ahasuerus promote Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, and advanced him, and set his seat above all the princes that were with him.

2. And all the king's servants, that were in the king's gate, bowed, and reverenced Haman: for the king had so commanded concerning him. But Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence.

3. Then the king's servants, which were in the king's gate, said unto Mordecai, Why transgressest thou the king's commandment?

4. Now it came to pass, when they spake daily unto him, and he hearkened not unto them, that they told Haman, to see whether Mordecai's matters would stand: for he had told them that he was a Jew.

5. And when Haman saw that Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence, then was Haman full of wrath.

6. And he thought scorn to lay hands on Mordecai alone; for they had shewed him the people of Mordecai: wherefore Haman sought to destroy all the Jews that were throughout the whole kingdom of Ahasuerus, even the people of Mordecai.

7. In the first month, that is, the month Nisan, in the twelfth year of king Ahasuerus, they cast Pur, that is, the lot, before Haman from day to day, and from month to month, to the twelfth month, that is, the month Adar.

8. And Haman said unto king Ahasuerus, There is a certain people scattered abroad and dispersed among the people in all the provinces of thy kingdom; and their laws are diverse from all people; neither keep they the king's laws: therefore it is not for the king's profit to suffer them.

9. If it please the king, let it be written that they may be destroyed: and I will pay ten thousand talents of silver to the hands of those who have the charge of the business, to bring it into the king's treasuries.

10. And the king took his ring from his hand, and gave it unto Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, the Jews' enemy.

11. And the king said unto Haman, The silver is given to thee, the people also, to do with them as it seemeth good to thee.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"If God be for us, who can be against us?" Rom. 8: 31.

Time.—486-465 B. C.

Place.—Shushan, 200 miles south-east of Babylon.

Hints.—The author of this book is unknown. There is no mention of the name of God, but he is everywhere manifested in the book.

ALWAYS OBEY GOD.

THE KING.—The king should always be an example to his people. All those in high places should live well, so those below may wisely follow them. This king was a man of pleasure. With high rank and wonderful opportunities, he lived for personal enjoyment, in glorious ease, forgetting the interests of his empire. Thus many men live to-day.

THE OFFICEHOLDER.—Haman was of the family of the king, and advanced to high position. He should use his place for the good of the people, but, instead, he seeks to gratify his own private whims, and to wreak vengeance on a rival. Office to him is not a public trust. With the "bosses" of to-day he believes, "To the victors belong the spoils." He left God out of his calculations, and most ingloriously failed.

THE MAN OF FAITH.—Such was Mordecai. He lived for the success of God's cause, and not for honor from man. He believed that God would save his people, and that Esther had been miraculously placed where she was to help in this work. He had faith in God, and that faith controlled his life.

GOD'S PROTECTION.—From a human standpoint Mordecai ran a very great risk. Apparently all power was in Haman's hand, and this proud Jew, who would not bow to him, should lose his life. But back of all these instrumentalities was the King of the universe, who holds in his hands the destinies of men and of empires. He would vindicate the faith of this man who so supremely trusted him. So the man who obeys God to-day is the only safe man. He may lose his life, but he is still safe.

OBEY GOD.—God's laws have more claims upon us than the customs of men. Had it been a mere matter of form or of taste no doubt Mordecai would have consented to pay honor to this official. But when this act meant disloyalty to God, he could not do it. No doubt he expected this disobedience to cost him his life, but he could not do otherwise.

EASY LIVING.—Men sometimes say they cannot live good lives in the midst of such surroundings, but if Mordecai could they can. It may be difficult at times so to do, but God can lead us through if he thinks best.

QUESTIONS TO ANSWER.

Who is the author of this book?
What displeased Haman?
Why did Mordecai not honor Haman?
What did Haman propose?
Was that an unusual thing?
Was it a wise thing?
Was the king's consent easily secured?
What did Haman offer?
Are we allowed to take revenge?
Whom did Haman leave out of his calculations?
Who is similarly forgotten to-day?
When is it safe to obey God?
When to disobey?

Our Catechism—Q. 7. Do the heathen want the gospel? A. Their cry to-day is the same as in the days of Paul the Apostle to the Gentiles, "Come over and help us." Q. 8. Was Paul a missionary? A. He was the first gospel missionary to a foreign land of whom we have any account.

ESTHER PLEADING FOR HER PEOPLE.—Esther 8: 3-8, 15-17.

3. And Esther spake yet again before the king, and fell down at his feet, and besought him with tears to put away the mischief of Haman the Agagite, and his device that he had devised against the Jews.
4. Then the king held out the golden sceptre toward Esther. So Esther arose, and stood before the king,
5. And said, If it please the king, and if I have found favour in his sight, and the thing seem right before the king, and I be pleasing in his eyes, let it be written to reverse the letters devised by Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, which he wrote to destroy the Jews which are in all the king's provinces:
6. For how can I endure to see the evil that shall come unto my people? or how can I endure to see the destruction of my kindred?
7. Then the king Ahasuerus said unto Esther the queen and to Mordecai the Jew, Behold, I have given Esther the house of Haman, and him they have hanged upon the gallows, because he laid his hand upon the Jews.
8. Write ye also for the Jews, as it liketh you, in the king's name, and seal it with the king's ring: for the writing which is written in the king's name, and sealed with the king's ring, may no man reverse.
15. And Mordecai went out from the presence of the king in royal apparel of blue and white, and with a great crown of gold, and with a garment of fine linen and purple: and the city of Shushan rejoiced and was glad.
16. The Jews had light, and gladness, and joy, and honour.
17. And in every province, and in every city, whithersoever the king's commandment and his decree came, the Jews had joy and gladness, a feast and a good day. And many of the people of the land became Jews; for the fear of the Jews fell upon them.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him, and he shall bring it to pass." Ps. 37: 5.

Time.—About 473 B. C.

Place.—The palace at Shushan.

Hints.—Notice how God can overthrow all the evil purposes of wicked men and cause the penalty to come upon their own heads. How much good can a loyal, courageous woman do!

SAFETY OF GOD'S PEOPLE.

A Place of Responsibility.—God had put this Jewish girl in a place of opportunity that she might save her people. Our surroundings, relationship, family ties, our friendships, are all opportunities for service. At this time a whole nation depended upon what this woman did. The welfare of this American people may depend upon what the President of the United States may do.

Saved to Serve.—It is just as true to-day that God calls us into his kingdom to save others. Andrew must tell his brother Simon. The woman at the well must preach to her fellow-Samaritans. God forgave us that we might tell others of the joy of forgiveness. If we fail to improve these opportunities we shall be losers.

God Makes a Way.—To all human appearances the doom of this people was sealed; but God could find a way or make one. Esther first of all prayed earnestly, and committed her way unto the Lord. At the same time she used tact and good sense to reach the mind of the king. A divine spirit reached the mind of this man, and his sleep went from him. God is ripening his plans by showing how a great deed done had been forgotten.

Why Preserve this People?—To make the Jews his missionaries, so as to spread the true knowledge of God, and thus prepare the way for the coming of Christ. Probably more Jews were scattered among the heathen nations than lived in Judea. Through the faith and labors of Esther they were allowed to defend themselves, and thus were saved from destruction. So are we to be God's missionaries to those about us.

Consequences of Sin.—Haman was dead, but his decree had gone out, and could not be changed. Even when the king had ordered the Jews to defend themselves, many innocent people would perish. How many homes would be saddened, how many hearts broken by this wicked act of Haman! So to-day, what seems a small sin, may lead to very grave results.

Divine Guidance.—The steps of a good man have been and still are ordered by the Lord. It was no mere accident that Esther became queen of a great nation and Mordecai its prime minister. God had a purpose to serve, and he called them into public life to help consummate that purpose. If you are willing to be used, no doubt God is planning a wider path of life for you.

QUESTIONS TO ANSWER.

How did Esther learn of Haman's plot?
What did Mordecai entreat her to do?
How did she prepare for it?
Why did the king desire to honor Mordecai?
How was it done?
What occurred at the second banquet?
How was Haman punished?
What petition did Esther make for her people?
Could the king recall his decree?
How did he provide for the Jews?
How is Esther an example for us?

Our Catechism.—Q. 9. Does the Lord care for the heathen? A. He surely does, for he says, "Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession" (Ps. 2: 8). Q. 10. Is it our duty to pray for the heathen? A. "Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest" (Matt. 9: 38).

EZRA'S JOURNEY TO JERUSALEM.—Ezra 8: 21-32.

21. Then I proclaimed a fast there, at the river of Ahava, that we might afflict ourselves before our God, to seek of him a right way for us, and for our little ones, and for all our substance.

22. For I was ashamed to require of the king a band of soldiers and horsemen to help us against the enemy in the way: because we had spoken unto the king, saying, The hand of our God is upon all them for good that seek him; but his power and his wrath is against all them that forsake him.

23. So we fasted and besought our God for this: and he was intreated of us.

24. Then I separated twelve of the chief of the priests, Sherebiah, Hashabiah, and ten of their brethren with them,

25. And weighed unto them the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, even the offering of the house of our God, which the king, and his counsellors, and his lords, and all Israel there present, had offered:

26. I even weighed unto their hand six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and silver vessels an hundred talents, and of gold an hundred talents;

27. Also twenty basons of gold, of a thousand drams; and two vessels of fine copper, precious as gold.

28. And I said unto them, Ye are holy unto the Lord; the vessels are holy also; and the silver and the gold are a freewill offering unto the Lord God of your fathers.

29. Watch ye, and keep them, until ye weigh them before the chief of the priests and the Levites, and chief of the fathers of Israel, at Jerusalem, in the chambers of the house of the Lord.

30. So took the priests and the Levites the weight of the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, to bring them to Jerusalem unto the house of our God.

31. Then we departed from the river of Ahava on the twelfth day of the first month, to go unto Jerusalem: and the hand of our God was upon us, and he delivered us from the hand of the enemy, and of such as lay in wait by the way.

32. And we came to Jerusalem, and abode there three days.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"The hand of our God is upon all them for good that seek him." Ezra 8: 22

Time.—458 B. C.

Place.—Babylon and Jerusalem.

Hints.—Ezra, a student of the law of Moses, is filled with a desire to go up to Jerusalem and teach the law to the people, who are falling into idolatry. He is probably forty years of age.

AN ANCIENT PILGRIM.

EZRA THE SCRIBE.—He was one of the men who copied and interpreted the written Scriptures. He followed the prophets who spoke by direct inspiration. It is thought that this man, more than any other one person, collected the Old Testament writings together and gave them to us in their present form. Every Bible student owes him a debt of gratitude.

BECOMES A MISSIONARY.—Some seventy-eight years have passed since the first caravan, fifty thousand strong, had gone back to Jerusalem. The expectations of these had not all been realized. This man wishes to go and aid them. He is willing to travel a thousand miles on a dangerous and difficult journey to help his people. He raises a company of 1,500 leading men, counting women and children perhaps 7,000, and starts for Jerusalem.

A MAN OF FAITH.—The journey was a dangerous one, and usually men would seek a guard to go with them. He was ashamed to ask this of the king, for had he not told him how God would care for his own? He was going on God's business, and he could afford to trust God; and so he did, and God kept him. "Yet if that little caravan had been destroyed by a band of robbers, who can count the loss to the world, for they carried the greatest Bible scholars of a thousand years, and priceless manuscripts of the Scriptures."

A LIVE REFORMER.—When he reached Jerusalem he went to work to save the people. The nation was drifting into intermarriages with other peoples. They must be a separate people to save the world. He was a faithful Bible teacher as well as a student. In chapter eight, read of his great Sunday school in Jerusalem. He helped to shape the nation into the form it now has.

GOD PROVIDES—When God has a work to be done, with his infinite resources he can easily find a man to do that work. If no man can be found already equipped, by a course of training he prepares one, as he did Moses. At this time the people at Jerusalem were forgetting God's law, and some one must be found to check the evil. At this time there was a man, Ezra, the scribe, in training in Babylon, and he is impressed that it is his duty to go to Jerusalem to teach in "Israel statutes and judgments."

QUESTIONS TO ANSWER.

What was Ezra's mission to Jerusalem?
How large a company went with him?
When did they start?
Why not ask the king for protection?
What dangers surrounded them?
Who protected them?
How long was the journey?
What care did he take?
How did he help the people?
What foes beset us?
In whom shall we trust?
To what land are we journeying?

Our Catechism.—Q. 11. What would be a good missionary motto? A. "Go or send." Q. 12. What does this mean? A. It means that we should go out as missionaries ourselves, or, if we can not go, that we will give of our money to send others.

PSALMS OF DELIVERANCE.—Ps. 85 and 126.

1. Lord, thou hast been favourable unto thy land: thou hast brought back the captivity of Jacob.
2. Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people, thou hast covered all their sin. Selah.
3. Thou hast taken away all thy wrath: thou hast turned thyself from the fierceness of thine anger.
4. Turn us, O God of our salvation, and cause thine anger toward us to cease.
5. Wilt thou be angry with us for ever? wilt thou draw out thine anger to all generations?
6. Wilt thou not revive us again: that thy people may rejoice in thee?
7. Shew us thy mercy, O Lord, and grant us thy salvation.
8. I will hear what God the Lord will speak: for he will speak peace unto his people, and to his saints: but let them not turn again to folly.
9. Surely his salvation is nigh them that fear him; that glory may dwell in our land.
10. Mercy and truth are met together; righteousness and peace have kissed each other.
11. Truth shall spring out of the earth; and righteousness shall look down from heaven.
12. Yea, the Lord shall give that which is good; and our land shall yield her increase.
13. Righteousness shall go before him; and shall set us in the way of his steps.

1. When the Lord turned again the captivity of Zion, we were like them that dream.
2. Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with singing: then said they among the heathen, The Lord hath done great things for them.
3. The Lord hath done great things for us; whereof we are glad.
4. Turn again our captivity, O Lord, as the streams in the south.
5. They that sow in tears shall reap in joy.
6. He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"They that sow in tears shall reap in joy." Ps. 126: 5.

Time.—Probably about 520 B. C.

Place.—Land of Canaan.

Hints.—Psalm 85 is a prayer for greater manifestation of God's kindness; Psalm 126 is one of thanksgiving for return from captivity—so unexpected, it seemed like a dream.

LIKE A DREAM.

A Foreign People.—The nation had sinned generally, and as a punishment they had been carried into captivity. But God had not forgotten them. During all these years he had kept them, and now he brings them back. They are now a new Israel. God has pardoned and restored them to their ancient land. They are grateful for his mercy.

Needing Help.—They are back again in their own land, but they are few in number and have enemies all about them. They are in constant danger, but surely God will keep them. He will quicken them again and give them a new life. The one who kept them and brought them again into their own land is the one to strengthen and increase them now. He who has pardoned our sins will with this give us all needed help.

Listening to God.—During all the years of their decline they had not listened to God, but had turned away after idols. There is no more of this after the captivity. They will listen to his teachings. So it has ever been with God's people. The hour of adversity has been a blessed hour. We often sow in tears, and reap in joy. The cross comes before the crown. We reach the desired haven through great tribulation.

A Surprised People.—They little dreamed that Babylon should give way to the Medes and Persians. What reason had they to believe that the Persian king would acknowledge their God and permit them to return? Could they make a four months' journey over a vast desert, with only occasional wells, and robbers there, as now, sweeping over the whole land? When we stop to think of what God has done for us, do we not seem like one that dreams?

Occasion for Thanksgiving.—There is no time in his life when a Christian man cannot find an occasion for thanksgiving. We should be thankful for temporal mercies bestowed, for the cattle upon a thousand hills are his; for the forgiveness of our sins, and our adoption into his family. Paul was always giving thanks, and the most marked of these were in connection with his adversities.

Sowing in Tears.—Most of the sowing of this life is in "tears." It is God's plan to develop the strongest character through adversity. There must be labor and close economy if we would amass wealth: patient study and the burning of the midnight oil if we would become scholars. The struggle must come first, and then the success.

QUESTIONS TO ANSWER.

Was the return from captivity expected?
What was there to discourage?
Was the return a pledge of forgiveness?
What do they yet need?
For what do they ask?
Will God leave them?
Will he turn away from his children?
How is Israel's joy described?
What did they do?
How were the heathen affected?
What makes a nation prosperous?
How may God's goodness seem like a dream?

Our Catechism—Q. 13. What promise of reward is made to those who go or send? A. "They that turn many to righteousness shall shine as the stars forever and ever" (Dan. 12: 3). Q. 14. When did the work of modern missions begin? A. In 1792, when William Carey was sent as a missionary to India.

NEHEMIAH'S PRAYER.—Neh. 1: 1-11.

1. The words of Nehemiah the son of Hachaliah. And it came to pass in the month of Chisleu, in the twentieth year, as I was in Shushan the palace,

2. That Hanani, one of my brethren, came, he and certain men of Judah; and I asked them concerning the Jews that had escaped, which were left of the captivity, and concerning Jerusalem.

3. And they said unto me, The remnant that are left of the captivity there in the province are in great affliction and reproach: the wall of Jerusalem also is broken down, and the gates thereof are burned with fire.

4. And it came to pass, when I heard these words, that I sat down and wept, and mourned certain days, and fasted, and prayed before the God of heaven,

5. And said, I beseech thee, O Lord God of heaven, the great and terrible God, that keepeth covenant and mercy for them that love him and observe his commandments:

6. Let thine ear now be attentive, and thine eyes open, that thou mayest hear the prayer of thy servant, which I pray before thee now, day and night, for the children of Israel thy servants, and confess the sins of the children of Israel, which we have sinned against thee: both I and my father's house have sinned.

7. We have dealt very corruptly against thee, and have not kept the commandments, nor the statutes, nor the judgments, which thou commandedst thy servant Moses.

8. Remember, I beseech thee, the word that thou commandedst thy servant Moses, saying, If ye transgress, I will scatter you abroad among the nations:

9. But if ye turn unto me, and keep my commandments, and do them; though there were of you cast out into the uttermost part of the heaven, yet will I gather them from thence, and will bring them unto the place that I have chosen to set my name there.

10. Now these are thy servants and thy people, whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy strong hand.

11. O Lord, I beseech thee, let now thine ear be attentive to the prayer of thy servant, and to the prayer of thy servants, who desire to fear thy name: and prosper, I pray thee, thy servant this day, and grant him mercy in the sight of this man. For I was the king's cupbearer.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"Prosper, I pray thee, thy servant this day." Neh. 1: 11.

Time.—B. C. 444.

Place.—Susa, chief of three capitals of the Persian empire.

Hints.—"Frederick Douglass used to say that, when a slave, he often prayed for freedom, but his prayer was never answered until he prayed with his feet."

THE STORY OF A SOUL.

PIETY IN A PALACE.—Most men are in a fervor to be rich and to live in affluence. But such surroundings do not help us to live religious lives. It is hard to keep humble, and dependent, and faithful in the midst of such irreligious and worldly surroundings. The best men and those who have done the most to honor God are those who have grown up in the midst of trials and surrounded by adverse circumstances. Nehemiah shows us that a man can be religious if he will in a palace.

INTERESTED IN THE CHURCH.—He was a thousand miles away from his people, but his thoughts went out for their welfare. He learns from his own brother and others that the Jews who had gone back to Judea ninety years before were yet in a bad state. The walls were down, and they were harassed by their enemies. Wherever we are located, and whatever our business, we must never forget God's cause nor his people.

PRAYER A PREPARATION FOR SERVICE.—This sad news led him to weep over his people. He remembered and confessed their sins. God was not to blame. He had kept his covenant with them, but his people had sinned. The very fact that God had kept his threatenings was an encouragement to believe he would keep his promises. He had promised to gather them from the nations of the earth.

A GREAT UNDERTAKING.—He no doubt had thought many times of resigning his place and going to his own people. He now determines to seek the consent of the king to allow him to go to Jerusalem. The journey will be full of dangers; if he gets there he will find the people in poverty and discouraged; there will be a great work to be done; enemies will oppose him, but he will bear the burden if God will open the way. He will give up all earthly honor if he can advance the interests of God's people.

Our Catechism —Q. 15. Who have been some of the leading missionaries of the nineteenth century, and where did they labor? A. William Carey, India; Robert Morrison, China; Adoniram Judson, Burmah; Robert Moffat, South Africa; David Livingstone, Africa; Robert McAll, France; Joseph Hardy Neesima, Japan.

REBUILDING THE WALLS OF JERUSALEM.—Neh. 4: 7-18.

7. But it came to pass, that when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Ashdodites, heard that the walls of Jerusalem were made up, and that the breaches began to be stopped, then they were very wroth,

8. And conspired all of them together to come and to fight against Jerusalem, and to hinder it.

9. Nevertheless we made our prayer unto our God, and set a watch against them day and night, because of them.

10. And Judah said, The strength of the bearers of burdens is decayed, and there is much rubbish; so that we are not able to build the wall.

11. And our adversaries said, They shall not know, neither see, till we come in the midst among them, and slay them, and cause the work to cease.

12. And it came to pass, that when the Jews which dwelt by them came, they said unto us ten times, From all places whence ye shall return unto us they will be upon you.

13. Therefore set I in the lower places behind the wall, and on the higher places, I even set the people after their families with their swords, their spears, and their bows.

14. And I looked, and rose up, and said unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, Be not afraid of them: remember the Lord, which is great and terrible, and fight for your brethren, your sons, and your daughters, your wives, and your houses.

15. And it came to pass, when our enemies heard that it was known unto us, and God had brought their counsel to nought, that we returned all of us to the wall, every one unto his work.

16. And it came to pass from that time forth, that the half of my servants wrought in the work, and the other half of them held both the spears, the shields, and the bows, and the habergeons; and the rulers were behind all the house of Judah.

17. They which builded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, with those that laded, every one with one of his hands wrought in the work, and with the other hand held a weapon.

18. For the builders, every one had his sword girded by his side, and so builded. And he that sounded the trumpet was by me.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"Watch and pray." Matt. 26: 41.

Time.—B. C. 444.

Place.—Jerusalem and vicinity.

Hints.—The king granted Nehemiah permission to go to Jerusalem. He left his high position and the luxuries of the court to face ridicule, slander, and conspiracy; yet he went in courage, and met with success.

HOW TO SUCCEED.

By Prayer.—Nehemiah reaches Jerusalem, and in due time begins to rebuild the wall. He does not forget the source of all power and success, so he goes to God in prayer. As he is doing God's will, he may well ask his help and direction.

"Satan trembles when he sees
The weakest saint upon his knees."

Before you make your plans, ask God to direct you.

By Watchfulness.—We must watch as well as pray. We must faithfully strive to answer our own prayers. He appointed one-half of his men to work, and the other half to watch. Those who watched had their own weapons, as well as the weapons of those who worked. The chiefs stood behind, ready to lead the armed force if an attack was made.

By Courage.—No man need fear anything as long as he is in the path of duty. When he saw how the pagan forces had united and were advancing to make an attack, he said to his people, "Be ye not afraid." No conflict followed. The way to be courageous was to remember God's promise, how he would aid them in the struggle. He who goes into a contest armed with God's strength has a power that no enemy can withstand.

By Labor.—Prayer, and faith, and works must all go together. We must not sit down and wait for God to work miracles for our benefit. He works through us by giving us a clear brain, a good body, and persistency of purpose. These men watched, and worked, and labored with a trowel in one hand and a sword in the other. Whether we are building up our own spiritual strength or carrying forward God's work we will be diligent and faithful. How much the church could do if every one had a mind to work! "Always at it and all at it," was John Wesley's motto.

QUESTIONS TO ANSWER.

How long was Nehemiah's journey?
What did he first do? (2: 13.)
How did the people receive his plan?
How were they opposed? (2: 19.)
How did Nehemiah answer?
How did he learn of the enemies' plan? (12.)
How did he arrange to meet the enemy?
What appeal did he make to the people?
How did this affect his enemies?
How arrange to complete the work? (16.)

Our Catechism.—Q. 16. What has this century been called? A. The missionary century of the Christian era. Q. 17. What is the outlook for missionary endeavor in the twentieth century? A. The gospel will continue to spread till "the kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord and of his Christ."

PUBLIC READING OF THE SCRIPTURES.—Neh. 8: 1-12.

1. And all the people gathered themselves together as one man into the street that was before the water gate; and they spake unto Ezra the scribe to bring the book of the law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

2. And Ezra the priest brought the law before the congregation both of men and women, and all that could hear with understanding, upon the first day of the seventh month.

3. And he read therein before the street that was before the water gate from the morning until midday, before the men and the women, and those that could understand; and the ears of all the people were attentive unto the book of the law.

4. And Ezra the scribe stood upon a pulpit of wood, which they had made for the purpose; and beside him stood Mattithiah, and Shema, and Anaiah, and Urijah, and Hilkiah, and Maaseiah, on his right hand; and on his left hand, Pedaiah, and Mishael, and Malchiah, and Hashum, and Hashbadana, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

5. And Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people; (for he was above all the people;) and when he opened it, all the people stood up:

6. And Ezra blessed the Lord, the great God. And all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting up their hands: and they bowed their heads, and worshipped the Lord with their faces to the ground.

7. Also Jeshua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodijah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites, caused the people to understand the law: and the people stood in their place.

8. So they read in the book in the law of God distinctly, and gave the sense, and caused them to understand the reading.

9. And Nehemiah, which is the Tirshatha, and Ezra the priest the scribe, and the Levites that taught the people, said unto all the people, This day is holy unto the Lord your God; mourn not, nor weep. For all the people wept, when they heard the words of the law.

10. Then he said unto them, go your way, eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions unto them for whom nothing is prepared: for this day is holy unto our Lord: neither be ye sorry; for the joy of the Lord is your strength.

11. So the Levites stilled all the people, saying, Hold your peace, for the day is holy; neither be ye grieved.

12. And all the people went their way to eat, and to drink, and to send portions, and to make great mirth, because they had understood the words that were declared unto them.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"The ears of all the people were attentive unto the book of the law." Neh. 8: 3.

Time.—September, 444 B. C.

Place.—Jerusalem, south-east of the Temple area.

Hints.—The next step after building the wall was to prepare the people to properly live in this new city. They must know God's law to fit them to enter upon the moral reforms which Nehemiah will carry out.

AN OLD-TESTAMENT SABBATH SCHOOL.

TIME OF MEETING.—On the first day of the seventh month. This was about a week after the walls had been finished. This was the Jewish Sabbath (Lev. 23: 24) and the beginning of the new year. It was introduced with the blowing of trumpets, like our Christmas bells, and this made a day of beginning. It was a much better way to begin the new year than by revelry and dissipation.

THE MEMBERS.—They seem to have come from city and country, roughly estimated at from two million to five millions of people, and gathered in the public square south of the temple. Men and women were there, those of middle life, and no doubt others who were old and gray; many of these had probably been captives in heathen lands. Boys and girls were there who were old enough to understand what was said, and no doubt would long carry with them the memory of that day.

THE BOOK.—They taught out of "the book of the law of Moses," which shows that at that time a sacred book existed whose contents, so far as known, agreed substantially with our Pentateuch. The book of the law may have included most of the Old Testament. Each roll had two rollers, and was unrolled from one and rolled on the other during the reading. For a Sabbath school to-day the Bible is the only text-book.

THE EXERCISES.—Ezra seems to have been the superintendent, and a very capable man. With him were associated thirteen men from Jerusalem, who stood upon an elevated platform, where they, in turn, read the Scriptures. When the book was opened, the people stood up to worship. The reading was done plainly and distinctly, and time taken to explain what was not readily understood. The consciences of the people were awakened, and they were purposed for better living.

QUESTIONS TO ANSWER.

Where were the people gathered?
For what purpose?
What book did Ezra read?
How long were they assembled?
Who stood beside Ezra?
How did the people show their reverence?
How did Ezra open the service?
How did the people respond?
What did the priests and Levites do?
Why were the people so ignorant of the Scriptures?
Why did they weep?

Our Catechism.—MISSIONS OF THE UNITED BRETHREN CHURCH.—Q. 18. What has been peculiar to the United Brethren Church during all its history? A. It has always had an earnest missionary spirit. Q. 19. What can be said of its early ministers? A. They were faithful and successful missionaries. Q. 20. When was the Home, Frontier, and Foreign Missionary Society organized? A. In 1853.

WOES OF INTEMPERANCE.—Prov. 23: 29-35.

29. Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes?

30. They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek mixed wine.

31. Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth itself aright.

32. At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder.

33. Thine eyes shall behold strange women, and thine heart shall utter perverse things.

34. Yea, thou shalt be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea, or as he that lieth upon the top of a mast.

35. They have stricken me, shalt thou say, and I was not sick; they have beaten me, and I felt it not: when shall I awake? I will seek it yet again.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise." Prov. 20: 1.

Time.—B. C. 1000.

Place.—Jerusalem.

Hints.—This word picture of a drunkard, drawn by the ancient preacher thirty centuries ago, accurately portrays the debauchee of our own times.

A HIDEOUS PICTURE.

THE ROLL-CALL.—The inspired writer here gives us a brief roll-call of the hideous marks by means of which we may recognize that blot on God's creation, called a drunkard. He is as clearly and disgracefully marked as though branded with a hot iron. Woes, pains, diseases, troubles, quarrels, angry disposition, bodily injuries, bad vision, natural and spiritual, all point out the fearful wreck and bid us beware of following in his footsteps.

HOW CAUSED.—Every effect has a cause. This does not come without serious wrongdoing. Men tarry at the wine. They begin with a little for good fellowship. As they indulge, the appetite increases. At first they can resist, but soon the chains of habit begin to bind. Everything is trampled under foot to get strong drink. "O thou invisible spirit of wine, if thou hast no name to be known by, let us call thee devil!"

"AT LAST."—There comes an end when the "adder" of strong drink stings a man to death. He was advised, and urged, and cautioned by friends, but, like the giddy maniac, he laughed and went on. He put aside wife and children, flung away manhood and honor, so that he might live with snakes and adders here and with devils hereafter. Sad to say, the American Government helps him to do so.

THE WAY OUT.—It is very hard to save a man in whom this dreadful appetite has been created, but it can be done. The only sure way is to never touch. Strong drink is only evil, and that continually. It does one no good. It cannot be trifled with. The wise person will always turn away from it, and under no circumstance touch it. He should train himself to hate the accursed thing. It wrecks the body, crazes the brain, and sends the soul to an endless hell.

MAKES MEN RECKLESS.—"The victims of intemperance will trample over everything to reach strong drink. Put wife and children in the path before them, and they cast them aside. Put respectability, and honor, and manhood there, they gaze at them a moment, and fling them away. Bring heaven, and Christ, and salvation to withstand their downward way, and they trample them under their feet. Lay remorse, with all its coiling serpent tongues and scorpion stings in the path, yet they walk on. Pile up miseries, sorrow, pains, and diseases before them, but they still seek mixed wine."

A CURIOUS DREAM.—"A laborer at the Danube harbor once told his wife on awakening a curious dream which he had during the night. He dreamed that he saw coming toward him, in order, four rats, the first one very fat, the second one blind, followed by two lean rats. The dreamer was greatly perplexed as to what might follow, as the superstitious believed that to dream of rats denoted coming calamity. He appealed to his wife, but she, poor woman, could not help him. His son, a sharp lad, who heard his father tell the story, volunteered to be the interpreter. 'The fat rat,' he said, 'is the man who keeps the public house where you go so often: and the two lean ones are my mother and I. The blind one, father, is yourself.' The lad's interpretation, to say the least, was a very reasonable one."

Our Catechism—Q. 21. When was the first foreign mission established? A. In 1855. Q. 22. Where was the mission located? A. At Shengeh, West Africa, sixty miles south of Freetown, among the Sherbro people. Q. 23. Who were the first missionaries? A. W. J. Shuey, D. K. Flickinger, and D. C. Kumler.

KEEPING THE SABBATH.—Neh. 13: 15-22.

15. In those days saw I in Judah some treading wine presses on the sabbath, and bringing in sheaves, and lading asses; as also wine, grapes, and figs, and all manner of burdens, which they brought into Jerusalem on the sabbath day: and I testified against them in the day wherein they sold victuals.

16. There dwelt men of Tyre also therein, which brought fish, and all manner of ware, and sold on the sabbath unto the children of Judah, and in Jerusalem.

17. Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and said unto them, What evil thing is this that ye do, and profane the sabbath day?

18. Did not your fathers thus, and did not our God bring all this evil upon us, and upon this city? yet ye bring more wrath upon Israel by profaning the sabbath.

19. And it came to pass, that when the gates of Jerusalem began to be dark before the sabbath, I commanded that the gates should be shut, and charged that they should not be opened till after the sabbath: and some of my servants set I at the gates, that there should no burden be brought in on the sabbath day.

20. So the merchants and sellers of all kind of ware lodged without Jerusalem once or twice.

21. Then I testified against them, and said unto them, Why lodge ye about the wall? if ye do so again, I will lay hands on you. From that time forth came they no more on the sabbath.

22. And I commanded the Levites that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come and keep the gates, to sanctify the sabbath day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this also, and spare me according unto the greatness of thy mercy.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy." Ex. 20: 8.

Time.—426 B. C.

Place.—Jerusalem and vicinity.

Hints.—While Nehemiah was absent in Persia, the flood-gates of evil were opened, and an era of Sabbath-breaking set in, which he at once proceeds to correct, thereby showing himself a model city ruler.

A COURAGEOUS RULER.

THE SABBATH BROKEN.—Nehemiah had been recalled to Persia, perhaps by the consent of the king. After an absence of some years he came back to Jerusalem and saw with his own eyes how the gates had been lifted and the tide of Sabbath desecration was pouring through the city and threatening its detruction. Men, in violation of God's law, were working on their farms and keeping their laborers at work. They were transporting their goods into the city. They were carrying on business with foreigners who had no concern for the Sabbath.

WHAT HE MIGHT HAVE DONE.—Had he been mayor of Cincinnati, Chicago, or any similar city, and been regardless of his oath of office and disobedient to God's requests, he could have ignored both the civil and divine law, as men do to-day. He could have said, "The people do not want the law enforced. Having come back from captivity, they need a larger liberty. We cannot make men moral by legislation here. We must appeal to their judgment, and reason with them. We have no authority to believe this was a permanent regulation. The demands of business forbid us to so consider."

WHAT HE DID DO.—He remembered his conscience, his oath of office, his duty to God. He reproved the people of prominence and influence, possibly the town council, who had been setting a bad example. He tells them a broken Sabbath carried their fathers into captivity, and their conduct invites still greater wrath. He then proceeds to exercise his authority. He shut the gates and stationed police there. The merchants did not think he meant it, and came, waiting for the gates to be opened. He notified them that if they came again they should be arrested, and "they came no more." A courageous Nehemiah for mayor would soon revolutionize many of our worst cities.

A FIXED DAY.—"It is not difficult to show that if the Sabbath be necessary at all, the specific day must be definitely and authoritatively fixed, or there might as well be none at all. If the employer required his workmen at any time when he pleased, if the laborer took his rest whenever he felt inclined, if the shops were opened or closed at random, the air would never be relieved from the noise of human industry and trade, and the world would lose its Sabbath. In the most ordinary affairs of life we know how important it is to have fixed times for attending to what is expected of us."

"Of one hundred men admitted to the Massachusetts State prison in one year, eighty-nine had lived in habitual violation of the Sabbath and neglect of public worship."

QUESTIONS TO ANSWER.

Where was Nehemiah?
What occurred during these years?
How was the Sabbath desecrated?
By whom?
How did he account for their captivity?
What were they now doing?
Is our nation in danger from Sabbath-breaking?
What steps did he take to enforce obedience?
How did he arrange his guards?
Should our Sabbath laws be enforced?
Why are they not?

Our Catechism.—Q. 24. What was the first work done? A. Building a chapel and schoolroom. Q. 25. When were the first converts in the mission reported? A. In 1859, when Thomas Tucker, aged twenty, and Lucy Caulker, aged fourteen, a daughter of the chief, were happily converted.

LESSONS ON GIVING.—Mal. 1: 6-11; 3: 8-12.

6. A son honoureth his father, and a servant his master: if then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear? saith the Lord of hosts unto you, O priests, that despise my name. And ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name?

7. Ye offer polluted bread upon mine altar; and ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of the Lord is contemptible.

8. And if ye offer the blind for sacrifice, is it not evil? and if ye offer the lame and sick, is it not evil? offer it now unto thy governor; will he be pleased with thee, or accept thy person? saith the Lord of hosts.

9. And now, I pray you, beseech God that he will be gracious unto us: this hath been by your means: will he regard your persons? saith the Lord of hosts.

10. Who is there even among you that would shut the doors for nought? neither do ye kindle fire on mine altar for nought. I have no pleasure in you, saith the Lord of hosts, neither will I accept an offering at your hand.

11. For from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hosts.

8. Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings.

9. Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation.

10. Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.

11. And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the Lord of host.

12. And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be a delightsome land, saith the Lord of host.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"God loveth a cheerful giver." II. Cor. 9: 7.

Time.—Possibly 433-427.

Place.—Jerusalem and vicinity.

Hints.—Nothing is known of Malachi's personal history. He is the last of the prophets. He taught the rejection of the Jews, the calling of the Gentiles, and of the coming of Christ.

ROBBING GOD.

MEAN TREATMENT.—A natural moral method is for the son to honor the father. They called him Father, but they did not so treat him. When accused of their conduct, they were too dead to realize it. They insulted him by offering that in sacrifice which cost them nothing. The law required the best to be offered, but they cheated God by keeping the outward form. They had no sympathy with the spirit.

A GREAT CRIME.—They had been robbing God of what belonged to him. They had defrauded him of his "tithes," the tenth of the increase of their property, the produce of their orchards, vineyards, flocks, herds, and all their grains. They had thought if they kept a part of this tenth, instead of carrying it to the temple, they would have more for themselves.

BAD ARITHMETIC.—Instead of gaining thereby they had lost. By leaving God out of our plans we grow poorer. They had lost his presence and blessing. Drought had been upon the land, the locust had destroyed their crops and the mildew their fruits. God had punished them for neglecting to build the temple, and now for not maintaining the temple services.

THE BETTER WAY.—To try God's plan; theirs had proved a failure. If they obeyed him faithfully, he would empty resources of blessings upon them. "Is it the duty of a Christian to give just a tenth of his income? There is no such law of Christ. To make it a law would destroy the best influence of giving. Proportionate giving, giving as God has prospered us, giving freely, largely, cheerfully, gladly, that is the law of Christ."

HOW THE HEATHEN DO.—"At the annual meeting of the Western Turkey Mission a Greek villager announced the sum that his native congregation would be able to raise, and it was seen to be a good sum for so small a community. One of the other delegates asked him how it was that those few and poor people were able to give so much. 'Being ignorant people,' said the villager, 'with no one to instruct us, we looked into the Bible for instruction, and we saw there that at least a tenth of our income must be given to the Lord Jesus.' In this lesson the prophet promises that the people shall be abundantly blessed if they will render to God the service which is his due."

QUESTIONS TO ANSWER.

When did Malachi live?
To what people did he write?
Of what were they guilty?
What did they offer in sacrifice?
In what were they selfish?
Why did God decline to receive such?
How had they robbed God?
What results had it brought them?

Our Catechism.—Q. 26. What has been the progress of the work since? A. Though slow at times, it has steadily advanced, showing constantly the blessing of God upon it. Q. 27. When was the first industrial school established? A. In 1876.

FRUITS OF RIGHT AND WRONG DOING.—Mal. 3: 13-18; 4: 1-6.

13. Your words have been stout against me, saith the Lord. Yet ye say, What have we spoken so much against thee?

14. Ye have said, It is vain to serve God: and what profit is it that we have kept his ordinance, and that we have walked mournfully before the Lord of hosts?

15. And now we call the proud happy; yea, they that work wickedness are set up; yea, they that tempt God are even delivered.

16. Then they that feared the Lord spake often one to another: and the Lord hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon his name.

17. And they shall be mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him.

18. Then shall ye return, and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not.

1. For, behold, the day cometh, that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble: and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.

2. But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall.

3. And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I shall do this, saith the Lord of hosts.

4. Remember ye the law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel, with the statutes and judgments.

5. Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the Lord:

6. And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." Gal. 6: 7.

Time.—Probably 433-427 B. C.

Place.—Jerusalem and vicinity.

Hints.—There were two classes of men then as now, the wicked and the righteous, and they should have different destinies. Every deed shall be rewarded according to its nature.

GOD'S JEWELS.

A SEVERE CHARGE.—The prophet charges his countrymen with being bold and impudent. Having first disobeyed God, they were learning to despise him. The kind of service they gave him did not bring prosperity. There was a show of sack-cloth, but not sorrow for sin. Those who lived for pleasure seemed as well off as they. Those that do wickedly are prosperous and successful. Others are prospered in the very midst of their crimes.

A RICH PROMISE.—In the midst of this general apathy and neglect there was still a remnant who remembered God and obeyed his law. They held their gatherings for mutual converse and encouragement and to promote their spiritual growth. God's listening ear also heard their words, and he remembered their names. When he comes to gather his jewels they shall be to him a peculiar treasure.

THE FIRE TEST.—There shall be a difference in the destiny of the righteous and the wicked. There will be a judgment-day, which shall act as a refiner's fire. Those who are sinful and defiant shall be like the stalks of grain left after reaping; they catch fire easily and burn quickly and entirely. These are figurative, but they mean something terrible to the godless.

THE SUN OF RIGHTEOUSNESS.—Deliverance, salvation, blessedness will come to those who love and practice uprightness. He will bring healing from all sin, and deliverance from all trouble. When this Messiah shall have come and perfected his reign, you shall go forth from your prison house of misfortune. The wicked shall no longer triumph, but will be like ashes upon which men walk. Before the coming of the dreadful day there shall be a forerunner like Elijah (John the Baptist), who shall prepare a way for the Messiah.

COMING OF ELIJAH.—"Elijah was the prophet for whose appearance even in later years the Jews have looked with most eager hope. It was a fixed belief with many that he had appeared again and again to the good rabbis at their prayers or on their journeys. Passover after passover the Jews of our own day place the paschal cup on the table and set the door wide open, believing that that is the moment when Elijah will appear. When goods are found and no owner comes, the answer is, 'Put them by till Elijah comes.'"

Did the nation hear and obey him?

Our Catechism.—Q. 28. What school was founded in 1887 for the training of native workers for the mission? A. The Theological Training-School, through the gift of Mr. Rufus Clark and wife, of Denver, Colorado. Q. 29. What missionary was longest in the service in this mission? A. Rev. Joseph Gomer, who died September 5, 1892, having been twenty-two years an earnest and heroic missionary in the Dark Continent.

CHRIST'S COMING FORETOLD.—Isa. 9: 2-7.

2. The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined.
3. Thou hast multiplied the nation, and not increased the joy: they joy before thee according to the joy in harvest, and as men rejoice when they divide the spoil.
4. For thou hast broken the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor as in the day of Midian.
5. For every battle of the warrior is with confused noise, and garments rolled in blood; but this shall be with burning and fuel of fire.
6. For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace.
7. Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this.

GOLDEN TEXT,—"Unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord." Luke 2: 11.

Place.—Jerusalem.

Hints.—This lesson carries us backward to the prophet Isaiah, 700 years before Christ; it also carries us forward in thought to the ages to come when the kingdoms of this world shall become the kingdom of Christ.

THE PRINCE OF PEACE.

A TIME OF DARKNESS.—This was writtten during the reign of Ahaz, who introduced the worst idolatry among the people. The final destruction of Israel was only about fifteen years away, and this was like the breaking of a dam high up among the mountains. Superstition appeared in every part of the country. Soothsayers, spirits, and ghosts were consulted. The morning and evening sacrifice was discontinued, and the temple was left to decay and neglect. The moral state of the world was everywhere very low when Christ came.

A VISION OF LIGHT.—The nation was in political and moral darkness. Within three years the kings they feared should be destroyed. As from the stump of an oak-tree that has been cut down, there often springs up a new shoot, which itself becomes a great tree (Isa. 11: 1-10), so from Judah, now humiliated and later to be destroyed, shall come through David's son a larger kingdom. Under him the population shall increase, and supply of the comforts of life. He will deliver his people from the "yoke" of sin. The engines and instruments of war shall be destroyed as if by fire.

THE NEW KING.—The prophet foreran the child, as if already born. He comes for our benefit. He shall be king, and where his authority is acknowledged good times shall come. He shall be looked upon as miraculous, as one who speaks with authority, as of divine origin, eternal in his nature, and who will rule in such a manner that peace and prosperity shall abide in his kingdom. It shall keep on increasing in power and blessing. All the power of evil shall fall before this government, which has existed for eighteen centuries and will last forever.

HOW TO SUCCEED.—"It was during the memorable winter at Valley Forge that a man by the name of Potts was strolling through the woods, when he heard the sound of a human voice in prayer. Approaching the sound, he discovered Washington on his knees, engaged in earnest prayer for his country. On returning home, Potts, who was a Quaker, called his wife. 'All is well! Washington will triumph. Thee knows I have always thought the sword and the gospel utterly inconsistent, and that no man could be a soldier and a Christian at the same time. But George Washington has this day convinced me of my mistake. If George Washington be not a man of God I am greatly deceived, and still more shall I be deceived if God does not through him work out a great salvation for America.'"

A PRINCE FOREVER.—"Where are the empires which have been founded by the world's warriors now? Napoleon, the last world-conqueror, lived less than a century ago; yet all that is left of his empire is a stone coffin under a gilded dome. But the kingdom which Christ founded lives after eighteen centuries, and will live forever."

QUESTIONS TO ANSWER.

Who was king in Judah now?
What was the moral condition?
Why is sin a state of darkness?
What the condition of the world when Christ came?
What was the light seen?
How would he increase their joy?
Who is the new ruler to be born?
How long after was he born?
How would this comfort those then living?
What should he be called?
What is said of his government?

Our Catechism.—Q. 30. What can be said of other missionaries in this field? A. They have wrought well, and in the spirit of their Master, Jesus Christ, and they are held in deserved honor. Q. 31. What is the hope for this work in the future? A. That it will continue to prosper in the hands of consecrated missionaries till Africa shall be brought to know Christ, the world's Saviour.

REVIEW.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits." Ps. 103: 2
